"ON THE ROAD TO MANDALAY"

Babel of Tongues at Burmese City to Witness Dedication of New Pagoda.

A curious festival was held not long ago in Mandalay, the chief town of Burma. A new pagoda dedicated to the Buddhist religion was to be completed by the placing of a huge crown or thil upon its summit, more than 300 feet above the ground.

To witness the ceremony came Buddhists from Indo-China, from the Himalayas, from Laos and Chan and Siam. Warriors from Katschin, sorcerers from Mot and people from other places made a medley of languages like that of Babel.

On a street corner would be seen a barber pulling a customer's teeth.

On another corner a Mohammedan bird dealer sold caged parakeets to Buddhists, who piously set them free.

At very modern booths one could buy ice cream, soda or tea. Mandalay was a gorgeous spectacle and the new pagoda was the center of it.

Every pagoda has at its summit a thil, or cap, the placing of which is often a herculean task. The one to be raised weighed several hundred pounds and consisted of a gilded ball and crown and a great spindle above it.

To get it to the top an inclined plane of bamboo scaffolding like a huge toboggan slide had been built and decorated with silks, flags and umbrellas. Up the inclined plane the heavy cap was slowly pulled. Six days were required for the ascent and a seventh to fasten it in place.

Had the Wrong Car.

My husband deals in old and new cars, and I seldom drive the same car twice.

The other day I drove an old car downtown, and after doing some shopping started for home. I had not gone many blocks when I discovered I was not driving the same car I had when I left home, and immediately turned back. Where I had taken the car I saw an officer talking to a very much excited woman.

I offered all sorts of explanations, but it was most embarrassing for the woman whose car I had taken was my next door neighbor, with whom I had not been on speaking terms for six months.—Chicago Tribune.

Wars of the United States.

A stray paragraph on "Wars of the United States" enumerates 19 wars. Ten of these were conflicts with Indian tribes, of which the most important were probably the Black Hawk war and the Seminole war. If these are called wars, an eleventh might be added—the Modoc war of 1872. The important wars on the list are the War of the Revolution, the War of 1812, the Mexican war, the Civil war, the Spanish war, the War with Germany. The minor conflicts included in the list are: the War with France, 1798; the war with Tripoli, 1803; the Philippine war, 1899.—Outlook.

Notice To Creditors.

Barrick & Hall, attorneys for administratrix. 11-251f

He Got Them All.

While riding over his ranch the other day with his trusty pump gun our noted dairyman, Elmer Bailey, alias "Slim," spied a bunch of four large wild geese sitting in his upper pasture; the same four that have been hunted by so many of our Cloverdale Nimrods without success. Even our constable had tried his hand but could not bag a goose; I guess it was because there were ladies present. But our "old scout Slim," took a quiet sneak on Mr. Geese and downed all four of them without a miss. Some pre-though for Thanksgiving, eh.—Nestucca Valley Enterprise.

The Growth of the Pythians in Tillamook.

It will be remembered by those who were connected with Pythian circles that about the year 1914 the affairs of Marathon lodge, K. of P., No. 39, were in a very deplorable condition. Its membership had dropped to about 15 in good standing. Some of them were for returning the charter to the grand lodge. But as the election of officers was near this was deferred.

Among those who were known as the old guard were Judge Stanley, A. H. Gaylord, Albert Plank, John Zimstein, Baxter Stillwell, Captain Richardson, Jack Selby. In July of 1915 the officers were installed: H. T. Stafford, C. C. Baxter Stillwell, V. C. John Zimstein, M. of W. Fred Rorebeck, M. at A., Harry Kerr, prelate, Captain Richardson, Inner Guard, John Kunsie, outer guard.

As if by magic the lodge outgrew its quarters and moved into larger ones. After a time they were compelled to move again to find room for the growing membership, until today the old Marathon boasts of about 350 members in good standing.

Constant vigilance is the price of safety. There is plenty of material in the field so keep the good work up and let us get a thousand members and make Marathon the best in Oregon. 11-251f

Supplying Telephone Service

Occasionally subscribers move and ask us for a continuation of telephone service at their new location. They may be told that compliance with their desires is immediately impossible owing to lack of "telephone facilities" in a particular locality. "Why," one will say, "the poles and wires are on the street and the house is already wired."

We wish that the problem were as simple as it sounds. There may be poles and wires, but every wire may be in use in giving service to others. There may be a cable, but every circuit in it may be assigned to telephones already installed. There may be a telephone in the vacant house or apartment to which you move but no spare wires and circuits from your location to the central office. There may even be sections of switchboard in the central office but not available for operation on account of the lack of necessary switchboard apparatus such as ringing keys, relays, etc.

The reason for the shortage of telephone equipment is simple. During the war period we were unable to maintain our reserve or stock plant as the same materials we use were required and taken for Government purposes and for industries properly favored by the Government. Since the war, with the unexpectedly prolonged problems of reconstruction, production and delivery of materials needed to meet even current demands have been delayed. Every business concern is having similar experiences. The manufacturers of telephone equipment have been bending every effort to fill our orders but they, in turn, are meeting the same difficulties in securing rubber, paper, silk, glass, porcelain, tin, thread, shellac, metal parts and other articles not generally associated in the public mind with telephone service.

At the same time with this abnormal situation with reference to materials there exists an unprecedented demand for telephone service, and even under these circumstances our record is one of fulfillment of demand.

In the first nine months of 1920 we made a total net gain of over 7300 telephones in the State of Oregon. A fact worthy of consideration in our operations is the large number of telephones handled in proportion to net increase. In those nine months we disconnected, connected and mover 41,140 instruments to secure the net gain above mentioned.

We desire to give service as much as a patron wishes to receive it. We desire to promptly comply with the suggestions of public authorities who have taken a proper interest in the situation. We are facing abnormal conditions but we are trying to overcome our difficulties.
