Delegates to the National Democratic convention, will of course remember the promise of the democratic party to reduce the high cost of living in previous platforms...

Let's make Tillamook City the cleanest looking town in Oregon. Everybody clean up and by doing a little painting it will help some for there are some old fire traps and shacks that haven't had the first coat of paint yet.

Car shortage in Oregon is getting serious and the prospects are that a number of saw mills will have to close down. This is what is taking place in Coos county, and the car shortage is beginning to look bad in this county...

We have been asked by a person who is evidently not well pleased with all the nominees on the republican ticket whether we are going to support it from top to bottom...

of Salem, the largest urban center, for all five of the nominees are what the Silverton Tribune calls the Salem candidates. All, or nearly all, of them reside there.

"The Tribune suggests that the county be divided into four legislative districts, giving Salem two and the county at large three representatives.

"The recommendation is sound. Under the primary the candidate living in the most populous place has the best chance. But the primary cannot be held alone responsible for uneven results.

Supply of Cloth.

History is repeating in the cloth situation in the United States and the stock phrase "overstocked" is the most freely used display word in spreads of large retailers in the daily press in all large cities and towns.

In the meantime, England, particularly, is pouring cloth into the country and American buyers have gone crazy getting it, until an inventory of goods on hand would not only show a normal surplus but a large overstock for current needs.

ROAD WORK IN NORTH PART OF COUNTY.

The much talked about bridge over the Kelchis river is nearing completion. The concrete work on it is completed and is now ready for the steel, which will be taken down in a few days.

The roads in the North of the county are very good, with the exception of the Miami road. It is rather rough at present, but a caterpillar will be put to work smoothing it as soon as the weather is clear long enough to pay to start work on it.

Anyone who has ever gone as far as Mohler on the wagon road will always remember the planks that they were forced to cross over the way between the Comstock camp and the South fork of the Nehalem. Perhaps the reader remembers it, and perhaps he too, met about a dozen cars and had a lovely time backing up and sliding off the planks, and all but going over the grade every few minutes, just like almost everyone else does.

We beg the reader not think that we intend to knock during the entire article, but we are simply expressing the opinion of the public concerning this matter, in very mild terms. Another thing that the writer noticed and that was that on the way to Brighton the owner of a small logging camp had seen fit to run his logs across the road as they way down the hill. He had been doing this for two weeks, and had not fixed a crossing for traffic.

The road between Wheeler and Mohler is in good shape at present, but if the highway goes through that way it will straighten a great many of the narrow and steep grades, although it will not be possible to eliminate all of them.

The road on the other side of the bridge has been lowered and made wider by means of the steam shovel, which is still at work in that section. The work is under the direction of C. M. Morten, and the steam shovel engineer is Wm. Morrison, of Nehalem.

There is a large crusher near the Onion Peak schoolhouse that will be put to work soon. It crushes the rock for the road all along the east-side of the North Fork of Nehalem river.

One mile on the other side of the Clatsop county line is a large crusher which is jointly owned by Tillamook and Clatsop counties. It has a capacity of one hundred yards, and, later on, will crush rock for almost all the roads in the North end of the county.

The bridge will be wood and concrete, and together with the dike, is to cost one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. A steam shovel will be put to work on the grade within the next ninety days, and the city of Nehalem is to widen the street and fill it in.

The county is having all the bridges painted, the frame work is to be black, the wooden covering a dark red, and the hand rails are to be white.

The exercises which were held on Monday in memory of the veterans of all wars was a decided success. It was said by many to have been the best that has ever been held in Tillamook.

The G. A. R. members met at their headquarters at the National Building at 9:30, where the parade was formed in which G. A. R., W. R. C., American Legion, K. of P's, I. O. O. F., L. O. O. M. and other lodges ordered took part.

Announcement concerning Roster of Dead of All Wars, Tillamook County. After the services the G. A. R. members held a banquet in the basement of the church, and in the afternoon the entire assembly went to the L. O. O. F. cemetery and held services, which, though embarrassed by part of the company being unladen at the wrong gate, the scattering of the flower girls, and the changing of the flags on the graves, were very impressive.

The services of the Boy Scouts who led the parades as honor escort all day long were very helpful. Rev. Lienkaemper, who was the official chaplain of the day endeared himself to all by his tender, loyal ministrations.

The cars, which were furnished so generously, were highly appreciated. The only thing forgotten was what would have been a tremendous vote of thanks to the Christian church members for the proverbial generosity in the use of their house, the only one in the city that could accommodate the crowd.

County Representation in the House And Senate

Then next state legislature will wrestle with the question of redistribution of representation in the state legislature, which is a matter which vitally concerns counties like Tillamook which have been hooked to other counties. It is our contention that every county in Oregon is important enough to have a representative in both houses, and we think the people of this county will agree with us that Tillamook should have a state Senator and a representative in the lower house, and anything short of this will not be satisfactory.

The Oregonian had an editorial on this subject on Tuesday, but it failed to define the representation in the senate. It says: "Fourteen candidates for representative in the legislature submitted themselves to the sovereign decision of the primary in Marion county on May 21. They came from all parts of the county. Marion has more than 13,000 registered republican voters, the greater part of them—perhaps two-thirds—coming from elsewhere than Salem. In the county are such thriving and important towns as Silverton, Stayton, Jefferson, Woodburn, Marion, Gervais, Mount Angel, Turner and others. Some of them had presented the names of honored citizens, in the confident hope that they would receive the favorable consideration of a discriminating elector."

"It was a discriminating elector. It discriminated entirely in favor of Salem, the largest urban center, for all five of the nominees are what the Silverton Tribune calls the Salem candidates. All, or nearly all, of them reside there."

Boxing First Rate.

The boxing match Wednesday night under the auspices of the Tillamook Boxing Commission was a complete success, both financially and from the fans' point of view. The bill was snappy throughout. In the main bout between Jay Houser and Joe Fidler, Houser received the decision, which was very much to the pleasure of the fans. Houser broke his left hand in the second round and his right in the sixth. Up on examination after the fight Dr. Hoy, of the Boxing Commission expressed surprise that a man would take so much punishment without giving up.

The four round bout between Jim Himes and Bill Doughty was fast and furious, the decision being a draw, which was also favorable to the fans, as both are Tillamook boys. Billy Ryan, of Tillamook, won in the four round bout with Denny O'Brien, of Wheeler.

All the boxers mixed good and made a hit with the fans. Carl Leach won the decision over Ray White, these boys are beginners, and with a little training they will make good in the game, as they showed good speed. Perhaps the reason that White was beaten was that while he was being introduced his second hand removed his chair, and when he went to sit down it wasn't there and he became rather embarrassed and was bothered throughout the setto.

The boxing commission is getting an extra good card lined up for the Fourth of July.

Constance Talmadge stars in "Who Cares."

Joan, young, happy and carefree—just a kid—lives alone with her grandparents, who have forgotten the word "youth." In a house near by lives Martin Grey, a young man who has come to his country home to grieve alone over the death of a dearly loved father.

Eventually Martin and Joan meet and get acquainted easily in the fashion of the very young. One day Joan is discovered with Martin and her grandparents forbid her to see him again. This is too much for little Joan, whose only happiness has been in the company of the man who has learned to love her. She runs away to Martin and he takes her to the city, where they are married.

To Joan, married life is no different than any other kind of life, and she proceeds to carry out her idea of what life should be. Her idea of a merry-go-round, and each person's motto should be "Who Cares?" She forgets she has a husband and flirts madly with everyone and anyone. Martin suddenly realizes that he has married a will-o'-the-wisp, a butterfly, whose motto is "Who Cares?" So he says "Who Cares—who the devil does!" and becomes fast friends with Teddie, a chorus girl.

Nehalem Notes

Miss Ora Dunn, of Tillamook, is paying an extended visit with W. D. Steele and family. Rudolph Tohl and Helen Parks made a business trip to Portland last week.

The open meeting given by the Artisan lodge last Friday was a success. The dance and program and also the supper was enjoyed by everyone who attended. A pie social and dance was given for the benefit of the Camp 4 ball team at Camp 4 last Monday.

The baseball game between Camp 4 and Nehalem last Sunday was very interesting as it was a close game. Camp 4 beat 6 to 7. Kenneth McDonald and wife are visiting with relatives in Nehalem. Mrs. Alex Anderson and daughter, of Portland, visited relatives in Nehalem last week.

Bill Snyder, after an absence of about eight months returned to Nehalem. He will work for Bert Gresham. Mrs. B. Capels is visiting with Mrs. Lange of this city. Mrs. Bernice Batzner, after an absence of several months, returned to this city last Saturday.

The United Brethren in Christ.

Preaching at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Morning subject, "The Great Crisis in Life." Sunday school at 10 a.m. Prayer meeting every Wednesday at 8 p.m. Mrs. Norman Dye will entertain the Ladies Aid on Thursday afternoon at 1:30.

There will be no preaching services in the evening as the Sunday School will at that time observe Children's Day by rendering a program beginning at eight o'clock. You are invited to attend the various services. Why not every body in Tillamook attend the various services at some church, and help make Sunday, a holy day, instead of a holiday. And do our bit in giving unto our children a christian nation, instead of a nation of materialism, German culture, anarchy, I. W. W. and ruin, for a heritage. B. F. Wriggle, Pastor.
