We wonder how B. L. Beals liked his bird like flight to Portland the other day. We heard that he and Fred DePuy made it in just fifty-five minutes, which is going some, and we also heard that he was pretty well frozen up when he got there. Maybe the weather was warmer there though.

A party of motorists, made up of Mr. and Mrs. Pius Jacob, Ted Jacob and Ruby Anderson, left Friday on a trip to Southern Oregon. They will make their headquarters at Talent and visit at Medford and Ashland until the State Fair opens, when they expect to return as far as Salem and attend it.

Mr. A. A. Hall presented the City library with a finely bound set of "Messages and papers of the Presidents". The time covered is from 1789 to 1892 so will be very interesting to students of political events, and the readers will greatly appreciate the opportunity Mr. Hall has given them in making the gift.

Monday morning while working at the Coast Power plant, N. Griffin, the chief engineer, had his foot badly burned. He had been looking in the tank at some particles that were floating on the top of the water, when one of his feet slipped into the tank and became fastened in the bottom of it. The steam from the turbine burned the foot before Mr. Griffin could be helped out.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Miller, near Mea Earl, a son, Sept. 14, 1920, at Gold Beach, Or.

In the item, of last week's issue, about the part of the Kelchis river bridge being washed out a mistake was made in that it said the county would be put to the expense of replacing it. The Pacific Contract Co., which had the contract to build the bridge will suffer the loss.

In spite of the disagreeable weather Tuesday afternoon, the Presbyterian Guild had a good attendance of members and several visitors. One of the out of town visitors, Mrs. C. E. Stephens of Wheeler, had been a former member here. The regular entertainment committee having been unable to prepare a program, the little daughters of Mrs. Haberlach gave a few vocal and instrumental selections that were greatly appreciated by the ladies. The hostesses, Mrs. Burge and Bales served dainty refreshments after which the ladies adjourned to meet again Oct. 5th.

The canary bird booth which was fitted up at the fair by Mrs. Royal Stillwell, was very charming and pretty with its white and lavender trimmings and the many cages of golden canaries. The birds, belonging to Mrs. Stillwell were a credit to their owner, as they are a choice lot for beauty as well as voice, and each varied with the other in their golden throated melodies, making the room ring with the sound of their songs.

The pure bred Jersey calf which was given by Joe Donaldson at the Fair last Thursday evening was received by Carl Blaser. Mr. Donaldson offered the calf to the members of the Jersey Calf Club, lots being drawn to see who its owner would be. Numbers were put into a hat and shaken, then the boys and girls drew to see who would get the lucky one. It was number five and was drawn by Carl Blaser, and he was a mighty proud little boy when the fine heifer calf was led out and given to him.

The fact that there were two dances a night during the Fair kept the young people pretty busy. The management of the K. P. Hall, the lodge, had announced dances for each night and later it was found that there would also be dances in the armory by the Wilkins' orchestra. To draw the crowd and insure every one a good time the K. P.'s gave their dances free, and, as the floor in the K. P. Hall was so very much better and the music also was good, that, couple with the fact that it was free, made the crowds so large that the platform in the end of the hall had to be removed. Everyone had a good time each and every night, and wouldn't mind if the K. P.'s gave such dances every night.

James Walker and Mr. and Mrs. A. Weinstein made a trip to Portland last week, returning Monday evening. While on their way out there they had rather a serious accident, which resulted in the very serious injury and perhaps the death of one of the parties. A truck, which was being driven without a tail light, was on one side of the road, and, as Mr. Walker passed it another car, a Ford driven by a young man, who was accompanied by his mother, ran into the back of the truck. The mother of the driver was thrown between the two cars and was severely hurt, several ribs being broken, her chest caved in and other injuries. It is not known whether she will survive or not.

Mrs. Kate Lake, of Portland, returned to her home Saturday, after having spent two weeks here with her nieces and nephew, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Jess Edwards and Fred Burton. Mrs. Lake was the first white child born in the Willamette valley. She is seventy four years old, and this is her first trip to Tillamook although she has been near here many times, having at one time, about forty years ago, taught school at Nehalem. At that time one was as far from Tillamook in Nehalem as they are now in Portland. For about fifteen years Mrs. Lake was a worker in the Japanese and Chinese missions of San Francisco. It gave up the work ten years ago and came to Portland, where she has since lived. While here she attended the Fair, enjoying it very much. It is interesting to know that she also attended the very first fair in Oregon, which was held on the Clackamas river.

Death of Frank Hanenkratt

Frank Hanenkratt of Long Prairie, died early Saturday morning, Sept. 13th. He had been ill only for few days with stomach trouble which proved serious from the start.

Frank Hanenkratt was a young man who was generally liked throughout, being one of our most industrious dairymen, and his death was a great surprise to his many friends for he was held in the highest esteem. At the last primary election he was a candidate on the republican ticket for sheriff, but failed to obtain the nomination. When a young man he attended the O. A. C. at Corvallis.

He was born at Sterling, Kansas, November 16th, 1884, and in 1905, December 26, he was married to Ollie Franklin. To this union were born three children, Oscar, Evelyn and Mason. August 8th, 1914, he was married to Stella Smith, of Tillamook, by which marriage he leaves one child, Nadine.

Deceased leaves to mourn him, a wife, four children, father and mother. Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Hanenkratt, of this city; two brothers, Ralph, of Northville, New York; Clarence, of Tillamook; and one sister, Mrs. Nellie Doak, of Ione, Or.

The funeral was held at the Christian church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Tucker officiating. Interment was made at the I. O. O. F. cemetery, the services there being in charge of the I. O. O. F. and K. P. lodges.

Jones Reviews the Work in Tillamook County.

After six and a half years in the office of County Agent of Tillamook County it is not amiss that I should make a little farewell statement to the people of the county as I shall be unable to see them all and tell them goodbye before I leave. I am leaving not because I have anything against Tillamook County or its people, but because I think the new position offers better opportunities, all things considered.

Much progress has been made in the county along agricultural and live stock lines during my term of office in the county and I am glad of having had the chance to do this in progress. In the spring of 1914 there were three herds with a few registered Jerseys, three with a few registered Holsteins and one each of Red Polls and Ayrshires. Today there are 80 herds of Jerseys, 37 herds of Guernseys, 35 herds of Holsteins and the same Red Polls and Ayrshires herds. Nearly all of these breeders have been aided by the County Agent in selecting their foundation stock. Five car loads have been purchased co-operatively and distributed in the county and many registered animals have been brought here for sale through the efforts of the County Agent. In doing this work he was simply carried out the wishes of the progressive dairymen of the county and aided them in getting a start.

Results from breeding are necessarily a little slow in showing up as it takes about three years after one buys a bull to get any of his offspring into production. These results are beginning to show up now and indicate that the bull selections have been wisely made.

The County Fair, just over, is illustrative of the progress that has been made in the Live Stock Improvement Project. This progress would not have occurred without some one who made it his business to keep the matter before the public and keep it going.

Along with this bringing in of improved stock has gone the Testing Association work. The results of this are far more beneficial than many people realize. For example, Frank Blaser was enabled to raise his herd average by more than 100 per cent per cow in four years of testing. Others have done nearly as well. Every herd in the county should be in a testing Association.

The other major project that has been taken up is Soil Improvement drainage principally. About 7000 acres have been organized into Drainage Districts and reclaimed from poor pasture land to as productive land as there is in the county.

These were the two prominent needs of the county as I saw it when I came here. They have, therefore, been the lines on which my best efforts have been placed. Many other lines of work have been taken up all right but I feel that these are the most constructive and have been of greatest service to the development of the county.

In handing in my resignation I have no apologies to offer. I have made some mistakes. Everyone who does anything makes them. I have not pleased everyone. No one, even God Himself, does that. I appreciate the support and co-operation that I have always received from the County Court and the progressive people of the county. I have spent six and a half of the best years of my life in trying to aid you in developing the possibilities of the county.

I know that the thinking people of the county do not want the work to drop here as we have no where reached the possibilities in development. The best I can wish for my successor is that you give him the same hearty co-operation you have given me.

My address will be Dairy Department, O. A. C., Corvallis, and I shall be glad to hear from any of my friends at any time. I hope to see many of you in attendance during Farmers Week.

Roy C. Jones.

Miss Dorothy Cohn Married.

Miss Dorothy Cohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Cohn, who was born in Tillamook city, was married to Mr. Jesse L. Delaney, an Alameda banker, following being an account of the wedding taken from a San Diego newspaper:

Miss Dorothy Cohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cohn of this city, and Jesse L. Delaney of Alameda, were married at the home of the bride's parents, 1306 Granara avenue, at high noon Wednesday, Rev. W. E. Crabtree officiated.

The service was performed in the presence of the immediate family. The bride wore a brown duvetyne suit and hat. Following the service a wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. Delaney left at once to motor through the state in a Cadillac coupe, presented to the bride by her mother. They will stop at Del Monte, Lake Tahoe and several other places in the Yosemite valley.

Following their wedding trip the young couple will return to Alameda where they will make their home. Mr. Delaney will there be in business with his father, who is a banker.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Largest Student Body in Annals of Tillamook High School.

There are now 132 students enrolled in the High School. With the fine faculty, a new gymnasium and a large student body, the most successful year in the history of Tillamook High school is anticipated.

Last week the "Freshies" were initiated into the sacred order of the High School. The girls were mysteriously ushered into a room from which they sauntered forth with green bows tied in many ridiculous ways. The boys were given the "bumps" and one shoe taken from each, the shoes being used as decoration for the assembly hall. Miller aroused the admiration of the students by jumping from his seat to the stage and putting on his shoe before the assembly.

Saturday the teachers who were here last year gave the new teachers a picnic at Barview.

The Manual Training classes are making the lockers for the gymnasium.

The foot ball game which the High school was to have played with the Alumni is postponed indefinitely. The T. H. S. boys are being coached by Mr. Dimmick.

The effectiveness of the commercial department has been increased by the purchase of a mimeograph.

Friday a student body meeting was called by President Grace Jolliffe. Henry Zeschler was elected yell leader; Ramona Haltom and Elta Sheets the high school editors; and Clarence Gabriel will assist with the athletic material.

The races at the County Fair in which the students participated are as follows: 50 yd. dash, 1st, Miller; 2nd, Gabriel; 3rd, Harris. 100 yd. dash, 1st, Miller; 2nd, Lucas; 3rd, Gabriel. 220 yd. dash, 1st, Gabriel; 2nd, Lucas; 3rd, Harris. Relay class teams: 1st, Juniors; 2nd, Sophomores; 3rd, Freshmen; 4th, Seniors.

Social functions will be withheld from the student body until the gymnasium is completed.

Red Cross Work.

When the work of the American Red Cross is thoughtfully considered, and the need there is in every community for a branch or a chapter, each locality, where there is an organization, has reason to feel a sense of satisfaction.

The fact that it is ready to meet the emergency which may come at any place is the only argument needed to insure its permanency.

The recent disaster at Klamath Falls, where many lives were lost and many persons injured, in the fire which destroyed a hotel and other buildings, afforded another opportunity for the Red Cross to be of immediate service, the Klamath county chapter rendering aid which could only have been possible because of the fact that there was organization in the smaller communities, where there is less preparedness to meet such emergencies under ordinary conditions the Red Cross is of inestimable value.

Tillamook chapter is now a permanent organization, and is at all times ready to render service whenever and wherever necessary.

The program of after-war work is not yet completed, and all ex-service men and their families are urged to avail themselves of the service which is gladly given by the secretary, Red Cross room is No. 200, Tillamook Bldg., over Haltom's store.

Cheese and Feed Gossip.

Carl Haberlach reports the cheese situation in good shape and that the market is unchanged. So far there have been no advances, but stocks are closely sold up and the market this winter should be better than for several years past.

He also reports that the feed situation is in good shape, the farmers having ample supplies of oats, corn, barley and red clover seed. The mill is operating full blast and farmers can put in their orders for feed which will be ground out to suite the fancies of anyone. The prices vary according to the several grains mixed. Red Clover seed being sold at 35c. the pound. Farmers should figure on getting in their winter's supply of feed, especially wheat and oats.

Postmaster Examination

An examination will be held in this city on October 13th, for the position of postmaster at Wheeler, Or. That office has an annual compensation of $1,100. All applicants must have reached their twenty-first but not sixty-fifth birthday, must be a citizen of the United States, and must actually reside within the delivery of the office, and have so resided at the time when the vacancy occurred. Application blanks and information may be secured from the postmaster at the place of the vacancy or from the Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C., and should be properly executed and filed with the Commission at Washington in time to arrange for the examination of the applicant.

Clothes Wanted for Armenians

Another call has come for old clothing for the orphaned children and widows of Armenia.

Conditions are terrible there, and although in some places the distress of last year has been relieved, yet in much of the country the suffering is as great, or greater than last year. The most of the men have been killed and anything that a woman or child can wear to keep them warm will be appreciated.

Contributions should be left at Fire Company's room in City Hall before October 1st.

SAW MILLS WILL HAVE TO CLOSE DOWN IN THIS VICINITY

Cannot Procure Cars—Large Number of Men Will Be Thrown Out Of Employment.

It was reported to the Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening that owing to the shortage of cars all saw mills in this vicinity would have to close down within a few days and hundreds of men would be thrown out of employment. That was the serious condition that confronted the Chamber of Commerce on Monday, and substantiated by the mill owners, who laid the facts before the body, with the request that the Chamber take some action to prevent, if possible, a close down of the sawmills in this vicinity. After considerable discussion as to the best method to proceed, it was decided to take the matter up first with the Southern Pacific Co. officials in Portland. The Coates Lumber Co., reported that it needed 40 cars right away and the other mill men were in the same predicament piling up lumber every day with no prospect of obtaining cars. In fact, it was reported that for over twelve months the railroad officials had been predicting that the car shortage would soon be over, whereas the situation, as far as Tillamook is concerned, was worse today than it ever had been.

The question of water transportation was taken up as one means of relieving the situation, and the mill men were asked whether they would co-operate if the Chamber succeeded in getting lumber schooners to come here. They heartily concurred in the suggestion, one mill man stating that he had a cargo of 400,000 feet ready to ship. If the car shortage continues the Chamber will get in touch with parties in San Francisco and endeavor to have a line of boats run into Tillamook. This would prove of double advantage, for the vessels would bring merchandise from the south and a great saving would be made in freight rates that that are now paid to the Southern Pacific Co., and a large amount of business would be diverted from Portland to San Francisco.

Registered Jersey Calf Purchased by Frank Freeman.

Frank Freeman recently purchased a 5 months old pure bred Jersey bull calf from Dr. J. E. Reedy. The calf is a splendid specimen, whose dam is Upland Daisy (24817), imported from the Isle of Jersey. She has more red fluges back of her than any cow that we know of in the county. The sire of the calf is Glentana's Noble Bull (144245), which is from old Glentana, one of the greatest show bulls in the Northwest, and also has many daughters of registered merit.

This calf promises to be one of as good herd sires as ever brought in the county. Mr. Freeman has recently purchased the ranch of his father's and is now getting it in shape to run, starting in the full blood game. He is making a good start in getting a pure bred sire, which in the cattle class is a step towards prosperity.

Dr. Reedy has brought into Tillamook and raised within the last year over sixty head of pure bred dairy cattle, of which twenty were at the county fair this year, some making great records in the official test.

Prisoner Escapes.

Fred De Lillies, who has been in the county jail for some time awaiting action of the grand jury, charged with having chloroformed a young girl with the intent to rape, disappeared Saturday evening, and as yet his whereabouts have not been ascertained. He was held without bail but was, for several weeks, a trustee about the court house, carrying the food to the other prisoners from the Star restaurant on First Street, moving the lawn and doing other odd jobs.

Saturday evening he left for the prisoners' supper, and did not return, no one having seen him since. It will go hard with him when caught this time, as he has more than one charge to face.

County Exhibit at State Fair.

A party consisting of F. R. Beals, Rollie Watson, Ira G. Lance, J. E. Reedy and Wm. Maxwell went out to Salem on Sunday to enter the pure bred stock which was taken to the fair from the county fair here in Tillamook. The entries, which were to close on the 14th, were held open until the 19th, by a special dispensation granted to Tillamook county, that the men could get their cattle there in time.

The party left here in cars at five thirty in the morning and arrived in Salem at ten o'clock. Upon their arrival they conferred for some time with the fair managers, and, as all the entries for the entire fair were only 253 head, and Tillamook entered 54 head, which was 20 per cent of the entire exhibit, it was granted the use of barn number 1. This is the first time in the history of the fair, a period of 59 years, that a county has been given the privilege of having an entire barn and exhibiting all her cattle together, as the usual rule is that each respective breed is put in the general exhibit for that respective breed, and the people of Tillamook should feel proud of the fact that their exhibits this year are to be the first to break the rule. As the breeders of Tillamook are all co-operating this will give them a chance to co-operate with their showing at the fair and will make it possible for them to carry out the green and yellow color scheme, which is the one adopted by the county as being symbolic of cheese and grass.

A special train of six cars was obtained to transport the cattle and the county exhibits to Salem. This train is the first special to be put on the road to haul livestock, those before being passenger trains only. Five of the cars are to contain the cattle, and the sixth one the other exhibits which took prizes at the county fair. Nine men were on the train. They left Wednesday night at ten o'clock and were to arrive in Salem at ten Thursday morning. About $100,000 were represented by the stock which was taken out.

We hope that Tillamook's barn will be the most attractive place in the Fair grounds, also that the greater number of the prizes go to it, and that it will be a splendid success.

Finance Service Company of Portland Opens Branch Office in City

The Finance Service company whose home office is located at 999 Wilcox Building, Portland, Oregon, will open a branch office in Tillamook which will be in charge of W. F. Baker of this city, the location of the office will be announced as soon as suitable location can be secured. Mr. C. W. Hall, of Portland, Ore., who is opening up this office for the company, defines the operation of the Finance Service Co. as follows:

For a man or woman of moderate means to make intelligent investment in co-operate securities, bonds, etc. is ordinarily impossible for the reason that they lack the time, ability, facilities and training to make a proper investigation and unless their investment is little more than a gamble they need the advice of an expert, who combining special knowledge with judgment has the facilities and incentive to make a thorough investigation. It is for the purpose of rendering to the investor, big or little, this special service the Finance Service Company exists.

Heretofore the man of moderate means has never been able to secure investments where he got a fair and full return on the earnings of his money and was forced to take from three to eight per cent which is nothing more than mere rental—our service therefore consists in bringing to the man of average means the full earning power on his money invested. By becoming a client of the Finance Service Company safe, money-making, investigated opportunities to invest your money are constantly being placed before you.

Grange Notes.

Fairview Grange No. 273 met in regular session, Sep. 9th. Though the attendance was small the enthusiasm was great, and we are planning some good meetings for the coming winter.

If each member would keep their dues paid and try to be present at even a part of the meetings we would profit by it.

We hope that all our members will try to be present on October 11th, and we will promise that you will not be disappointed. Sec.

Mary Miles Minter Stars in "Jenny Be Good"

At the Gem Theatre the bill for Thursday night, Sept. 30, will show Mary Miles Minter, the Real-artist in "Jenny be Good."

The story deals with a little girl, Jenny Riano, (Mary Miles Minter) who is cared for by her old invalid grandmother. She meets and secretly marries Royal Renshaw, the son of parents who have social aspirations. They learn of his secret marriage and at once set about to part the young couple, by sending Royal on a cruise to Europe. Jenny through their influence, has the marriage annulled, and Royal, due to the deception of his family, marries Jolanda, a debutante of the smart set. There are many contrasts of the vices and virtues of the common people with that of the so-called American aristocracy, and the gripping story is relieved by a vein of fine humor.

"The Silver Horde" by Rex Beach

Rex Beach's great play "The Silver Horde" will be shown at the Gem Theatre this Friday and Saturday, Sept. 24 and 25.

Of all Alaska treasures, none is more bountiful than the salmon fisheries of the Kalvik district, and here remote from law two rival factions struggle to control the silver horde of salmon.

Marsh, head of a powerful cannery, backed by a Wall Street syndicate, is determined to monopolize the Kalvik fisheries. He finds in Cherry Malotte, a hardy and beautiful daughter of Alaska, a worthy opponent. She and "Big George" Holt fight to hold their claims.

Out from the mining country to the far north comes a discouraged failure, Boyd Emerson, a self-confessed failure. An alliance is formed between Holt, Emerson and Cherry Malotte. They will fight for their claim to a share of the silver horde. Emerson goes to New York to get the necessary capital and is successful
