

Tillamook Headlight

TILLAMOOK, OREGON, OCTOBER 28, 1920.

Tillamook Jottings.

Miss B. Kabke spent Tuesday in Bay City visiting with her aunt.

A marriage license was issued to Lewis D. Gilbert and Virginia Carl, on the 25 of October.

Owing to the democratic free trade on lumber the saw mills in this county are preparing to close down.

William Zouchler was arrested last week for unlawful fishing and was brought before Judge Stanley.

The persons who went on Tuesday Robinson's bond withdrew on Wednesday and he will have to furnish a new bond.

Wm. Hill and Mr. Rogers are putting up building on the lot adjoining the Plasker building on Third Street, which will be used as a grocery store. The lot and building belong to Mrs. Vida Mills, who is to rent it to G. L. Burge and son.

Mrs. H. H. Stark, who has been here for a week, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley, returned to her home in Portland Wednesday. Mr. Stark was here last winter and became very much interested in Tillamook, so had his wife come over to see it.

If the Headlight is a little uninteresting this week it is because the editor has been kept at the grind stone at the mechanical end of the establishment getting out ballots, setting molds for business men and the politicians and pulling off a few political stunts.

A reception for the new Methodist pastor will be held at the church Friday evening. If you are a stranger, come and get acquainted with the Sunday School pupils, their parents, members of the church, and all who are interested in the church. All are most cordially invited.

Dr. Boals reports the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Ackley on the 16th of October, a girl to Rev. and Mrs. Allen McRea on the 17th, a girl to Mr. and Mrs. Scharff on the 18th, and a girl to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Maginnis on the 19th. Dr. Stark seems to be a pretty busy fellow these days.

Her husband, George Shattuck, died a number of years ago and she leaves a sister, niece and other relatives in this part of the country. The remains were shipped to Nashua for burial.

The Presbyterian Guild held one of its best meetings since they re-organized, last week at the home of Mrs. Clough, with Mrs. Fred Christensen assisting the hostesses. Next Tuesday the ladies will meet at the home of Mrs. Conover and it is hoped the ladies will all remember the date.

There are a few books still in hands of readers which is delaying the accession work and only the non-fiction can be prepared for circulation until all books are in place on shelves. There are many good books available now for those caring to read books to travel and history.

Mrs. E. J. Hughes, accompanied by her younger son, Harry, left for Portland Wednesday morning. She took the boy to an eye specialist there, to have a piece of brass removed from his eye. The particle of brass lodged there about two weeks ago, when a gun exploded, throwing pieces cartridge into the air.

Jones, Field secretary of the Near East Relief, returned to Portland on Monday, after having been here at the county Sunday School Convention, which they said was the largest that had been held in this county, it also being the largest one they had attended so far this year, which speaks well for Tillamook.

Coates attended their celebration which was held there on Monday night in honor of Roosevelt's birthday. After a parade the boys gave a splendid program and a pie social the pies bringing in about $12. There are only about eight or ten boys in his organization there now, but they are live ones, and hope to get a large crowd before long, as they are working hard.

While duck hunting on the bay near the mouth of Kichis river Monday morning, Lionel Thayer had the misfortune to have two of the fingers on his left hand blown off. The accident occurred when Mr. Thayer, who was accompanied by Frank Epplett and Jack Driscoll, started to enter the row boat, having first put his shot gun in the bow of it. The gun exploded, shooting him in the hand. He is now in Boals' Hospital, and, with proper care, providing infection doesn't set in the remaining three fingers of his hand will be saved.

On Tuesday, October 19th, Ethelyn Brooks Crawford was united in marriage with Paris L. Lamar. The ceremony took place in Portland at the home of Rev. Anderson, in the presence of Howard Lamar, brother of the groom, and Lula Alta Hamlin, a life long friend of Mrs. Rose Crawford, mother of the bride. The happy couple are spending their honeymoon in Portland, and other points in the vicinity, and will return to Tillamook where they will make their future home. Nothing Doing.

Corvallis, Ore.
F. C. Baker, Tillamook.

Replying to open letter by C. Haberlach condemning Market Commission Act, Haberlach is either entirely mistaken or deliberately falsifying his interpretation of Act.

Market Commission will have no more control over marketing Tillamook cheese than Swift's Bacon.

Haberlach is apparently aiding enemies of organized dairymen and co-operative movement much in Oregon. He is doing co-operative movement much harm. Can you arrange public discussion Tillamook Saturday evening. Haberlach and myself participating. Please publish.

Hector McPherson.
(Reply)

Hector Mac Pherson, Corvallis, Ore., answering from tenor of your telegram would hesitate to ask Carl Haberlach to debate publicly with you, Haberlach carrying out wishes of his people here. Has done probably more than any man in Oregon for co-operation, as he has made absolute success of work here. Believe your aspersions altogether uncalled for.

Fred C. Baker.

Logging Road Along Highway a Nuisance.

It seems as if there is always something to take the joy out of life, or at least, to make awful nuisance for the public to bear. In the present instance we refer to the stretch of plank road on this side of Mohler, which is used by the Constock Logging Co. to haul their logs over by truck.

The planks were put down about two years ago, the county giving the company permission to put it down on certain conditions, one of which was that it was to remain only a short time. The planks are still there and the company doesn't seem to care how much longer they stay. All along the road there is room for only one car and to pass one must back up until one of the few turn-outs is reached, or drive off the planks, running the risk of being unable to get back on, running in the ditch or tearing off a wheel.

In the winter time when it is wet, or when the planks are covered with frost, farmers find it almost impossible to travel over the road with teams, and it is almost as bad with a car.

As the road is very crooked and trees and brush form a screen on both sides of it drivers of cars cannot see when they are about to meet another, and when they do there is not sufficient room to pass, consequently the cars run together in most cases. Some days it happens that two or three cars run together, two at a time, each time a number of lives being in danger.

We think that as the people in that district, as well as all who travel that way are being imposed upon by this nuisance that it should be eliminated by petition or otherwise.

"Whispers"

The underground whisper-factory, where rumors are spread and reputations damaged, is the subject of Elaine Hammerstein's new starring for Selznick Pictures, "Whispers," which comes to the Gem theatre next Sunday, Oct. 31.

Miss Hammerstein in this production portrays a girl who is the victim of scandal, every innocent move she makes being interpreted in a sinister manner. Her mercenary aunt makes life unpleasant for her by trying to marry her off to a wealthy but undesirable suitor. Scandal-mongers involve her in a divorce proceeding with which she has had nothing to do, and newspaper reporters are camping on her trail to "run down" the scandal.

Sickened and disgusted, she runs away from the scene of her indignities, and in a different city, under an assumed name, she meets a man, who meets the romance, at last. But all is not plain sailing yet—there are many a moment of misapprehension and suffering before the last few feet of the last reel shows the happiness and sunshine that has come into the life of a suffering soul.

New Fair Grounds Petitions Filed Last Week

Petitions were filed last week calling for a special election for the purchase of the new fair grounds, which included nearly 700 signatures. When it became known that the previous petitions did not contain sufficient names owing to a half dozen petitions not reaching the county clerk in time, and the petition being rejected by the county court on that account, the Chamber of Commerce undertook to see that another set of petitions were circulated and filed, which was done by the active efforts of a few citizens of this city who are interested in having a permanent fair grounds for Tillamook county.

Quite a number of the country precincts appear to favor the Headlight's suggestion that people volunteer their services on election boards, so as to save the county the expense of holding a special election. Oscar Title, president of the Fair board, is in favor of this plan. Of course, there will be some expense, such as printing notices and the ballots which would have to be had done even had the election been set for next Tuesday, and a few other expenses but on the whole it is hoped that sufficient persons will volunteer their services on election boards. The Chamber of Commerce, having succeeded in securing sufficient signatures for the new set of petitions will no doubt, see that volunteers are obtained for the six voting precincts in the city, and if the country precincts will do the same there will be comparatively little expense to the county in holding a special election to decide whether Tillamook county is to have a permanent fair grounds or not.

WILL GIVE ELECTION NEWS

Arrangements have been made to obtain election news from all parts of the United States next Tuesday night, and the people will be given an opportunity to obtain this information right off the bat on Tuesday night at the City Hall, which will be open for all those who are interested in the presidential election.

A special wire will be installed in the office of the Chamber of Commerce, where an operator will be at the keys from eight o'clock Tuesday evening until three o'clock the next morning.

Persons living in other parts of the county could phone the Chamber of Commerce for election news.

The Headlight will compile the result of the election in Tillamook county, which will be posted in the City Hall. We have sent the following circular letters to all election boards in the county and we feel sure they will readily comply with our request:

To the Election Board. Your Assistance and Co-Operation Needed.

Gentlemen: As members of your election board, I will appreciate your kind co-operation in obtaining the result of the election in your precinct as quickly as possible, for all candidates and all measures.

First: As soon as the ballots are counted, please phone the result to the Headlight office.

Second: In addition, have the person who brings the ballot boxes to the city leave a ballot of your precinct at the Headlight office with the total cast for candidates and measures.

Should a representative of the Headlight ask to obtain the figures while the count is proceeding, will assure you it will be done with little delay.

The Headlight, in compiling the election returns, does so for the information of the people of the county, and for that reason you can greatly assist us by following the above instructions, which will be appreciated by this office and those who anxiously desire to know how Tillamook county voted in the presidential election.

Thanking you for your kind co-operation, very respectfully yours,
Fred C. Baker, Editor
Tillamook Headlight

City Caucus Held Saturday

A caucus was held Saturday evening at the City Hall for the nomination of city officers. The following were nominated: Mayor, Sam Moulton; Treasurer, Leslie Harrison; Councilmen: 1st Ward, Roy Wilson; 2nd Ward, Dr. Hoy; 3rd Ward, Fred Christensen; 4th Ward, Chas. Johnson; 5th Ward, F. W. Talbot, Water Commissioner, 6th Ward, Albert Plank. No doubt there will be candidates entered on independent tickets at the last moment, although at present none have entered their names.

C. B. Gray Commits Suicide.

Coroner Henkle was called to the southeast part of the county Thursday afternoon to hold an inquest over the body of C. B. Gray, who was found dead in the single mill belonging to H. R. Shelly. Shelly lived about sixteen miles up Coast Creek near Willamina, but as the Shelly place is in Tillamook county it was necessary for our coroner to take charge.

It seems as Gray had been having a good deal of trouble with his neighbors in regards to the road, and had also been worrying over his income tax, and as he was threatened by some of the men he became despondent. Thursday morning, after having spent the night at the Shelly home he took a small revolver and went down to the single mill, here he sat down and shot himself in the head. This happened between eight thirty and nine thirty, as his body was found at ten o'clock.

Gray has a brother in Wheeler, W. D. Gray, who went down on Sunday to arrange for the burial. Deceased was not very well known here but had worked in Wheeler about a year ago, where he was well acquainted.

Successful Sunday School Convention

The annual convention of the Sunday School of Tillamook county was held in this city Saturday and Sunday, sessions both in the afternoons and evenings. It was considered a splendid success from every point of view, the program being carried out almost to perfection.

There was an enrollment of 242 delegates against an enrollment of 176 last year. The delegates of Bay City are especially to be commended, as there were 42 who attended each session both days. The Presbyterian church was crowded Sunday, and in the afternoon the roll call was well answered. Several Sunday Schools had their banners, and answered with their texts.

Saturday afternoon Rev. McRea gave a very interesting helpful talk on "How I can get the most out of the convention." Sunday afternoon Miss Parker, the Associate State Secretary, who was sent here on account of the inability of Mr. Johnston to attend, gave a splendid address on "How to make the Bible interesting." In the evening she spoke on "Personal Responsibilities," and Mr. B. H. Jones, the Field Secretary, described the present conditions of Armenia. Mr. Jones is the representative for the Near East Relief, and his address was exceedingly well received, especially as the Sunday Schools are asked to give Christmas presents to the Armenians this year. After the address by Mr. Jones the solo "The Galilean's Shout of Victory" was sung by C. J. Edwards, which fitted wonderfully well with that part of the program.

The following were elected as officers of the convention: Superintendent, Mrs. C. J. Edwards; Assistant Superintendent, Ira G. Lance; Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Tippin; Director for South part of county, Prof. E. K. Barnes; Director of North of county, Mrs. C. L. Alley. Mrs. Edwards laughingly said, "Men may come and men may go, but I go on forever." This makes the fifth term she has served as Superintendent of the association.

Furs in Scott Case Still Missing

A few weeks ago the excitement ran rather high concerning the Scott case, in which the theft of several thousand dollars worth of furs was involved. Although the supposed arch conspirator was arrested and tried by the authorities, the entire story has not yet been brought to light. About four thousand dollars worth of furs are still missing and no trace of them has been found.

The story starts in Great Falls, Mont., about eight months ago, when a fire burned most of the $25,000 stock of W. J. Scott, who was in the fur business. Between $4,000 and $5,500 worth of furs were saved, and Mr. Scott received the compensation due him from the insurance company for the loss.

After the fire and the matters concerning it were settled, Mr. and Mrs. Scott came to Tillamook, bringing with them the remaining furs, with which they planned on starting business in Portland some time in the future. Two other families from Great Falls also came to Tillamook, Jack Patterson and his parents and Alfred Muller, the Pattersons buying a ranch adjoining that of Scott's, several miles south of town. Mr. Scott returned for a time to Montana leaving Mrs. Scott here alone. It seems that Muller and Scotts had some trouble, and after Mr. Scott had left here he made an attempt to blackmail Mrs. Scott, of which charge he was acquitted on his trial. Later it was discovered that a fur coat had been stolen from the trunk in which the bunch of furs were kept, in the Scott's barn. Muller was taken into custody, charged with having stolen it, but said that Jack Patterson was also connected with the taking of it. In his trial Muller confessed to having stolen the coat and sent it to Portland by a friend, who was to dispose of it for him. The coat was restored to its owners by the authorities, but the remaining lot of furs which were in the trunk, and had disappeared also, have not been found, and Muller says that he knows nothing of them.

Muller was fined and sentenced for a year, charged with grand larceny, but was paroled by the judge. The Scotts have left Tillamook, but the mystery of the remaining four thousand dollars' worth of furs is still unsolved.

WHAT HAS CHAMBERLAIN DONE FOR TILLAMOOK

No Forest Service Money Available for Sheridan-Tillamook Road.

We have received the following from one of our subscribers, taken from the Telegram back in 1915:

Washington, Nov. 19.—Senator George E. Chamberlain is advised that the forestry service is unable to comply with a request for aid in construction of a road between Sheridan and Tillamook, through the Tillamook forest reserve. But $20,000 is available for road construction in Oregon this year and this is being expended on roads in the Cascade, Deschutes and Umpqua forests.

Attached indicates how "pussyfoot George" helped Tillamook county back in 1915. If he had not the power then to help, how has he now? Furthermore what has he ever done for Tillamook county?

UNDERGROUND STILL RAIDED

Small Amount of Moonshine Confiscated.

On Sunday Sheriff Campbell, his two deputies, John Aschlin and E. W. Perkins, and his son James, made a raid on the largest still which has ever been found in the county, being larger even than the one found near Blaine in the early summer.

The still was under the garage at Mohler, and was being operated by Ace Cook and L. W. Travis. It had been in use for two or two and a half months and the authorities had known of it for some time, but had to work very quietly to find its exact location. They found a trap door in the floor of the garage, over which the cars were placed while being repaired. Steps led from the trap door into a tunnel, several feet in length, which opened in to large room. This apartment was several feet under the ground, and a ventilation pipe went up thru the roof of the garage, thus avoiding the detection of any escaping vapor. A double coil was used, also charcoal was used as a purifier, which had not been found in any other still here. Three large barrels of mash were found, but owing to the fact that the raid was made on Sunday, and that by the end of the week most of the supply had been sold out, they found only a gallon or so of the finished product.

Travis was brought down by the sheriff and Cook was taken in custody, being brought down the next day by one of the deputies.

Leslie Travis and Emory (known as "Ace") Cook were tried by Justice Stanley, and as the evidence against Cook was not sufficient to convict him of moonshining, he was dismissed, Travis being fined $250.

Effenberger in New Employment.

You will notice in another column of the Headlight that H. F. Effenberger, a former resident of Tillamook county for many years, has taken a position with the Pioneer Employment Company of Portland, as manager of the logging and milling interests of that company.

The Pioneer Employment Company is the oldest office in Oregon, having been in business more than twenty-one years.

Mr. G. A. Hurley, the manager of the company, is a brother of Grand Chancellor J. A. Hurley, of the Knights of Pythias, who is well known in the city, and who was formerly a member of the legal firm of Hurley & Hurley.

The company maintains a department for milling and logging hands and furnishes help to all kinds for farm work.

This service is free to all employees. Land clearing contracts handled also and the company is in a position to take care of these matters promptly and satisfactorily. The company's entire force is experienced and maintains a reputation for square dealing and efficient service.

I. O. O. F. NEWS.

Rebekahs, well I guess, more of them every week, they surely have it over the Odd Fellows, and I will tell you the reason why, you know the Odd Fellows are working hard for new members, and they are getting them too, but here is the rub; every time we get one new member the Rebekahs get two, for every Odd Fellow has a wife, sister or sweetheart, and they lose no time in getting them to sign up an application blank, that means two, for most Brogs, have to take their wives along in attending Rebekah lodge, and the young members of course need their sweethearts, who are generally some other Bro's sister, so they are eligible, and there you are. Do you wonder the Rebekahs' initiate from 5 to 15 each meeting? We do not care we like the Rebekahs. Don't you?

Tillamook lodge is endeavoring to train a Second degree team, to such a state of perfection, that we can send a team to the next session of Grand Lodge which meets in Albany next year, so all Brogs, who are chosen to work in this degree, please do your part, learn your charge, meet with the team in practice, and let us show the Grand Lodge we are alive, and on the map.

Bro. Matt Terry is still sick with the Small Pox, Bro. Allen Page reported sick, and Sam Moulton so far recovered that has been taken off the sick list.

Encampment members notice, as Bay City Rebekahs have a big time planned for Saturday night, and a good many camp members are from Bay City lodge, also Wheeler lodge has something special for that night, the Tillamook Encampment has called off the special session, which was to be held on Saturday eve, Oct. 20 to some future date, to be announced later, when the Wheeler degree team will come and confer the Royal Purple degree. Watch these columns for special notice, and remember there will be no special meeting of the camp this Saturday night.

All members of Mt. Hebo lodge I. O. O. F. are invited to visit this lodge Tuesday eve, Nov. 2. The Third degree will be conferred, if you have any candidates, bring them along; we have a special supper committee to see that we have lots to eat on that occasion, but the secretary has to serve as judge on a night election board, where will he get off?

Remember Rebekahs always on time, Wednesday eve at 7:30, Odd Fellows the same on Tuesday eve, Encampment 1st and 3rd Thursday eve each month. But no special camp this Saturday. F. F. Conover, sec.

"Him Have Good Face"

Senator Harding's smile has won him a handsome Indian blanket. Nana Carrothers Learning, matron of an Indian school at Polacca, Ariz., tells the story.

An Indian woman from the mountains saw Senator Harding's picture in a trader's store. "Him look good; him have good face; him honest man," was her comment. The trader told her he was to be the next "big white chief at Washington." He said his name was Harding. At the woman's request, the trader wrote the name "Harding" on a slip of paper.

In a few days the Indian woman returned to the trader's store and unfolded a beautiful blanket that she had made. The trader immediately offered to buy it, and asked her, "How much?" "Me no sell," she answered. "Me make it for Harding. See him name?" In the blanket, beautiful in color design, was woven the name, "Harding." "Said to him for me," she said, as she turned to go. "Him good man—him good white chief."

Relatives of Mrs. Ella Shattuck

Idaho Statesman: "Joining a lot of bankrupt, near bankrupt, and claim jumping nations in a league is like a prosperous farmer signing a joint stud horse note with a group of neighbors of doubtful credit. His signature makes it a good note at the bank, and his neighbors would think it mean of him to refuse to sign. But when the note becomes due and some of the neighbors, or perhaps all of them, fail to pay their shares, the prosperous farmer must make good the difference. The league of nations is a stud horse note, and the prosperous United States has a good signature."
