

PLAYED FEW "SAFETY SHOTS"

Men Who Have Won Success in Life's Game Satisfied With Nothing but Victory.

Walter Hagen, the golfer, says: "Never play for a safety, but always try for the cup."

Rockefeller played six hole out in the oil world and he made a par and then some.

Morgan hammered the ball straight for the flag and it flew above every bunker and sand pit in the financial world.

Col. "Tom" Scott had no safety shots in his bag when dreaming out the Pennsylvania road system, nor did Franklin B. Gowen when he made his master stroke in buying the Reading's coal lands.

Theodore N. Vall, the telephone giant, never minced his game nor resorted to a half shot to save his face.

The big-league teams play to win the game, not to win a compromise or tie the other team.

The great merchant nails his flag to the mast, says "damn the torpedoes," and shoots straight at his target.

So in business as on the links the adage should be: "Hold your head still and play for the cup."

PICK EMPLOYEES WITH CARE

Modern Business Men No Longer Rely on the "Hit-or-Miss" Method of Selection.

There was a time when picking employees was a hit-and-miss job, a trial-and-error matter which few employers believed could be corrected.

No Doubt Who Was Boss. Sometimes it is easy to see, even before a couple is married, just which one is going to be the boss of the household.

A "marriage license," said the woman. "No, we don't handle them," said Adler. "Go to the first door down the hall on your right."

It was evident that the woman had usurped command and was going to take charge of the marriage license business, not to mention, of course, the honeymoon and all the rest of the alliance.

Australian Rabbits Selling Fast. Rabbits have been doing great damage in the grazing districts of Australia, and strenuous efforts to eradicate them has resulted in the killing of a vast number of these animals.

Wanted a Quantity. Helen's mother came from a large family and Helen loved to visit her grandma's house, as there were always so many young uncles and aunts to play with.

BIG TREE YIELDED TO AGE

Chestnut in Which Washington is Said to Have Hidden Collapses at Yonkers, New York.

Maybe there's no truth in the tradition that George Washington once hid in the hollow trunk of the great chestnut tree that until recently stood in the front yard of Charles F. Coy, Yonkers, New York.

The trunk, which was about 35 feet tall and about 35 feet in circumference, according to Mr. Coy, was cut down by the department of public works of Yonkers, and its dismembered remains carted away.

"Before it died that tree produced the biggest and sweetest-tasting chestnuts I ever saw. After its death a vine that covered it made it still an object of beauty, just as its vast size and age made it an object of admiration."

"The top was broken off about the time it died. I never knew its exact height. But I do know that a deal of tradition had grown up around it and that it commonly was rated the largest tree in this part of the country. I am sure it was the biggest in this county."

TO DESTROY INSECT PESTS

Two Forms of Insecticides Necessary for Successful Protection of Plants and Foliage.

Do not waste your time spraying Paris green on insects that suck the juices from plants and foliage, such as flies, green, black and white aphids or fly, mealy bug, red spider and scale, by thrusting their proboscis into the leaf or stem, for they are not affected by stomach poisons.

Boy "Policeman" Gets Results. Bill Zerbe, formerly of Indianapolis, is motorcycle policeman in the Los Angeles police department.

Electricity to Locate Metal. The idea of using current transmitted through the earth as a means of locating metal ores is familiar.

Why Orchids Were Caged. Visitors to the flower show held recently in the Royal Horticultural hall at Westminster, England, were surprised to find a number of rare orchids confined, like so many wild animals in the zoo, within a heavy wire cage.

United in Bonds of Peace. In the presence of the chief executives of Ecuador and Colombia, the corner stone of a monument commemorative of the happy termination of the boundary dispute between the two countries, was recently laid at the bridge of Rumbachos on the frontier.

That Decided Him. George was in a despondent mood. "But, Mabel, dear," he said, "marriage is out of the question just now. You seem to have forgotten that I'm a poor clerk on a meager salary."

LOOKING TO SOUTH PACIFIC

White Men Planning Complete Possession of Fertile Islands of That Far-Away Ocean.

With Europe a seething mass of unrest and discontent and uncertainty, your Britisher is looking to the islands of the South Pacific, already owned by the empire, as the next place to go and to exploit, to use the expression of a lot of people who do not know the meaning of the word.

The truth is, for some years the white man has been gradually getting a foothold in the region. The delightful pictures which one sees of the natives, give a little idea of what is really to be seen in the country.

They are not the wild, naked people roaming at large, eating each other and the missionaries, rubber plantations, coconut groves, phosphate mines and other industries are operated by Europeans. And schools and churches are encountered on every hand, with the honk of the horn of the automobile heard in the shade of the palms.

The white man will not reach the end of his road until there is no more country to be settled up, and there are still vast areas to be brought under his domain. In Africa, and upon the islands of the sea, he is setting his foot and clearing up the jungles and conquering the pests and becoming acclimated. But the end is not yet; there is still much to be done, and the chances are that the next few years will see an exodus to these far-away places where a beginning has already been made.—Columbus Dispatch.

MADE HIT WITH RECITATION. Prince's Speech Consisted of Verses From the Koran, but Audience Didn't Know It.

It is interesting to recall that during the recent European tour of Prince Faisal of the new kingdom of Syria, his memory of the Koranic verses stood him in good stead.

Country's Motive Energy. The gauge of a nation's industrial might is the amount of motive energy which it can command for the manifold fields of production and the essential contributory activities.

High School Notes. Last Wednesday Mrs. J. C. Edwards appealed to the student body for clothing for the Armenians. It is expected by authorities that this is the last winter that extensive help will be needed for these people. Last week a motor arrived for the purpose of heating the water in the natatorium, but as it was deficient in some way it was not accepted. Although the water is very cold many of the boys have enjoyed swimming in it.
