

A big-scale road test on 3,200 tubes

How Firestone puts the miles in — and then proves it — not at YOUR expense.

No other tubes in the world are road tested on so big a scale as Firestones. The Yellow Cab Company of Chicago uses Firestone Tubes exclusively on its 800 taxi cabs. The service of these tubes is checked constantly — improvements and developments are arrived at.

By close watching of a large number of tubes in service — not confined to isolated instances, the conclusions are accurate and definite.

Firestone puts the best in materials into tubes by establishing purchasing experts at Singapore, center of the world's rubber market. Firestone puts the best in workmanship into tubes by organizing the crack manufacturing organization of the industry on a profit-sharing basis.

And then subjects the finished product to this big-scale road test — in order to get you more for your tube money and more miles out of your tires. And yet Firestone Tubes cost no more than the ordinary kind.

Coaxing You to Smile.

His Explanation.
"Bessie," said her mother, "why is it that you and your small brother are always quarreling?"
"I don't know," returned the child, "unless I take after you and he takes after papa."

Force of Habit.
"We will now sing Number 153," said the minister in closing the service.
"That line is busy now. We will call you," snapped the telephone operator who just awoke from her nap.

Not Solid, Evidently.
The witness for the defense was being cross-examined. In answer to a question put by counsel, instead of speaking, he nodded his head.
Whereupon the court stenographer who was not looking at the witness, demanded: "Answer that question."
The witness replied: "I did answer it, I nodded my head."
"Yes," was the retort, "I heard it rattle, but could not tell whether it was up and down or from side to side."

No Mistaking the Language.
He was dressed stylishly and he walked up to the railway booking office and asked for a "seaman's return."
"We only issue them to seamen, sir," was the reply.
"Why," burst forth from the other's lips, "you leather-necked, swivel-eyed son of a sea cook, if you feel my starboard boom running foul at your headlights, you'll haul in your jaw tackle a bit, and then—"
"Give him a ticket, quick," shouted the train master. "He's one."

It All Depends.
When James A. Garfield was president of Hirma college a man brought up his son to be entered as a student. He wanted the boy to take a course shorter than the regular one.
"My son can never take all those studies," said the father. "He wants to get through more quickly. Can't you arrange it for him?"
"Oh, yes," said Mr. Garfield. "He can take a shorter course; it all depends on what you want to make of him. When God wants to make an oak he takes 100 years, but he takes only two months to make a squash."

Laugh.
Build for yourself a strong box,
Fashion each part with care;
Fit it with hasp and padlock,
Put all your troubles there.
Hide therein all your failures,
And each bitter cup of quaff;
Lock all your heartaches within it,
Then sit on the lid and laugh.
Tell no one of its contents,
Never its secrets share;
Drop in your cares and your worries,
Keep them forever there.
Hide them from sight so completely
The world will never dream half;
Fasten the top down securely
Then sit on the lid and laugh.

A Real Artist.
Some of the workmen on the new Christian church buildings were complimenting Rev. Brink on his ability to help out in about any place necessary. He gracefully admitted that he was pretty handy man, but said his skill was nothing compared to that of a stone cutter he once knew. The curious part of it was that the mason was a nigger who had only one arm.
"How does he manage it if he has only one arm?" questioned one of the men.
"Why," said Brink, "he holds his chisel between his teeth and hits himself behind the head with the hammer."

An Invocation.
"Senator LaFollette may bolt," (Daily Paper).
Bolt, LaFollette! Come—bolt away!
Bolt by night, and bolt by day.
No body cares what you do or don't,
Nobody cares what you will or won't,
Bolt like a fiery untamed colt.
Bolt like a hen with feather auct
Bolt, consarn ye, BOLT!
Darn good thing if ye did git out—
Take a short cut to the water-spout,
Bag, and baggage, and all your stuff,
Jazz, gas-tank, zip-boom and bluff—
Who doesn't laugh at your jar and jolt.
Rich man, poor man, wise-man, do it?
Bolt, consarn ye, BOLT!
There's no place for the likes of ye
Here in the ranks of the G. O. P.
We've no use for a blomin' Toot.
Nobody gives a Tinker's Hoot
Whether or not you loose your holt,
Whether you do or don't revolt—
Bolt, consarn ye, BOLT!

Here's where we call a spade just that

THE POET says a rose,
BY ANY other name,
WOULD SMELL as sweet,
AND THAT'S all right,
BUT CALLING,
SOMETHING ELSE a rose,
WON'T CHANGE its smell,
OF COURSE not,
AND I'M not knocking,
BUT JUST telling you,
RIGHT OUT,
THAT THERE are only,
THREE GRADES,
OF TURKISH tobacco,
FIRST, GOOD Turkish,
WHICH IS mighty good,
AND ALSO expensive,
AND SECOND,

POOR TURKISH tobacco,
WHICH IS less expensive,
AND NOT so good,
AND THIRD, tobacco,
CALLED TURKISH, which,
NEVER SAW Turkey,
BUT GREW thousands,
OF MILES away,
AND DOESN'T even,
TASTE LIKE Turkish,
AND IT'S the good Turkish,
THAT'S REALLY from Turkey,
THAT YOU get,
IN THE cigarettes,
THAT SATISFY.

OUR resident buyers in Turkey are experts. They know we want the best—and we get it. And the same with Domestic leaf. Blend them together — by that can't-be-copied method — and you get a smoke that actually does "satisfy."

OF INTEREST TO HOLSTEIN BREEDERS.
President Wilson Commutes Sentence on Millionaire Who Defrauded Breeders.

Chicago.—Judge Keneshaw M. Landis, in a statement addressed from the bench to members of the bar, criticized the action of President Wilson in commuting the sentence of James Dorsey, reputed millionaire cattle man of Gilbert, Ill., from eight years to four.
"I wonder what frame of mind he must have been in to cut such a sentence," said the judge.
Dorsey was convicted of selling 12,000 head of cattle, which he used the mails to advertise as full-blooded Holsteins. When the animals were delivered it developed they were common stock.
It was also charged by the federal government that the cattle were diseased.

"This millionaire cattle king was sentenced some time ago to serve eight years in the federal prison for using the mails to sell tubercular cattle throughout the west," Judge Landis said. "I want to make a statement of this case to the bar."
"This man Dorsey sold about 12,000 head of cattle a year, and made about $120,000 a year. The indictments charged with him with misuse of the mails for this purpose. He advertised through the mails that the cattle were full-bred Holsteins and that the purchasers would be given certificates showing that all federal and state laws in regard to the sale of full bred cattle had been complied with."
"Dorsey hired an old horse doctor who would sign blank test certificates, and other clerks would fill them out. An avalanche of complaints was received about the cattle from Mexico to Alaska."
"Finally he was brought to trial and was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary. Sentence was affirmed by the court of appeals, but was stayed a number of times. Finally, through the oversight of someone, Dorsey was placed in the penitentiary."

It may be well for the Holstein Breeders Association to ascertain whether Dorsey was successful in carrying his operations into this county, for it is reported that some Holstein cattle shipped to Tillamook as full-blooded Holsteins did not come up to expectations. Anyway, President Wilson is no friend of the pure-blooded breeders associations when he reduced the sentence of a crook like Dorsey.

Solvency.
Take this advice: Don't go in debt! Your solvency's your one best bet. Far better drive a Henry car, that breaks a srat at every jar, that backs when you would have it pull, and know it's yours, paid in full, than journey in a fine sedan that's bought on the installment plan. Far better wear a suit of duck on which you've paid the final buck, than go around in brave array while tailors clamor for their pay. Far better in a cabin dwell, in some remote, secluded dell, than occupy a gilded hall where bailiffs with their warrants call. There's naught contributes, you will find, more strongly to your peace of mind than being in a place to say, "No man can dun me for his pay; I owe no kopecks, far or near, my bills are paid, my record clear." I've tried both plans, and so I know; all kinds of bills I used to owe, and lawyers chased me through the town, and stern collectors ran me down. And life was then a sad affair of walking floors and tearing hair. But now I pay for bed and board, and buy no junk I can't afford, and life is like a pleasant dream, or like a short-cake soaked in cream.—Walt Mason.
