Such a good time was had that all voted a repetition of the trip.

E. D. Curtis, of Portland, paid his annual visit to the Headlight office Tuesday morning to see that all was going well. He had known the editor for many years, and has been making trips to the Tillamook beaches for over twenty years. He has lived in Portland since 1885, and has been the principal in the Sunnyside school for nineteen years, having retired from teaching the eleventh of June, 1917. He says he has retired from teaching, work, and everything but having a good time, and he and Mrs. Curtis have located permanently at Twin Rocks, where they will have the good time. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Martiny this week.

Every one is invited to attend the sale which is to be held at Dr. Reedy's Cattle Exchange, Friday morning at 10:30. Eighteen head of registered Guernsey cattle direct from Guernsey Island will be offered by the Guernsey Cattle Club. All of the cattle are young, none of them more than two years old, and Dr. Reedy will offer Lincoln Star, a Guernsey bull that he has raised. The mother is Goldendale Morning Star, who has a record of 600 lbs. on both sides. Lincoln Star was born on Lincoln's birthday, and is the one that was said to favor Roy Jones, but we don't know about it. Dr. Reedy said that he expected the cattle would go at about five to eight hundred dollars apiece, which is very reasonable.

Charles Coffey and Raymond Lucas of Rockaway, were in visit at the Headlight office Wednesday. They are the drummer and pianist of the Novelty Orchestra that is now playing at the Salt Air dance hall. The orchestra consists of a violin, piano, saxophone and drums, and is among the best in Oregon. They have played at the clubs and hotels in Portland, including the Multnomah, Waverly, Irvington and Portland Heights, and the Portland, Benson, and Multnomah hotels. Roy Quackenbush is the manager of the hall and has engaged the orchestra to play four nights a week, including Sunday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday, for two months. They will be at liberty the other three nights, and any one wanting music can obtain their services. The music is splendid, as each of the players is an artist, and the floor at the Salt Air dance hall is also very good, so have your good time there.

Tim McFall, who was arrested on a charge of having made intoxicating liquor on his place near the Yellow Fir Mill, was released Saturday after the jury had been out about ten minutes. The jurors decided that there was insufficient evidence to convict him, as the Gilmore's, the chief witnesses seemed to be into the affair about as deeply as were the McFalls. The trouble arose over a week ago, when Mrs. Hellebuck and the Gilmore's, while they, Mr. and Mrs. McFall, were absent, and, according to the testimony of Mrs. McFall, threw the household goods out on the ground. They were planning to leave and Mrs. Hellebuck was to move into the house. The Gilmore's testified that they found several bottles of moonshine in the house and that there was no doubt that they had been making it. The whole affair was simply a neighborly squabble, as the parties had been having trouble with each other for some time, and the moonshine affair must have been doped up to put the finishing touches on it.

Brings Cattle From Guernsey

Jame Berridge, who came across with the cattle from Guernsey Island in Midlands, England, and tells us some very interesting things about the old country, also about his trip over. He said that he started from London the 25 of March, after having laid over there about 17 days. They were a week on the trip over, and after landing at New York were forced to stay five weeks, the cattle being in quarantine. It seems as if there is a disease among the cattle that affects their feet and their mouths, and all that are imported are forced to pass through a rigid quarantine. This lasted for 5 weeks, and, fortunately, not one of the herd contracted the disease. After leaving New York they came by express to Portland, where another wait of 2 weeks was necessary before coming over here, which took 3 days, as the final stretch of the journey being made by freight.

Mr. Berridge says that his is his first trip to the states and that he likes this country much better than England. He says he would like to stay in Oregon, but that his passport allows only a 3 months' sojourn in the United States.

In speaking of the conditions back home he says that if things were no higher there than here the people would not complain, so they must be pretty bad there. Woolen clothing is much cheaper there, though, in spite of the fact that there is scarcely any wool shipped from Australia, where the greatest amount usually comes from.

Attention!

The boy who rode my bicycle, Monday night can be identified and unless it is returned, I shall have to consider that you wanted to steal it. Save trouble and bring it back.

O. E. S. Kensington Club

On last Wednesday afternoon the club ladies gathered at their parlors for the regular meeting for July.

The Misses H. F. and O. M. Cook being hostesses for the occasion.

The regular routine of business was transacted when a short impromptu program took place, Mrs. Coates rendering for us in her splendid way, "The Wooing of Hiawatha" and graciously responded to an encore. Mrs. Dawson, who is always ready when occasion demands played a very pretty selection on the piano, after which the hostesses announced luncheon served in the dining room. The tables were artistically decorated in the colors of "Old Glory" from flowers that adorned the table to the candles in the little baskets which were out "favors" for the occasion, and the "eats" were typical of the ladies' ability of which they are becoming reknown.

A fitting closing for the afternoon was when the club arose and sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Kensington is growing in membership each month. One new member being added at this meeting. The membership now being 31.

Mesdames Case and Dawson will entertain the ladies for the month of August, which meets on the first Wednesday of each month.

Fourth of July Party.

In response to the invitations sent out by Mrs. Johnson, about twenty-five persons met at her home at South Prairie to celebrate the Fourth of July. Her sons and daughters, with their families and the neighbors were present and every one had a thoroughly old fashioned good time.

Huge baskets, covered with snow white napkins were brought by many of the good mothers, and the children sniffed about anxiously, waiting for the time to taste the goodies. At two o'clock they were opened, and the contents placed on a cloth, spread out in the yard in the shade of an apple tree, and every one feasted to his heart's content.

They stayed until six o'clock, when most of them took their leave, wishing their host as many happy returns of the day.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Willard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. T. Lyster and daughter, Irene, Mr. and Mrs. Darby, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Hull Johnson, and family, Mrs. Orville Holgate, of Beaver, Bell Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miller and family, Russell Johnson, Mrs. Bell and Floyd Bell, Asa Asch, Elizabeth Morrey and Roy Edgar.

Mrs. Johnson is known throughout the entire neighborhood as "grandma." Everyone knows and loves her. She will celebrate her eightieth birthday the twenty-eighth of August, and, as she is rather feeble her sons and daughters have planned to obtain a wheel chair for her.

Knights of Columbus Organize

(By F. E. Shaw)

We have such a variety of churches and fraternal societies in Tillamook county that a cynic, passing this way, could easily find sufficient confusion to support his superficial arguments. The facts remain, however, that he never pipes his voice during a Militant Crusade. It is only in the more or less promising field of reaction or the safe of one of decadence that he dares to advertise his cowardly wares. The people of Tillamook county are normal people and they possess the spirit of admiration which prompts them to glory in the right human qualities of others. Under our apparent differences, therefore, will be found, among other virtues, a most passionate patriotism which is inevitably coupled with high admiration for and encouragement to all citizens and institutions which exemplify that virtue. The Knights of Columbus is such an institution.

On Sunday, July 4th, a large class was initiated in the K. of P. hall. The team work was under the direction of Past State Deputy Frank J. Lonergan and three degrees were exemplified. The candidates marched in a body from Sacred Heart church and initiation was in progress from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. A number of Knights and ladies motored from Willamette Valley points and Portland, Seattle and Pendleton were well represented. A fine banquet was served in the evening by the ladies of the parish. The principal speakers were Rt. Rev. Titular Abbot Adeline O. S. B.; Past State Deputy, Frank J. Lonergan; State Deputy, J. H. Paire; District Deputy, P. J. Hanley and Father Martin, O. S. B. Ford E. Shaw was toastmaster. The motives of religion and patriotism were sounded so ably as to remind one of the inspiring organ and the challenging bugle. A splendid musical program was given. Mrs. F. D. Small played several piano selections most brilliantly; Mr. John Carroll demonstrated satisfaction of all that Tillamook has a real bass soloist; Mr. M. P. Grennen of Portland sang several popular songs which were well received and Mrs. A. T. Hoffman, closed the program with a fine rendition of "Baths Farewell Song." Plans are now being formulated for the construction of a Knights of Columbus building that will be a credit to the city. The officers elected in the new Tillamook council are: H. Plasker, Grand Knight; C. Fieker, Deputy Grand Knight; George Durrer, Recorder; F. Plinski, Financial Secy.; F. Fitzpatrick, Treasurer; Ed Stasek, Lecturer; Peter Zirr, Advocate; Paul Fitzpatrick, Warden; Nick Peiz, Inner Guard; Carl Redding, Outer Guard; Fr. Martin, O. S. B., Chaplain; Trustees: Dave Fitzpatrick, John Berns and M. Melchior.
