

FALL MILLINERY

Is The Scene Of Much Admiration.

—The trade mark at top is our best proof of correct millinery of which Haltoms feels highly elated as the discriminating fair sex prefer "Gage" millinery.

—Where is the woman who does not look forward with pleasure to her autumn chapeau. A number of the new models show a decided tendency in favor the becoming draped fabric hat, duvetyne being especially fashionable.

—The brightly colored feathered head-gear so fetching, is being favored by the youthful Miss.

THE CORSETS YOU SHOULD WEAR

"Nemo"—"Gossard"—"American Lady."

—"A Frock Or A Suit Is As Good As Your Corset Makes It."

—The admired lines of a rightly poised, perfectly proportioned body, gracefully unconscious of corsetry except for its delightfully comfortable support, will give charm and added value in any clothes. And the wrong corset? Perhaps you have had one. Perhaps you had a gown that was a disappointment, seemed just all wrong, not becoming, and yet it had looked as well in the shop window and was such a precious model you couldn't resist buying it. But it was disappointing. Perhaps the neck line suggested a change, or the sleeves, or possibly the waist line seemed not just as effective as it might be. What was the inevitable result? Repeated attempts at remodeling that left you miserably discouraged, when the real cause of the despair was that disgraceful corset. It didn't give you the right poise and proportion and threw the frock out of line until it lost the charming silhouette you had admired and the designer had intended. Our experienced corsetiere will satisfactorily take care of your corset problems.

Nemo Back Lacing Corset at $5.25 to $9.00. Gossard Front Lacing Corsets At $4.50 to $6.50.

"American Lady" at $2.00 to $5.50.

Says Mrs. James To Mrs. Brown:--

—Right in the store where I buy my shoes I found relief from those painful conditions that you have. They have there a Wizard foot expert, Mr. Gilbertson, who examines your stockinged foot, and adjusts those dainty little leather inserts in the pockets, and in a jiffy there's no more pain. —"I'm sure Wizards will give you instant relief, and it lasts, too. If you go to the store and home your shoes correctly fitted and at the same time get Wizards to restore the misplaced bones to normal position, you simply can't have any more discomfort. Try it my dear, I know over one hundred people last month got relief from shoes and Wizards properly fitted—ask them."
