MEN OF STATURE

Only a Few Have Been "Giants in the Land."

Johann Van Albert, Recent Importation From Holland, the Tallest Specimen of Humanity Ever Seen in Modern Days.

When Johann Van Albert stepped from the gangplank on a recent arrival of the Mauretania he had the distinction of being the tallest man who ever entered the United States. His 8 feet 3 inches of height required that a special berth, made up of two cots placed end to end in a large compartment, be furnished for the trip from his home in Amsterdam, Holland.

Since Johann has left his quiet home out among the nearby windmills of Amsterdam and intends to enter the show business over here, it will be interesting to dig up some giant history and see how he compares with previous competitors who used to be great attractions. Probably no living giant in the United States ever exceeded the 8 feet attained by the late Captain Bates, who was a native of Kentucky.

The word "living" is used here because of the fact that for some time during the year 1893 the famous Cardiff giant led many people to believe that a 10-foot man had once lived in Onondaga County, N. Y. The story of this monstrous fraud perpetrated on the American public makes such unusual and interesting reading that it will bear repeating.

The idea had its inception out in Fort Dodge, Ia., when an adventurous fakir purchased a huge block of gypsum from a quarryman of that place. The block then was shipped to Chicago, it being taken in charge by a sculptor, who chiseled it into a 10-foot giant. The surface was pricked with needles to give it the appearance of pores in the human skin, and then treated with a variety of acids which made the entire statue appear of ancient origin. After completion the giant was securely packed in an iron box and shipped to Union, N. Y., where the owner claimed it, loaded the bulky box upon a large wagon and hauled it fifty miles to a farm near Cardiff. The giant form was then removed from the box and secretly buried, remaining under the ground nearly a year, until it was "accidentally" discovered by some workmen who had been engaged to dig a well by the promoter of the fraud.

This great discovery was made on October 16, 1893, and news of the wonderful petrified giant spread all over the country. The lucky finders covered it with a tent and put it on exhibition, while special trains were run from New York city and other nearby points so that the clamoring multitudes could see the astonishing remains at the earliest opportunity.

Until the deception was discovered it is estimated that more than 25,000 persons jostled each other in order to view the wonder, paying a dollar apiece for the remarkable privilege.

But, passing on from this greatest hoax, it is found that Captain Bates was the tallest of our modern American giants, although his 8-foot height was slightly exceeded by that of Anna Swan, a native of Nova Scotia. Going further back into giant history we find that Queen Elizabeth's head porter was 7 feet 6 inches high, probably being given this exalted position on account of his ability to see what was going on at all times.

Among royalty itself it is claimed that one of the Roman emperors was nearly 9 feet high, but the measurements of those days may have allowed him considerable more height than he would be entitled to at this time, though no doubt he was a person of great stature for history to make note of the fact.

World's Strongest Child. Natalie Owens of Los Angeles, Cal., aged nine years, is said to be the strongest child in the world. She easily lifts a man of 175 pounds. In her father's dairy she handles cans of milk of all sizes, the largest weighing over 100 pounds, with as little effort and concern as the sturdiest farm hand about the place. In the public school she attends, she outruns all the boys of whatever age or size, and can trounce any two of them if the occasion arises. She has done this thoroughly many times. She is slender, not tall for her age, and weighs but 61 pounds, yet she amuses herself by lifting burdens that would tax an ordinary man, as readily as a woman raises a small basket of eggs.—Montreal Herald.

Hunt Sardines With Seaplanes. California promises to be the greatest sardine catching center of the world as the result of the use of seaplanes in the industry on the Pacific coast. Since the first of the year naval seaplanes have been flying out from the sea coast, sighting schools of fish and sending a wireless back to the naval station giving the direct location. The naval station then telephones the information to the San Diego office of the fish and game commission. Fishing fleets are immediately directed exactly where to seek their game and are consequently assured of a big catch.—Wall Street Journal.

Describing It. "What sort of a store is the Right place?" inquired a guest. "Well," replied the landlord of the Petunia tavern, "I'll tell you. They not only sell suspenders, but actually call 'em galluses."—Kansas City Star.

SEARCH OF HOMES FOR LIQUOR LIMITED

Home Brew for Family Consumption Declared Safe From Federal Interference.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 19—Robert C. Saunders, United States attorney, announced this morning that he had instructed federal prohibition agents to make no further searches or private residences for liquor unless they had absolute proof that unlawful sales were made.

Home brew for consumption of family and friends is safe from federal intervention on a search warrant. Home-made beer and wines are exempt as well as any imported stocks, intended for strictly social purposes, insofar as a search warrant applies. Unlawful possession of liquor, the prosecutor said this morning, may be met with prosecution, but the home where it is kept is inviolable from search. From the instructions issued to the federal prohibition squad, it is understood according to the federal officials that no special effort will be made to locate stocks of exhilarating beverages, unless their use is flagrant and offensive.

The instructions issued, he said, are based on the fourth and fifth amendments to the federal constitution, especially the fourth amendment, which makes a "man's home his castle," and on section 25 of title II of the Volstead act, which reads as follows: "No search warrant shall issue to search any private dwelling occupied as such unless it is being used for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquors."

The new instruction do no apply, Mr. Saunders said, to lodging houses, hotels and rooms over stores where the transient public resides. The ruling is to apply to the home-owner and the permanent resident citizen who has a family and is maintaining a household.
