Editorial Snap Shots.

It's none of our business, but somehow it don't look the proper thing to see business men playing cards in card rooms during business hours. Not that we are opposed to cards, but the bad example and the bad habit.

The dairymen of Tillamook were a little surprised when they read in the daily newspapers that New Zealand butter was being shipped to Portland, which, of course, will lower the price of cheese. But we cannot see how they could be surprised. The democratic party passed the Underwood tariff bill, allowing farm products, and eggs from China, to come into the country free of duty. The snap shot man cannot understand why any dairyman in Tillamook county can vote the democratic ticket. The next few months will prove, with smaller milk checks, what democratic free trade means to the dairymen of Tillamook county.

Our friend Bro. Trombley eight years ago was going to reduce the high cost of living when it was one third less what it is today, and four years ago he was going to keep us out of war. What about it, Bro. Trombley? But that is not all, he has been receiving democratic patronage for a number of years, and now that the democratic party is striving to retain power, Bro. Trombley has not as much as opened his mouth in favor of Wilson's league covenant. Cossure Jimmy Cox of the democratic party, Bro. that is base ingratitude after receiving democratic patronage from the land office and from local democrats.

Senator Chamberlain voted for the Underwood tariff law and as a result of his support of free trade five million bushels of Canadian wheat was bought and shipped into the United States to compete with wheat raised in this country. Under the previous republican tariff law that amount of wheat shipped into the United States would have given the government $1,250,000. Free trade was what Senator Chamberlain voted for. In fact, he voted to place lumber and dairy products on the free list, and now he is asking the lumbermen and dairymen to vote for him after injuring their industries.

Why is it that so many persons visit this neck of the woods with all kinds of schemes to obtain money for this, that and the other scheme? Is it because there are too many "suckers" in Tillamook? We hardly think so. At a meeting of the executive board of the Chamber of Commerce the other evening, every member present was exceedingly pronounced in their view and thought a stop ought to be put to the "grafters" who come here and beg for money. If the business men and others would do the same as the Chamber of Commerce did and put their foot on it, there would not be as many advertising agents pestering them.

When you go to the polls next Tuesday, swat the Market Commission measure. We don't see the need of a lot of state officials poking their noses into the business affairs of the Tillamook Creamery Association. There are too many men holding down soft jobs and drawing big pay in Oregon, and it is about time that something was done to rid the state of so many commissions, boards, etc. Owing, however, to our initiative law, there is nothing to prevent those who want to eat at the pie counter from initiating new measures to increase the pie eaters. If for no other reason every dairyman and others interested in the same should go to the polls next Tuesday and swat the measure. We think the measure has a wrong title. It should be "$50,000 Graft for a Poke Nose Market Commission."

Everybody go to the polls next Tuesday and swat the party that put dairy products and lumber on the free list. How anyone can vote the democratic ticket who are connected with these industries is a difficult question to answer, but it is safe to say there will be some dairymen as well as lumbermen, loggers and saw mill men who will be foolish enough to vote the democratic ticket and against their own interest. This is not political hot air. Does the dairyman want Chinese eggs and Australian butter to be shipped into the country free of duty, and does the mill men and loggers want Canadian lumber with Hindu labor, shipped into the country to compete with home products? We do not think so. But this is a matter that is of far more importance to Tillamook county than the league covenant, democratic autocracy or any of the other of their political issues. The way to obtain protection for our home industries is to vote for Harding and Stanfield.

John P. Adams, Vice-Chairman of the Republican National Committee, in charge of western headquarters, made this statement regarding national election in Oregon: "It is not enough for a state to choose Harding and Coolidge electors on November 2nd, a strong republican Senate is almost as important as a strong republican White house. To vote for Harding a democratic senator is to seek to undo with the left hand the good work which one has already done with the right. The gravest questions will come before the United States Senate after next March 4th, and if President Harding is to do for the people what they expect from him he must have a senate that will answer those questions right. The whole democratic policy of waste, weakness, international surrender and domestic autocracy has got to be reversed. It cannot be reversed without the help of the senate. The governmental extravagance that makes high taxes and high prices has got to be checked and the co-operation of the senate is necessary to check it. The Wilson plans to throw away billions of foreign enterprises and adventures in Europe Asia and Africa have got to be stopped. The senate is the body that must help the president stop them. The tangle, in which the democrats have involved us by their timid sacrifice to Mexico and Japan has got to be unraveled and in this undertaking the senate is practically as important as the president. In tariff, banking and commercial affairs, in bringing the United States back to a peace basis in restoring normal conditions in the factory and business life, a strong republican senate is an absolute necessity. A genuine reform of the government and reconstruction of living conditions cannot be imagined without it. If the voters of Oregon could fully realize how much of their future comfort and prosperity depended on the United States Senate, there would not be the slightest doubt as to the election of Robert N. Stanfield. He will be needed, urgently needed. Fortify the administration after March 4th. No democrat, no matter how high minded, could be able to do the work of Mr. Stanfield as a republican would be able to do. In peace times a democrat is bound to vote on party issues with the democrats, and in the senate after March 4th the democrats will be voting as a party against President Harding, so a man who now withholds his vote from Stanfield in Oregon is withholding it from a republican presidential elector. The only way in Oregon to cast a one hundred per cent ballot against the Wilson administration and for a republican administration is to vote for Harding and Coolidge and Stanfield on Nov. 2nd."

How to Vote the Amendments.

For the information of our readers, after giving the measures to be voted upon next Tuesday careful consideration, we think it is to the best interest of the state and to Tillamook county if they will vote as we have indicated below. But few persons have given the measure and consideration, and who cannot vote intelligently without doing so, we are offering our suggestions to those who have not the time or inclination to do so. Cut this out and when you go into the polling booths next Tuesday, vote as we have suggested:
Compulsory Voting—301 X No.
Increasing Pay of Legislators—302 X Yes.
Oleomargarine Measure—305 X No.
Single Tax Amendment—307 X No.
Extending Term of Certain County Officials—308 X Yes.
Port of Portland Bill—310 X Yes.
Anti-Compulsory Vaccination Amendment—313 X No.
Limiting Legal Rate of Interest—315 X No.
Roosevelt Bird Refuge Measure—317 X No.
Divided Legislative Session—319 X No.
State Market Commission—321 X No.

Market Commission Bill.

Sentiment is running strong against the proposed market commission bill in this county, and no wonder. Tillamook people know that any product can be successfully sold co-operatively without State aid, without the assistance of a State Market Director, and the multitude of costs and expenses that go with such an office.

This matter of the State going into supervising business should stop somewhere. Section 13 of the bill provides that the Market Director shall supervise all co-operative associations existing under the laws of the State of Oregon. Why not cover everyone marketing anything whether they are organized under Oregon laws or New Jersey laws? Why pick out associations working under Oregon laws?

We have too much State supervision as it is. Tillamook has become well known through its own efforts. The only time Tillamook has been left in the lurch is when it asked the State aid on its roads. We are still waiting for that aid.

The people of Tillamook should give an unanimous vote against this measure, as it is against our vital interests. The bill permits the Director to fix schedule of fees for the different co-operative associations, and as the bill is supposed to be self supporting in a short time, the fees will be so heavy as to be a burden Tillamook is unable to stand. The bill provides for an appropriation of $50,000.00, market director at $4,500.00, Secretary at $3,500.00, and attorney's fees without limit. Some rich picking for attorneys!

Think of the co-operatives in Oregon paying sufficient fees to take care of such an office! The tax would be so great on them that they could not survive, while private corporations and individuals would not be so taxed.

The proposed bill provides for the publication of a monthly bulletin to give information regarding marketing. The daily papers give this now, the government issues daily and weekly bulletins on almost everything under the sun. The state could not ask for any information outside of Oregon, hence any information would be limited, and ancient history if published monthly. The Legislature is the proper place to get up a measure like this. Then every one can be heard. As it is, this bill was gotten up by railroad and street car men, a banker, an insurance man, and labor men. Tillamook, Hood River, nor any of the successful marketing associations were not asked to these deliberations still they think we should swallow the bill, hook, sinker and line. Naturally farmers resent action of this kind.

We earnestly urge that voters of Tillamook vote 321 X NO and help defeat the State Market Commission bill. A vote for 204 X YES will help put over the Oleomargarine bill, which would forever put that product under its own name and prohibit its masquerading as a dairy product. Help Protect Tillamook's Vital Interests.

Some Paragraph Pointers

Now that Great Britain has cornered ninety per cent of the world's soil supply it won't be long until the flivver question will have to be submitted to league of nations.

Speaking in terms of the sporting fraternity Great Britain is a six to one shot on every proposition which comes before the league.

Probably President Wilson has broken into the campaign too late to make it unanimous for Harding.

Four hundred and twenty-eight years ago this week Christopher Columbus discovered America and now the Democratic party is trying to lose it.

Mr. White says the tide has swung to Cox and Roosevelt. Yes and it's going to submerge them.

Jimmycox tried to buck the line in the West and Middle West and lost the ball both times on downs. The only thing he has left is an end run.

Jimmie is a Bryanite in Nebraska, a Progressive in Frisco, a protectionist in Los Angeles, a free trader in Kentucky, a farmer in Oklahoma and a business man in Chicago. Doubtless if he went to Rome he would try to eat a Roman candle.

And it's a good bet that if he went up into the Eskimo country he would pose as the ice man.

After the November election you will be able to buy Article Ten on the remnant counter in any five and ten store.

Just to show us how good the league is at preventing wars they started another new one in Vilna this week.

If sugar keeps on dropping the first thing you know even the Louisiana planters will be going back on Wilsonism.

Josie Daniels says the Republican party is out on bail and it might be more truthfully said that the Democratic candidate is out on bail.

Jimmiexox said while in Nebraska that he supported Bryan for the Presidency three times which shows how handy he is at backing a losing proposition.

Campaign Puppies.

By John de Witt
A boy I knew was fond of dogs, and puppies, he had three. These puppies were a handsome lot. Yet, none of them could see.

One of these puppies was all brown, with just a spot of white.

Another one was black and tan, I liked them both—all right.

The mother, fed the three at once, They were a hungry lot.

But one, rolled off upon the floor, And stay at home, would not.

The mother reached out with her paw, And drew him to her side.

For, as this puppy, could not see, He had no place to hide.

"What kind of dogs are these," said I?
"Why, Democrats—all three."

But yesterday, I asked again,
"Republicans," said he.

"You wonder why I changed their name,
Though blind from birth before,
Now, that these puppies all can see,
They're—Democrats—no more."

Isn't it About Time to Call a Halt?

President Gompers, Secretary Morrison, and other Washington officials of the American Federation of Labor, are now on the stump for Cox and Roosevelt.

For weeks the principal business of the officials and publications of the American Federation of Labor has been that of boosting the Democratic cause.

This procedure follows a report in favor of Cox and against Harding by a "non-partisan" Federation committee composed of three partisan Democrats, Gompers, Morrison, and Well, all of whom are of alien birth and are advocates of the un-Americanized covenant of the league of nations.

The Federation of Labor is supported, the large salaries of these officials are paid, from dues and assessments levied on the membership of the Federation, without regard to politics. Thus hundreds of thousands of Republicans are taxed to provide a Cox campaign fund, and are compelled to witness the flagrant perversion of the machinery of their organization to promote the partisan purposes of certain Democratic politicians who have had federal patronage and other favors lavished on them by the Wilson administration.

Is it not about time that protest should be voiced against this misuse of Federation of Labor machinery? Is it ordinarily honest to use the money paid in dues by non-Democratic members of organized labor in the promotion of the Democratic cause, under the false pretense that in this way the cause of labor rather than the cause of partisan Democracy is being served?

An Appeal to the Voters of Oregon.

The Port of Portland Dock Commission Consolidation Bill on the state ballot should be defeated. While it no doubt affects the whole state in some degree the enormous expense which it will create must be borne by the taxpayers of the Port of Portland, which contains 209 square miles, or less than one quarter of one per cent of the area of the state. The Chamber of Commerce, the Taxpayers' League and other Portland organizations and many representative business men have joined hands to acquaint the voters of Oregon with the facts and to enlist their opposition to the measure.

The scheme of improvement proposed by the bill will cost $10,000,000. As a starter, $16,500,000 of bonds are authorized. In violation of the home rule provision of the Constitution of Oregon, the voters of the Port of Portland are denied the right to say how large a debt they are willing to assume. Nor are they given a voice in the selection of the commissioners who are to vote bonded debt upon them, levy taxes for them to pay and manage their business.

The electors of the territory within the Port of Portland are better qualified than any one else to judge of the amount of bonded debt they should pay. Their liberality in assuming burdens of public improvement, not only for themselves, but for the state at large will not be questioned by any one who will scan the record of the huge total of bonds they are now carrying, amounting, in round figures to $34,000,000. It cannot be thought that the state will be the gainer by imposing upon its chief city the insupportable load of additional debt contemplated by the pending bill.

The sponsors of the Port of Portland bill have openly appealed to the electors of the state at large to vote for it on the ground that it will cost them nothing. This is log rolling of the most dangerous type. If such methods are to prevail in behalf of direct legislation, no county, city port or other municipal corporation in the state will be safe from having intolerable debts and taxes foisted upon it by different voters from other parts of the state. Bills like this must be rejected by the voters if home rule is to retain its vital force. Home rule and such bills cannot survive together. One or the other must fall.

The voters of the Port of Portland are not asking to be relieved of their responsibility to create and maintain the necessary facilities for ocean commerce. The desire only that they be given a voice in the management of their affairs, and that, through the established processes of law they be permitted to adopt a plan of port development which will not lead millions of dollars of debt upon them.

Voters are requested to vote 311 No.

Topics of Interest.

New York Herald: "Nothing could more completely and at the same time more pathetically illustrate Mr. Wilson's utter isolation from the American public than his own message to that public in behalf of his league of nations. In his long and grave illness Mr. Wilson has had no opportunity to come in contact with the American people or to observe the trend of national opinion. In his close seclusion from public leaders and public affairs he has had no occasion to receive and study reports from those who do know what the American people are thinking and saying and doing. He does not comprehend, as to the Solemn Referendum for which he long ago appealed, that the American people already have gone overwhelmingly and irrevocably against his covenant. He does not dream aught of this although it is perfectly well known to every Democratic newspaper, every Democratic leader, every Democratic manager and every Democratic campaigner. Mr. Wilson does not realize, then, that when he speaks to the impudent audacity of those who oppose his covenant he unconsciously but undoubtedly is rebuking the Nation."

Washington Post: "For cool, impudent audacity there is no parallel to the statements of the individuals who assert that American soldiers went to death in this war in order to establish the league of nations as framed at Paris. Some of the advocates of the covenant do not hesitate to assert that the American boys had the covenant before their eyes when they fought and fell. These spellbinders actually ask their hearers to believe that the covenant is the sacred ideal for which the boys willingly gave their lives. From this mendacious starting point, the league supporters easily take the next step in impudence, which is the assertion that the United States will dishonor itself and betray the memory of the slain lads if it does not accept the contract which was drawn up at Paris. It is difficult to speak moderately of such offensive utterances. They grate so harshly upon the feelings of so many thousands of mothers and fathers, and so utterly distort and outrage the heart feelings of the soldier boys now asleep in the flag, that no politician has a right to make such argument, no matter how hard pressed he may be."
