Lillian Maxine McGinnis vs. Frank F. McGinnis is a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. These parties were married in Tillamook county on the 27th of January, 1917, but no children were born to the union. The plaintiff alleges neglect, mistreatment and abandonment as the cause of applying for a dissolution of the marriage contract.

The excessive rains this week washed out the false work on the bridge at Kelchis river. This was the temporary construction put in place of the steel. The steel which was to come from New York via the Panama Canal, has not yet arrived, and has held up the work on the bridge. It will be repaired as soon as possible, but the accident will cost the county several hundred dollars.

An accident which occurred on the race track Wednesday afternoon was a result of the recent rain. The track was so slippery that two horses, with their riders, fell to the ground, one of them, ridden by Ewin Glad, son of Eric Glad, fell under the horse and had his leg broken. To save the county $1,500, Fred C. Baker, H. H. Rosenberg and M. F. Leach went on the bond for the county, the law requiring that a bond be given even if a county obtains a contract from the State Highway Commission for road work. Tillamook county was awarded a contract amounting to about $90,000 for traveling the roads that have been preparing for the past year. The saving of $1,500 to the county will give that much more money to be expended on the roads.

Cook and Eastman.

Paul Erickson subscribed for the Tillamook Headlight when it was started, thirty-five years ago. A week or so ago "he dropped in", as years in advance. If every subscriber of every "country" paper in the state would do that this month of September, at which time money is most plentiful; there would be a wonderful exuberance of joy among a lot of hard-working men and women and not a dollar of it would go to waste. It would be a grand experiment, anyway.—Oregonian.

Wallace Waite, eldest son of Mrs. C. E. Bell, of South Prairie, arrived here Thursday afternoon from Arlington, Vermont, and will make his home here with his mother, whom he had not seen in four years. He left the Green Mountain state Saturday afternoon, Sept. 4th, making the trip in five days and nights, and as he traveled all the way alone, his friends think he did very well, as he is only sixteen years old. He says that Tillamook is a wonderful place, and that it is the only green dairy country he has seen since he left Vermont.

Enroute from Neskovin, Tillamook county, to Pomona, Mo., Charles A. Parsons and son, Zanies B. Parsons, passed through Hood River piloting a truck carrying Dottie Lees Neskovin, a registered Jersey cow, and Oregon St. Maves, a blooded 3-month old bull. Mr. Parsons and his son have equipped the rear of the truck with spring padded sides, and the Jerseys were riding in apparent comfort. Indeed, while he stopped the calf laid down, and contentedly chewed his cud. They expect to camp each night. The truck is so arranged that the animals can be quickly unloaded and allowed to stretch their legs. They will travel 1800 miles.—Oregonian.

A delightful program was given at the Oretown school a few days ago, by Mr. and Mrs. C. Jones, who have been camping at the Oretown beach. Mrs. Jones told of her recent trip to Hawaii, her graphic and pleasing description of the trip, also the customs and surroundings of the native Hawaiians, was given in detail, and was very much appreciated and enjoyed by the audience. The lives of the Alaskans and the Eskimos and their customs were depicted by Mr. Jones in a very interesting and pleasing manner. The entire program was well delivered and well received, everyone feeling that the time was most profitably spent.

Owing to a mistake in the printing of last week's paper, the remainder of the article about the boxing match of the bout between Houser and Murphy, was overlooked. The fight ended almost as soon as it began, as Houser broke his right hand in the second round. The beginning of it was not very fast, and Houser was getting rather put over even before he broke his hand while landing an uppercut. Murphy seemed to have a better system, perhaps due to more experience and training than Houser. He will return to Tillamook at a later date and arrange for another bout with Houser, to give him a fair chance, as Houser lost the decision on account of the accident.

C. C. Bailey vs. Clarence Bailey is a divorce suit filed in the circuit court. These parties were married in California in 1913, one daughter being born to the union. Plaintiff alleges very cruel and inhuman treatment, and that defendant at all time refused to leave her folks and accompany plaintiff during the whole of their married life, defendant refusing to maintain a home for plaintiff. Defendant is a Portuguese by descent, and she with her relative would converse in that language. Defendant told the plaintiff that she did not love him, and did not wish to live with him, they parting in August, 1918.

The Presbyterian Guild held their first after vacation meeting Sept. 7, at the home of Mrs. Adams with Mrs. Alderman assistant hostess. Many of the regular members had not returned from vacation, but the ladies present had a splendid meeting planning on the work for the winter and hope to accomplish several important things for the community interest. The work will be more fully decided upon at the next meeting, which is to be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Burge, Sept. 21, and the hostesses, Mesdames Burge and Baies have requested that all members make a special effort to be in attendance and also bring any friend who might be interested in spending a pleasant afternoon and getting acquainted with the ladies, and learn of the things they are attempting to do.

Dr. Shearer returned Sunday from Portland, where he was attending the meetings of the Clinical Congress of American college of Surgeons, which were held Friday and Saturday. This is the first annual meeting to be held on the Pacific coast, all others being in the East. Dr. Shearer was the only surgeon from Tillamook to attend. It seems as if a surgeon must have had a certain number of years experience before he can join the association, then he receives invitations to attend the meetings. Dr. Shearer has been a member for a number of years. The meetings were held at the Good Samaritan, St. Vincent, Eyer, Ear, Nose and Throat and the Coffey Surgical hospitals. Twenty four operations were performed each day by the surgeons. In the evening a large reception was held at the Multnomah Hotel. A large number of Eastern doctors were present, two coming from Chicago and one from New York, also from other cities.

J. Glenger, Solie Smith, J. J. Rupp, T. W. Lyder, Mike Abplanalp, F. E. Meyer, Chas. Ray, W. H. Christensen, Wm. Maxwell, Carl Haberlach, D. J. Dunn, F. W. Robitsch, Andrew Peterson, Fred Afolter, J. H. Holgate, C. A. McDonald, Chas. Atkinson and Jesse Earl.

The following resolutions were adopted: "That it be the understanding of this board that when the tentative wage scale for cheese makers was adopted, the Tillamook Creamery scale was understood to be $225, and cheese maker pay rent, or engage his own house, with no wood, water or milk free."

A motion was made and carried that the association recommend against the passage by the voters of Oregon of the 4 and 5 per cent limitation on interest law, the same being detrimental to the development of this county.

Motion was made and carried that the directors are not in favor of the secretary handling Coos Bay cheese at this time.

Motion, made, seconded and carried, that the association go into the hay, grain and feed business. This is to be handled separately and apart from the cheese end of the association, but under the same general management.

Motion made, seconded, and carried that Carl Haberlach be employed as manager for feed and grain business, said contract to be for year ending, Sept. 1, 1921. R. C. Jones was asked to make out sack returns as soon as possible.

Carl Haberlach announced that he had advanced the price of cheese five cent the 10th inst., triplets now selling at 31c. Tillamook, Longhorn and Y. A.'s at 32c.

All those present took a deep interest in the affairs brought before the meeting. After the business had been attended to the meeting adjourned.

Tillamook High School Notes

Also the new gymnasium on the High School grounds is not entirely finished. It is near enough completed so that active work can be carried on in it. In the very near future gymnasium classes will start.

Every student in the High School is required to take physical training as a part of the course. The girls are expected to equip themselves with a white middie, black bloomers, black stockings and white tennis shoes. The boys are expected to wear basket ball trunks and Jersey sweaters. If not already supplied with sweaters they are advised to get red jersey with two white stripes. They will also be expected to wear gymnasium or tennis shoes.

Once a week the pupils of the grammar school including the fifth grade and up will have classes in the gymnasium. Owing to the infrequency of the classes no equipment will be required of them except tennis shoes.

The following class officers were elected for this semester: Freshman: Pres., Joseph Maxwell; Vice-pres., Lula Thurman; Representative for Council, Arline Heyd; Sec. & Treas., Mary Lamar; Class advisor, Mike Hanselman.

Night School

Last year the night school in commercial subjects proved very successful and the Board of Education has decided to offer the work again this winter. The classes will be in charge of Miss Star and Miss Wilson. Any one interested in taking work in any of the subjects mentioned below may enroll at the High school building at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Sept. 27. If it is impossible to attend that evening, telephone M-150.

Night courses will be offered in the Commercial Department of the High School in Bookkeeping, Short-hand, Typing and Spelling on Monday and Thursday evening, beginning next Monday, Sept. 27. Tuition $2.50 per month, payable in advance.

The opening game of the football season will be played Saturday, Oct. 2, when the High School team plays the local Alumni. The teams are evenly matched and an exciting game is anticipated.

Tammany must not, cannot, will not be allowed to control the next administration. The work to be done in the next four years is far too important to be trusted to any man or any set of men who hold such theories of government. The Tammany Tiger will never get to the White House, nor will Cox, the man the Tiger nominated.

IS A MENACE TO INDUSTRIAL LIFE OF OREGON

Interest Rate Bill and Non-Partisan League Discussed.

Unless a vigorous campaign of education is carried on throughout the entire state there is grave danger that a financial quarantine will be placed upon Oregon and great injury done to the business, agriculture and labor interests of the state through the enactment of the 4 and 5 per cent interest rate bill, according to Lloyd Riches, secretary of the Oregon State Editorial Association. Mr. Riches was in Tillamook Monday afternoon and evening and spoke before some of the business men of Tillamook in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Monday evening.

"The proposed 4 and 5 per cent interest rate bill is one of the most vicious measures ever aimed at the business and economic stability of any state in the union," said Mr. Riches. "It is a constitutional amendment which would reduce the present legal rate of interest from 6 to 4 per cent and the maximum contract rate of interest from 10 to 5 per cent and specifically provides that the contract rate of 5 per cent shall be inclusive of any and all brokerage and commissions.

"Let us consider what effects this law would have upon the life of the state.

"Money has a price, just as wheat and potatoes have a price and that price is the rate of interest it is earning. This price fluctuates just as the price of wheat and potatoes fluctuates, because of the law of supply and demand. Today there is such a tremendous demand for money to rebuild the war devastated world that interest rates are exceedingly high and you and I can sell the use of our money in the world market, on gilt-edged security, for 8, 8 1/2 and 9 per cent.

"What would happen if the rate of interest in Oregon is placed at 4 and 5 per cent? Just the same as would happen were we foolish enough to fix the price of wheat in Oregon at 25c a bushel and the price of potatoes at 10c a bushel. The wheat and potatoes would be sent outside of the state where market prices could be obtained and likewise money would be loaned on outside securities. Existing loans would be called in as soon as possible and no new loans made. Business men farmers and home owners would be unable to renew their mortgages and notes and an orgy of wholesale foreclosure would follow.

"Let me call your attention to the clause in the proposed law specifically providing that the contract rate of 5 per cent is inclusive of all brokerages and commissions. This would mean that the state of Oregon and all political subdivisions such as counties, cities, school districts, road districts, etc., could issue only 5 per cent bonds for such improvements as are necessary and would have to sell them at par. And in today's market none of these bonds could be sold.

"The evident effects of such a law appear so clear to those who understand it that it seems that no one would be foolish enough to favor it. Yet we have found many well-meaning and intelligent voters who think this law would compel the loaning of money in the state at 5 per cent. A vigorous campaign of education is necessary to show the people the real truth of the vicious measure and I urge that every business man and farmer in Tillamook county vote against the bill and urge their friends to likewise."

The Non-Partisan League

Mr. Riches also called attention to the menace of the Non-Partisan League in Oregon. He said he had investigated the league's activities in the state and placed a conservative estimate of the present membership in the state at 10,000 and told specific facts of investigation to bear out his estimate.

"We have all read of the great injury done to the state of North Dakota by this organization. Taxes there are 300 per cent higher than before the advent of the league and North Dakota plunged into virtual state socialism. The league feeds itself upon the dissatisfaction of the farmers and if we would keep its tenacious fingers off the throat of Oregon we must meet the farmer and help him in the solution of his problems. The State Taxpayers league has instituted a measure which will provide for a Market Commissioner. This official will lend state leadership to co-operative producers organizations, assist them in marketing their products and thereby eliminate a great deal of dissatisfaction among farmers about marketing conditions. This law is modeled from the California Market Commission act. The Non-Partisan League has openly stated it will not attempt to invade California as long as the Market Commission Act is in force as it has effectively removed a great many of the causes which enables the league to propose cure-alls for as a cover to its real aims, state socialism."

A special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be called in the near future to take some action in regards to the interest rate bill.

Fair Progressing Successfully

Monday and Thursday evenings in stenography and typewriting and other business courses. Tuition $2.50 per month, payable in advance. For further information telephone M-150.

Everyone was very much elated Tuesday morning when the heavy rain suddenly stopped and the weather turned out perfect for the seventh annual county fair. Although the grounds were rather wet and sloppy, it was only unpleasant for the first day.

The exhibits are very good this year, most of the business houses having booths, several grocery stores, both electric stores, the Iron Works, the music stores, and others being represented. The Fisher Flouring Mills, makers of the Olympic Flour, are represented by charming booths. Many of these, including the Red Star Oil stove, being demonstrated by Mrs. Holmes, and serving samples of the baking and of the different products.

The stock exhibit is especially good this year, each favorite breed of cattle, the Guernseys, Jerseys and Holsteins, being well represented by individuals and herds belonging to the leading breeders of pure bred livestock throughout the county. Joe Donaldson, F. R. Beals, L. A. McCormack, B. A. Folks and others have from six or eight to fourteen or sixteen head of their herds on exhibit, and other breeders have a number of splendid looking individuals, each one a product of careful breeding and care. A part of the stock was judged Wednesday morning and the following is a list of the winners and their owners: Jersey bull, L. A. McCormack, 1st; L. C. Daniels, 2nd; Joe Donaldson, 3rd; and Maurice Bays, 4th. Cows over three years: Joe Donaldson, 1st; A. Johnson, 2nd; Wm. Maxwell, 3rd; Wm. Robitsch, 4th. Cows, 3 years: L. A. McCormack, 1st; A. Johnson, 2nd; Wm. Robitsch, 3rd. Cow, 2 years: A. Zwald, 1st; Joe Donaldson, 2nd; L. C. Daniels, 3rd; L. A. McCormack, 4th. Senior yearlings: A. Johnson, 1st; A. Johnson, 2nd; Junior yearlings: L. A. McCormack, 1st; Edwin Glad, 2nd; and Gus Peterson, 3rd.

Holsteins, Bulls: J. Pangborn, 1st; F. R. Beals, 2nd; A. Hoffman, 3rd. Two year old bulls: J. Rupp, 1st; B. A. Folks, 2nd; Robert Stillwell, 3rd. Cows: F. R. Beals, 1st; Rollie Watson, 2nd; F. R. Beals, 3rd; and J. Rupp, 4th. Three year old cows: J. Rupp, 1st; B. A. Folks, 2nd and 3rd. Two year old cows, Clay Daniels, 1st. Junior yearlings: F. R. Beals, 1st; J. J. Rupp, 2nd; Leslie Barber, 3rd and 4th.

As yet the herds and the Guernseys have not been tested. The sixty head of Guernseys, owned by the Tillamook Guernsey Club, will be taken to Yakima to the fair there and to the state fair at Salem.

The Tillamook Jersey Calf Club has a splendid showing, as there are eleven calves, all of the highest grade, on exhibit. It shows that the children are following in the footsteps of their parents, who are pure bred stock enthusiasts. There is also a good show of Chester White pigs, the greater part of them coming from Joe Donaldson's farm.

Today, Thursday, is Children's Day, and will be devoted to the judging of their exhibits, the different contests, etc. In the afternoon the essays written by the children in the "Watson Essay Contest" will be read at the School Pavilion, Mr. O. M. Plummer, of the O. A. C. being in charge. Representative McArthur will speak in the evening at the same place.

Mrs. A. C. Everson, local Red Cross secretary, has a charming booth at the fair, which is very tastefully decorated in the red and white, and with different emblems of the Red Cross. She also has some of the advertising matter of the Junior Red Cross, as well as some for the Fourth Red Cross drive, which is to be held in November. Household kits and vest pocket kits containing first aid materials, are on display, and the use of each demonstrated.

Lient, DuPuy is making from fifteen to twenty flights a day in the airplane, taking passengers. The flights are ten minutes long, and the beauties of our county are not realized until viewed from above. He is also doing a bit of aerial advertising for the Portland Flour Mills, in having an ad of theirs, that of Olympic flour, painted on the bottom of the plane.

Horse racing, ball games, foot racing, and other contests are in order for the remainder of the fair, and if one cannot be entertained in one way there are plenty of others, each and every attraction being well worth seeing.

Every Odd Fellow should read the following—perhaps it is not your lodge—it's you.

Running a Lodge

Occasionally we hear repeated by those who do not take an interest in the work that a few men run the lodge and it is therefore not any use trying to do anything. To a certain extent it is true that a few men run the lodge, because if they didn't there would not be any lodge to run. A lodge is exactly what its members make it and the majority rules. If your lodge is a large, progressive one it is because the members want it that way. If it is small, weak, struggling for existence, it is because the members are content to have it so. If your lodge is satisfied to have just thirty members, that is all it will ever have, but if those thirty members decide that they want sixty members and determine to have them, then the other thirty will be secured in a very short time. Did you ever stop to think who it is that conducts the business of the lodge? Who collects the dues? Who visits the sick and buries the dead? Who carries the money to the widows and orphans? It is those few men whom you accuse of running the lodge. Would it not be more manly, more fraternal, to attend the meetings and help them than to stand aside and sneer at them? By so doing you would be fulfilling your obligations and in a short time would be one of the men who was running the lodge yourself. The next time you feel like talking about the fellows who run the lodge, ask yourself what you have done towards keeping it running.—Record.

The above is a copy from the Pacific Odd Fellow, being secretary of Tillamook No. 94, one of the best in the state, and having an ambition to see this lodge grow in membership of brothers, who will take to heart the above, and if you cannot come out to lodge meeting to help put over the work, and want, or do not have the time to visit the sick, and help the widow and orphan. Then at least have the principles of Odd Fellowship at heart, so will not discourage those who are trying to live up to their obligations.

Bro. E. Heusser has agreed to see that there is Odd Fellow Notes in each issue of the Tillamook papers, and others have said they would endeavor to hand any news items they can pick up to him. I expect to start East from Portland Monday, so am starting the news for Bro. Heusser and as the paper will follow me to New York, will watch for the news from Tillamook lodge, No. 94.

The new Odd Fellow reporter now comes on the scene, watch him make good, and please help him with information. Thank you, F. F. Conover

Bro. Tom Armstrong is again back in Tillamook, after spending several months in California.

Did you notice the smile on Bro. Culbertson's face Tuesday night, well there's a reason, a baby girl came to his home the other day. The Bros. will let you off with a Flora De Mass, Floyd.

Bro. S. A. Moulton who was operated on in Portland, is reported as steadily improving.

Bro. Peter Schrantz has gone to Bend, Or., in hopes of restoring his health.

After four years of absence Bro. Bodifelt made his appearance in lodge again Tuesday night.

We are sorry to note that Bro. J. R. Church and son, Roy, are leaving next week for Oswego, where they will locate on a truck farm.

We certainly were glad to see our warden, Fritz Beltz back in lodge again, after spending five weeks traveling through the East on his honeymoon trip. Monday night a bunch of brothers ventured out in the storm with horns, bells and tin pans and entertained Bro. Beltz and wife with a few very choice selections. Bro. Beltz returned the compliment by treating the boys to ice-cream and cigars. They were presented with a beautiful electric iron, by the members of the Tin Can band.

A sensation was created in lodge Tuesday evening when it was learned that our secretary Frank Conover, had left for New York in company with Sheriff Campbell's wife. The lodge detective has been assigned to the case and will report at the next meeting.

About 45 members were present at lodge including three visitors.

Good cats committee for next Tuesday at 8 o'clock. Heusser, Christenson, Waggle, Smith and Culbertson. All Bros. are invited to be present. Lodge takes up at 8 o'clock sharp.
