Leah Leaska (Leah Cohen) to Give Recital at City Hall.

Leah Leaska, who recently returned to her home in Portland from New York, made her debut there about the second of July. She was presented by the Music League of America Inc., and sponsored by the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs. Miss Leaska will give a concert at the City Hall in Tillamook, Tuesday, July 20. This will indeed be a great treat for the music lovers of Tillamook, for it is only on extremely rare occasions that they are privileged to hear so noted a singer, especially in their own home town. Mr. Labowitz, Miss Leaska's brother, with Charles Mowery, arranged for her to appear here.

Lea Leaska in private life is Leah Cohen, a Portland girl, who for the past five years has spent much of her time in New York studying with the foremost teachers there. Music critics and eminent authorities on voice have declared her singing comparable with that of many famous stars and it was her unusual talent that won for her the endorsement of the Music League, an organization formed for the purpose of promoting American music and the interest of American artists.

Among four vocalists chosen at a tryout in New York recently in which 75 contestants participated, the Portland girl was selected as the dramatic soprano possessing the qualifications that go to make a great singer. Other prominent music patrons became interested and when it was suggested that she appear in a series of concerts, beginning in her own home town, the Knabe Piano Company sent its assistant manager, William Arthur Taylor, of Portland to assist in arranging for the concerts here and elsewhere. Mr. Taylor by the way, is a former Portlander, and therefore is doubly anxious that the coming concert be made "tremendous triumphs."

"Miss Leaska is a wonderful singer," said Mr. Taylor. "We think so in New York, and a most brilliant artistic future awaits her, I am sure. There are few American dramatic sopranos and the Music League is anxious that Miss Leaska be given every encouragement. We believe that before long, this girl of the far West will be prominently identified with the Metropolitan forces."

It is hoped that the attendance Tuesday night will be such as to make it a real manifestation of appreciation and encouragement of local talent that strives to attain a place in the artistic field.

Portland Oregon, July 12—Leah Leaska, one of the most brilliant singers that the northwest has ever produced, will come to Tillamook to appear in concert under the auspices of the Music League of America. Miss Leaska has just returned from New York where she made a great success. Her concert in Portland a few days ago filled the vast auditorium and received the highest praise of the critics. In commenting upon the concert J. L. Wallin of the Journal said: "Friday night's program was chosen with fine discrimination throughout. The great 'Ritorna Vincitor' from Verdi's 'Aida', afforded the singer exceptional opportunity for dramatic effects and she missed none. It made one wish to hear her in the opera, supported by a large orchestra. Then followed a group of rich Schindler's 'Elli Elli' was the most appealing, and it was given with such fervor and splendor of voice that the audience 'went wild' with enthusiasm. Equally spontaneous and intense was the applause at the singing of Sailer's 'The Cry of Rachel.' In the entire scene from Madam Butterfly, she tossed off the extremely high notes with ease and clarity of tone together delightful. She surmounted all the technical difficulties so adroitly that they really seemed non-existent. The phrasing was well understood and the tone was big and full throughout.

"There is every reason to believe that Leah Leaska will be one of that small group of great dramatic sopranos of the world.

Tillamook Cheese at W. O. W. Convention

F. H. Mathews returned Saturday from his trip to Yosemite Park, Cal., where he attended the Head Camp Session of the W. O. W. lodge.

He said he had a splendid time, and that the session was the most successful one that had been held during the 30 years that the order has been established.

Mr. Mathews took a large amount of Tillamook cheese from here, to be given the delegates, of which there were two hundred and fifty. At the dinner about twelve hundred were present, so some of them did not have any. Those that didn't felt very disappointed, as the other told them they missed the best part of the dinner.
