Farnum Due in New Western Play.

That popular idol of the screen, William Farnum, is coming to the Gem Theatre next Tuesday, June 1, in his latest William Fox production, "The Orphan."

In "The Orphan" Mr. Farnum has one of the most powerful roles of his career, according to advance reports. He is cast as an outlaw hated and feared more violently by the cowpunchers than anyone known to the For sale: auto milk wagon, will carry little town of Ford's Station. It is 12 cans. Call evenings, 416 West little town of Ford's Station. It is dous dash, vigor and fire into this owerful story of the days of bandit and Indians and stagecoach holdups. Mr. Farnum appears as the orphan, a victim of misfortune and circumstances, who has been accused of committing numerous crimes, the worst of which were not of his doing. How he gains the friendship of For Sale: Chevrolet, 1919 car. the sheriff-who has gone out to capture him-and subsequently make a new start in life after winning the love of a beautiful girl, is told in the development of the plot, which it is declared never has been surpassed by any in which Farnum has figured on the screen.

Desmond.

In "The Prince and Betty", coming next Wednesday to the Gem Theatre, ing together more than one here and there, where they are not recognized might have been written especially Apply at this office. might have been written especially for him. "The Prince and Betty" is one of those highly romantic tales of adventure wherein an American impersonating a prince falls in love with an American girl. What complicates matter is that the hero isn't really a Prince at all, for his little kingdom is the idea of and American business promoter who wants to make a rival Monte Carlo records better. The Song Shop. wants to make a rival Monte Carlo out of Mervo.

The role of the Prince gives William Desmond an opportunity to plant some well-aimed blows with his fists on a lot of revolutionists, and if there's one thing Bill does better than another, unless its making love to some fair screen heroine, is fightlog Sale: 85 R. I. Reds and P. Rock

Mary Thurman, erstwhile Sennett bathing beauty, is the leading lady of the picture. She wears a lot of wonderful clothes and is beautiful to look at always.

Nazimova to Play "Heart of a Child'

In "The Heart of a Child." a spec ial production adapted from Frank Danby's novel of the same name Nazimova comes to the screen of the Gem Theatre, Friday and Saturday, June 4 and 5, in a role that is different from any of the wide variety of characters she has protrayed so marvelously in previous triumphs.

It is that of Sally Snape, an English girl from the slum streets of London who finds herself orphaned at the most critical period of her life, and left to face alone, without any other aid than unsophistication, the struggle of maintaining the world's respect.

The man who gets into his head the idea that is the one and only person qualified to be President of the United States ought to ask the alienists rather than the voters to look into his case.
