Salem, Or.—Approximately $27,000,000 was disbursed through the Oregon state department during the year 1920, as compared with $6,000,000 in the year 1918, according to a report prepared by Sam A. Kozar, secretary of state. Involved in the disbursements for the year were 51,000 separate claims drawn on state ledgers.

Of the total disbursements $15,000,000 represented expenditures for road construction and improvements under the direction of the state highway department. Disbursements of the state industrial accident commission on account of the operation of the workmen's compensation law totaled more than $3,000,000, and for other governmental expenses there was expended approximately $8,000,000.

School Directors and Tax Payers Take Notice and Protect Against Similar Experience

Here is a current illustration of inadequate Fire Insurance Protection:

$30,000 in Value
$3,500 in Insurance

This is neglect and carelessness on the part of School Boards not to have sufficient Insurance and it will apply to most schools.

A good plan is to appraise your school value and then consult this agency for your full coverage insurance and don't "put it off."

$30,000 FIRE RAZES SILVER LAKE SCHOOL 100 Pupils To Get Vacation As Result of Blaze

Cause of Flames Is Undetermined Bucket Brigade Can Only Save Adjacent Buildings

Bend, Or., Jan. 4.—(Special)—One hundred children were deprived of their class rooms, and five teachers were left jobless when the $25,000 school building at Silver Lake, in Lake county, burned to the ground early this morning. The cause of the fire has not been determined. The loss, including furnishings, was $30,000, of which only $3,500 was covered by insurance. News of the fire was received here this afternoon by telephone.

The fire was discovered at 4 o'clock this morning, when a resident of Silver Lake, who had chanced to rise at that hour, saw the flames. At that time the blaze apparently had a half hour's start, for fire was darting from the windows. The entire inside of the building was practically consumed.

Bucket brigades were unable to combat the flames successfully and the only work which could be done was preventing the fire from spreading to nearby buildings, a task which was made especially difficult by the fact that a high wind was blowing. The loss was confined to the one structure however.

School House Fires Are Becoming An Alarming Proportion of the Fire Waste of the Country.

In the United States there are on the average, approximately—

Five School Fires Every Day

Extreme care on the part of the janitor who has charge of the hazards to be found around many schools would in a large measure reduce this enormous loss of the public property.

Sound insurance in American companies established to a value, will solve in a large part the financial loss.

Directors of School Districts are urged to get in touch with this agency. We will solve your insurance problems.
