"My Thor works like a motor car"

THE machinery, which is entirely enclosed, is shaft-driven by smooth-running, silent gears. No exposed chains or belts to endanger hands or clothes, no flimsy construction to get out of order easily. Just a simple, accurate, splendidly-built mechanism, that operates the working part in an amazingly efficient manner. As for the working part itself, any woman who owns a Thor will tell you it cleans clothes more quickly than any other machine, without the slightest harmful friction.

Of course, you'll want a Thor. Ask to see one demonstrated. Learn about the easy terms.

Coaxing You to Smile.

To a Baby Boy.

Hello, red-faced little feller,
What you doin' here?
One fist stoppin' up your yeller,
Other in your ear.
Slobbers on your chin;
Mighty scanty head o' hair—
Don't you ever grin?
Lots o' room which way you turn—
World seems big to you;
Lots o' things you have to learn,
Lots o' things to do.
Live your life clean day by day,
Courage all the while;
Make old Sadness keep away
By a happy smile.

Some Party.

A headline in the Washington Star, "Bagpipe Band Rehearsals," recalls a story told by John Tombs of Albuquerque, secretary of the New Mexico Public Health Association. John is of Scotch descent, and the conversation turned to the canny Scot and his peculiarities. "The Scotch have some queer notions," said John, "bagpipes, for instance. Several men were waiting for a train and one related an experience which he declared to have been the best time he had ever had in his life. Another told of an experience which he considered the best time he had ever had in his life; and so on, till it came the time for an old Scotchman of the coterie to relate the circumstances of the best time he had ever experienced. 'The best time I ever had,' he said, 'was one time when nine pipers were gathered together in one wee bit room, each playing a different tune. I tell ye, mon, it was grand!'"

A Distinction Without a Difference.

John Grant, managing editor of the Western Newspaper Union, has a Junior in the family who very much admires the director of the orchestra at neighborhood picture show, especially when he plays a solo on the saxophone. So Junior has been begging his daddy to buy for him a saxophone, so he could become a great soloist, too. "If you have a saxophone you will have to study music," he was told. "Aw, I wouldn't study music," said Junior, "but I would take lessons on the saxophone."

Quite a Walk.

A man who rooms on the South Side of Chicago but who lives in another state, after leaving the elevator the other evening started down the street toward his temporary domicile. On the way, sitting on the step of an apartment house were two little boys, probably six and seven years old, one of them holding in his arms a half-grown pup.

"Say, mister, do you want to buy a dog?" asked the one with the pup.

"No, I don't believe I do; I haven't any place to keep him."

"Couldn't you keep him at home?"

"Why, my home is a thousand miles from here."

The child's eyes opened with wonder. "A thousand miles! Do you walk home?"

Limited Space.

She—I think the Newcombs must have moved here from a very small flat.

He—Why, dear?

She—I noticed their dog wags his tail up and down instead of sideways.

One Form of Worship.

Cyril—That young bride worships her husband, doesn't she?

Clet—Well, she places burnt offerings before him three times a day.

My Creed.

I would be true for there are those who trust me;

I would be pure, for there are those who care;

I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;

I would be brave, for there is much to dare;

I would be friend to all—the foe, the friendless;

I would be giving, and forget the gift;

I would be humble, for I know my weakness;

I would look up—and laugh—and love and live.

Apropos.

New-made Father—"What do you suggest as a name for the baby, Uncle Jim?"

Uncle Jim (a bachelor)—"What is it—a boy or a girl?"

"It's a girl."

"Female, eh? Name her Oulja."

Oregon Tuberculosis Association

The Oregon Tuberculosis Association, under the direction of the executive secretary, Mrs. Saldie Orr-Dunbar, is organizing its forces throughout the state for the annual sale of Christmas Seals. Robert W. Osborn, who has just conducted a tuberculosis survey of eastern Oregon has been named seal sale director and is already in the field building up an organization for what the Association hopes will be the biggest and most successful sale yet held in the state.

The Public Health Associations will conduct the sale in the eleven counties where they exist; they are Jackson, Coos, Lane, Washington, Hood River, Union, Harney, Curry Multnomah. In other counties other organizations have already signified their intention of taking an active part in the sale of the Seals. In Yamhill county club women will conduct the sale in McMinnville, Newberg, Sheridan, Willamina, Amity, Dayton, Carlton and Dundee.

Miss Edith Wylie of Dayville, Grant county has the distinction of being the first woman to volunteer her services as seal sale agent before the sale has begun. Columbia and Clatsop counties were visited during the past week by Mr. Osborn and organized assistance was arranged.

Mrs. Dunbar visited The Dalles last week and spoke before the Sorosis Club and that club volunteered to take over the agency for the seal sale for the entire county of Wasco. The budget of the Oregon Tuberculosis Association for use in 1921 is $35,000 and through the sale of the Christmas seals at a cent a piece, this sum will be sought. This means a sale of five seals per capita if the work of the Association is to be continued along its established lines. If a sum less than this is raised it will mean the curtailing of some part of the vital educational, demonstration and experimental work.

Four and half million seals have been received by the Oregon Association. The 1920 Seal features a tiny green elf who carries aloft the standard of Anti-Tuberculosis Association, the red double-barred cross, while riding atop the pack of gifts carried by Santa Claus. The scheme of the stamp is to typify the "greatest gift of all, good health," and the attaching of stamps to all letters and Christmas packages during the month of December will insure the carrying of the gift of good health to hundreds of Oregon victims of this dread disease, as 95 per cent of the entire proceeds from the sale will be kept in this state to combat the disease.
