Editorial Snap Shots.

The snap shot man didn't seem to know where he was at, for he has been receiving his exchanges a week late, but to muddle us up a little more, the Wheeler Reporter came to our desk a week ahead of time. Will someone please straighten us out?

As women in the republican party in other parts of the country are going to take an active part in the coming election, we would suggest that the women of Tillamook county organize a Harding-Coolidge Club to assist the county central committee in carrying on an aggressive campaign in Tillamook county.

What's the matter with our good democratic friend, Bro. Trombley, for he has closed up as tight as a clam about the democratic nominations. Suppose, however, he will be shouting his head off for Senator Chamberlain, who voted for the Wilson covenant, then voted against it, and was one of the Senators who voted against peace with Germany.

Senator Chamberlain is out with a statement approving Governor Cox's nomination on the democratic ticket. And Cox being nominated by the approval of Tammany and other democratic bosses, and those who want to make the country "wet" again, Senator Chamberlain comes out flat footed for the "wet" nominee, which is perfectly proper for him to do.

Lumbering is a great industry in Oregon and is assuming great activities in Tillamook county, but it must not be forgotten that the Democratic party placed lumber on the free list. How any timber owner, mill man, logger or mill hands can be a democrat is a conundrum to us. It must be that they like the Hindu labor employed in the saw mills and logging camps of British Columbia.

The democratic convention did three very important things: It put Wilson in a hole; put Bryan in a hole; and it put the democratic party in a hole. And Governor Cox will be made the scape goat for the sins of the Wilson administration. That's where Mc'Do was foxy. He did want to be the scape goat for the democratic party, for that is what Governor Cox will be in November.

Bro. Nunn, of the Wheeler Reporter, has placed his O. K. on the democratic nominees, who claims that the democratic party has the strongest men on their ticket. It is a little hard for us to understand how a newspaper in a mill town can support the democratic party, which placed lumber on the free list. As it is a conundrum to us, we do not know anyone who can enlighten us better than Bro. Nunn.

The republican state committee met in Portland on Saturday, and, of course, every committeeman is expected to carry his county with a rousing majority for Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge, not, however, by pre-election forecasts, but by actual figures on the day of election. We wonder which county will give the largest per centage of vote for the republican nominees? One thing, sure, Tillamook county will not be far from the top of the list.

If you are a registered democrat, and disgusted with the democratic party, and don't want a "wet" president, get your registration changed and affiliate with the republican party. We know that there are a whole lot of democrats in Tillamook county who are not going to vote the democratic ticket next November, and to make the records straight no one can accuse them of bad faith. If they change their registration, that is the most honorable way out of a bad fix.

The Telephone-Register was just one week late in reaching us for several weeks, like most of our exchanges. It suddenly dawned upon us that the federal brigade, including a whole lot of postmasters, were down at San Francisco whooping it up for son-in-law, Mc'Do, which was more important to daddy-in-law Wilson than delivering mail. As Postmaster Todd, of Tillamook, and Postmaster Hembree, of McMinnville, were both in San Francisco, probably they can tell us how it came about that it took a week's time for McMinnville newspaper to reach this office.

Tillamook county appears to be getting a bad reputation on account of moonshiners. Now that the federal authorities are taking a hand in rounding them up it will have a good effect. But it needs something more than fines—it's jail sentences that are required to put a stop to the manufacture of moonshine. The county officials should get busy and leave no stone unturned until they have rounded up all the moonshiners. From all accounts there are too many persons making moonshine and we know we express the sentiment of the people when we say it must be stopped.

The new republican state committee was organized on Saturday in Portland, when Attorney Thos. H. Tongue, of Washington county, obtained the honor of being re-elected chairman. It is the intention of the committee to start an active campaign at once, with the cooperation of women and women organizations. One important feature of the campaign will be to elect state, district and county tickets from top to bottom, for it is principles that are the issue and not men. Oregon being a republican state, a strong effort will be made to elect a republican for United States Senator.

Wouldn't this jar you, which is taken from the Dalles Itemizer: "Events at the San Francisco convention this week evidence the fact that the Democratic party is at last controlled by the progressive element. After more than half a century of the unit rule, or the voting of state delegations solidly at national conventions, has been abrogated."

It is quite interesting to know that Murphy, the political boss of Tammany, and the "wets" are the progressive element in the democratic party. We know the people of Polk county cannot be fooled with such punk statements like the above. Which Polk county roll up a big majority for Harding and Coolidge in November.

A subscription list is being circulated for the purpose of raising funds for a commercial body, provided that 100 or more members will sign the pledge. We do not want to be too critical, but it seems to the snap shot man that everybody who signs the guarantee should do so for not less than two years. We know from experience that there is a tendency to get cold feet—it is a very bad characteristic with Tillamookers, and, for that reason, if they are lined up for a few years it would help them grow out of that bad trait. We know no one will blame us for telling these facts. We are thoroughly convinced, however, that Tillamook city should have a progressive civic organization, and the city is not up to date without one. The snap shot man is strong on making the business men sign up for a number of years, leaving no hole where they can crawl when the collector comes around for the monthly dues. We do not say that there are many that are built that way, but occasional one runs across a business man who gives a few dollars for publicity purposes in a begrudging manner.

There is quite a little difference of opinion amongst our citizens whether they should guarantee a certain amount of money to obtain the chautauqua in this city. As we have been asked to express an opinion we can say that, to some extent, it is a private matter, and is not for us to dictate. If the citizens go in the hole—as some committees have—there is only one thing to do, and that is to make up the deficit. Neither can anyone blame the chautauqua people for obtaining a guarantee, and a number of persons to do the work of selling tickets, if they can do so. As the citizens have guaranteed the necessary amount of money for a number of years, that is no reason why they should be expected to do so in future years, and there appears to be an impression that the chautauqua people should assume their own risk the same as the movies and other entertainments. No one guarantees the Gem Theatre a cent, and if there is to be any guarantee why not favor our own people first? Some of our citizens have an idea that if they did not give the guarantee better talent would be sent here. But it is entirely a private affair if the citizens want to guarantee the necessary money and do the necessary work with no compensation. The chautauqua people are in the chautauqua business for the money there is in it, similar to other persons in the amusement business, and we do not blame them for making all the money they can.

The democratic national convention put one over on William Jennings Bryan when it nominated Governor Cox, a wet candidate on the democratic ticket which places Mr. Bryan between the devil and the deep blue sea. And it is going to show whether Mr. Bryan is really at heart a "dry". There is only one thing for Mr. Bryan to do, and that is to oppose the election of Governor Cox. Most everybody is now very anxious to know what Mr. Bryan will do, for if he supports Governor Cox the jig's up and Mr. Bryan will be repudiated by the people as being insincere. As it is a little interesting to know what Mr. Bryan thought about Governor Cox before the nomination was made, and for the information of our readers, we will quote part of his remarks which were reported in the daily newspapers: "A man who can take an oath to support the constitution of his state and then sit in his office at the capitol and, without protest or lifting a hand to prevent it, watch the brewers, distillers and liquor dealers—temporarily out of business, but hoping to return—attempt to overthrow everything that the temperance forces of Ohio have accomplished in 59 years—such a man is not the man to put in the White House at such a time as this."

"When Mr. Cox tied up with the brewers at Cincinnati and went into the governor's office with a majority only about as great as his increase in the county in which Cincinnati is located, he sold his birthright for a mess of pottage."

"In politics it takes more than two years to get a birthright out of the pawnshop. No man can go before the 26,000,000 of women voters with the smell of the beer vats on his garments."

That's what Mr. Bryan thought of the democratic nominee, and it is up to Mr. Bryan to say whether he is going to support or oppose the democratic candidate for president.

Our slogan for the coming election is: 100 per cent Americanism. 100 per cent Republicanism. The war brought out the fact that there are too many persons in the United States who think more of some other country than they do of this country, consequently they are not 100 per cent loyal to the United States. For a number of years general elections in Oregon have proven that a large number of republicans have not been 100 per cent loyal to the republican party. When a person registers and affiliates with one of the great national parties they do so of their own accord, and we contend that they perjure themselves when they vote for candidates of the opposite party. Probably some people will not agree with us in our contention, but if an oath of allegiance amounts to anything, to-wit, the oath of allegiance to the United States is a solemn obligation, the oath of allegiance to political parties should be equally solemn and binding. To show how disloyal and inconsistent some republicans have been, they have voted for a republican for president and a democrat for United States Senator, and in doing so they have not shown good horse sense, for a republican president stands for the principles of the democratic party and a democratic Senator stands for the principles of the democratic party. This goes to prove that people who vote that way do not vote intelligently. But this year there is going to be a different line up. The question now confronting the people is whether they approve of the principles of the republican party or democratic party. For seven years the country has been controlled by the democratic party, and the wilful waste, and the wilful extravagance, and excessive taxation will be uppermost in the people's minds when they cast their votes next November. But it is now up to the republicans of Oregon to be 100 per cent loyal to the party, and the way to obtain that distinction is to vote the party ticket from top to bottom.

CIGARETTE BILL DROPPED

Oregon City Reformer Unable to Get Signatures.

Oregon City, Or., July 1.—There will be no anti-cigarette measure on the ballot in Oregon next November, D. E. Frost, former constable of Oregon City, and author of the bill, said this afternoon that he would not file the petitions in the office of the secretary of state for the reason that he was short approximately 2000 signatures.

"I am through with reforms," declared Mr. Frost. "The persons who urged me to submit this measure fell down on the job. I did not receive any considerable support from churches and schools, nor from the Women's Christian Temperance union. I did not obtain a single signature from Multnomah county. I was told by many of my friends that the time was not ripe for such a drastic measure, and it may have been they were correct. The war made a vast difference in the sentiment of the people and it is favorable to cigarettes. In some cases fully 50 per cent of the names were stricken from the petitions by county clerks, due to the fact that the names did not represent registered voters. This work has cost me a lot of time and some money, for I received very little financial aid."

"The time may come in Oregon when the people will deny the use of the cigarette, but I am going to let George do it" next time.

NEHALEM NOTES

An 8 pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Earhart, of this city last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Anderson, and Julius Tohl motored to Seaside last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Steele are living in their new home now, in upper Nehalem.

Will Crawford is reported sick with inflammatory rheumatism.

Coal Creek camp started work as usual last Monday, after three weeks vacation.

A delightful party of the young people's class of the Methodist Sunday school was given at the home of Vivian Tohl last Saturday eve. The evening was spent in playing games and afterwards a delicious lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer, of Manzanita beach, have released the Lane Hotel for the summer months.

The ball game played the 4th of July between Beaver and Nehalem on the Nehalem grounds was won by Beaver. There must have been too many girls on the grand stand to spoil the Nehalem boys' playing.

Miss Wood of Mollalla, is visiting at the home of George Knight and family.

CLOVERDALE NEWS

Work on the site for the new Baptist church to be built in the near future has started. When finished the building will be one that Cloverdale will be proud of.

Mrs. L. A. Mitchell, of Los Angeles, is the house guest of Rev. and Mrs. Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hale, of Pilot Point, Texas, are guests of Rev. and Mrs. Moore. Mr. Hale is one of Texas' oil men and is 100 per cent Lone Star State.

John Imlah is spending a few days of forced leisure with his wife and parents, as some kind friend relieved his stage coach of tires, rims, and whistle on Saturday morning. The Big Car was waiting for a new spindle a short distance south of Tillamook city.

Chas. Ray has all his hay down. We told him it was going to rain.

A. A. Imlah, won 2nd prize in a foot race at the Fourth of July celebration and holds a purchase ticket on A. A. Pennington's store, to the value of $2. He wants us to inquire if the price of shoes has dropped yet. Pretty good, Dad, if the other fellow hadn't fallen down we think you might have made first.

We are wondering if the suggestion that Cloverdale have a sign-board erected at Hebo would meet with approval from her citizens. All other places of interest are designated on the bill-boards at Hebo, except Cloverdale, which doesn't seem to be on the map.

We shall now witness a studied and systematic effort to deceive the friends of prohibition. We may expect a two faced campaign—an attempt in the open to persuade voters that Mr. Cox is not tied up with the liquor men, along with a word-of-mouth assurance to the liquor influences that he is "all right" and can be trusted not to veto the sort of bill they want. Mr. Bryan says that Cox was elected governor of Ohio by making a secret deal with the saloon and brewery interests. If that is true (and Mr. Bryn is keen on the facts about such matters) undoubtedly Cox will now pay the national game in the same way.—Spokesman Review.
