American Legion Notes

Representatives of the Federal board of vocational training, the Public health service, war risk insurance bureau and the State department of the American Legion will form a "flying squadron" which will visit all the Posts in the State in the interests of former servicemen who have claims against the government. Each of the representatives from the government departments will be prepared to handle matters which pertain to his department and the Legion representative will handle all others. Dates when the squadron will be in Tillamook have not been determined but will be given all possible publicity.

Answers to questions recently submitted to former service men in this county show that Uncle Sam has not yet squared his accounts with a considerable number who answered the call to arms in the great war. A claim for pay not received while in the service, several claims for the $60 bonus and claims for mileage are among those uncovered. Much has heretofore been done by the Legion and the Red Cross in matters of this nature and all of them should be cleaned up with the least possible delay.

Legion Posts in Oregon favor a campaign for a State bonus by a great majority. Seventy Posts have endorsed the plan submitted by the State executive committee which calls for a cash bonus or a vote loan. Of nine Posts which voted adversely to the campaign, six expressed willingness to accept a bonus if granted and only three were unanimously opposed to a cash payment by the State. Tillamook Post is among the six.

Eleven states have passed legislation granting cash bonuses to men who entered the service. They are Washington, New York, New Jersey, Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. Legislatures in Oregon, Tennessee, Kentucky, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois will consider bonus bills during this winter.

Tillamook chapter of the Red Cross deserves great credit for the work it has done for ex-service men of this county. Miss Elizabeth Burroughs, former executive secretary, and Mrs. C. Everson, present incumbent of that office, have done excellent work and the number of cases handled by them runs into the hundreds. The Red Cross is on the job in peace times as well as in time of war and it should receive the whole-hearted support of the entire community.

The Legion's committee on Americanization may well call attention at this time, to the life of Abraham Lincoln, the anniversary of whose birth will be celebrated on Saturday of this week as a holiday in many of the States of the Union. The story of his career, from its beginning in a log cabin to its end as chief executive of the Nation, is typical of what may be accomplished in our great republic and is an inspiration to higher ideals and better citizenship.

A committee of the State Legislature heard arguments for and against the Legion's proposed bonus and loan acts on Tuesday evening of this week. Results will not be known until the acts are returned by the committee with its recommendation.

Former national guardsmen appear to predominate among the officers of Tillamook Post this year. Ira W. (Bill) White, commander, and Vic White, his brother who is a member of the executive committee, were formerly members of the 3rd Oregon Infantry. Vice Commanders L. E. Keldson and E. L. McCabe and Adjutant E. J. Clausen entered the service by way of the 10th Company, Oregon Coast Artillery. All were enlisted men.

Adjutants and treasurers of ten thousand posts of the American Legion are busy collecting post, departmental and national dues for the year 1921. Reports indicate that the "button membership," those who are members of the Legion but who are behind in their dues, will be substantially decreased. The clarification of the Legion's position in regard to Organized Labor and political activity together with the vigorous fight it has made for the sick and disabled war veterans are believed to have encouraged payment of dues and to have gained many thousands of new members.

When members of the Dubois County, Ind., board of commissioners heard complaints of breaches of etiquette in care of the county flag, they placed its guardianship in the hands of Dubois County Post of the American Legion at Jasper, the county seat.

A. H. Vernon, commander of the Minnesota department of the American Legion has taken steps to prevent the discounting of government certificates issued to disabled soldiers. He has asked the Federal Board for Vocational Education to arrange with federal reserve banks or post offices to cash the certificates without discount. If this can be done, disabled soldiers will be saved many hundreds of dollars.

The compulsory study of American history and civics in the public schools, as recommended by Henry J. Ryan, chairman of the American Legion Commission of the American Legion, was indorsed at the first annual state convention of the Indiana Department of the Legion's Auxiliary. The principal speakers at the convention were Colonel L. R. Gignalliat, state commander, and Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the Legion.

The state legislative committee of the Missouri Department of the American Legion will present to the state legislature bills which provide for the following: a $10 bonus for every month of service of Missouri veterans; the designation of November 11 as a legal holiday; the legalization of boxing contests; that ex-service men shall have preference in public employment and a reapportionment of the soldiers' and sailors' memorial fund.

REX CHAT NO. 7

We are justly proud of our pictures during the next two weeks. Chief among these features is "Humoresque," which looms up as the biggest production of the age. Starting at one o'clock Sunday, Feb. 20 we will show this wonderful picture. Whatever you do don't miss it. In order to accommodate the crowds, we will open at 1 P. M. and run continuously until 11 that night. This will enable you to come at any time of the day and see the entire show. Form a habit of coming to our Saturday and Sunday matinees; the same performance is given as in the evening and you will avoid the big crowds. Don't let your children forget the free morning show Saturday, Feb. 19.

We have had so many favorable comments on our projection, that I wish to make a few remarks regarding our superior service. We have installed a modern Simplex projecting machine which is a duplicate of the ones used in all the big houses of Portland. With this machine we have everything in modern equipment that will insure a steady, clear white light on the screen. Our absolutely fireproof booth makes this theater safe for everyone.

However, all this modern equipment would not mean perfect service unless we had an up-to-date operator. To fill this need we have imported from Portland Mr. Garrison who has a name throughout the Northwest for his excellent work. Taking all these reasons into consideration, you can readily perceive why we are having such perfect projection.

K. LAUGHLIN.

P. S. Don't forget to go to see "Humoresque."

N. B. Remember "Humoresque."

SOUTH END NEWS

(From the Cloverdale Enterprise) Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Werschkul of Tillamook visited a few days last week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Werschkul.

The John Fleck ranch was sold this week to Parker Bros. of Portland, the Nestucca Valley real estate agency handling the deal. The new owners will take possession at once.

Work is progressing on the right of way on the Sand Lake road. With dynamite and a donkey engine they are making the timber fly.

A new stage line in the offing. It has been announced that a new passenger line will start from Tillamook to Portland via Hebo on February 1. There will be two stages per day each way.

E. Fogg will be cheese maker at the Three Rivers creamery after Feb. 1st. Ray Cooper will move to his ranch near Pacific City.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Booth of Tillamook are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Lester Ray, this week, and will visit Mrs. Booth's mother, Mrs. Mary Woods, at Woods, before returning home.

Hon. F. R. Beals, joint representative for Tillamook and Yamhill counties, spoke here last Friday in explanation of two bills he has introduced in the legislature which it is believed will result in a more equitable division of the burdens of taxation. Considerable interest was manifested, and at the close of the meeting a committee consisting of J. A. Bailey, H. Farmer and Chas Ray was appointed to meet at Tillamook with like committees from other parts of the county to work for the passage of the bills.

W. S. Bateman and wife have bought the Johnny Wilson place on Cedar Creek joining the old Getchel ranch, which they bought the year before. We hear they also named the place "Last Hope."

Scientific Chicken Raising

The owner of the world's record hen addressed the Farm Management seminar at the Agricultural College recently says Corvallis Gazette-Times G. B. Coon, one of Oregon's most successful poultry breeders, who told some of the secrets of success in the poultry business to a large group of prospective farmers now juniors and seniors in farm management at the college.

Mr. Coon is the owner of Crestview Farm just north of Corvallis where he has 899 selected breeders. He is a believer in heavy culling and will not keep a hen whose yearly egg record falls under 180 eggs. He owns several 300 egg hens and his Lady Wonderful holds the world's record for the greatest number of consecutive days of laying--131 days--which is 17 more than the next best record known.

The two greatest dangers with which the poultryman must contend, according to the speaker, are contamination of the ground and the tendency to overcrowd the houses. To help guard against the first he would have well drained yards and would carefully turn the soil each year to as great a depth as possible. He regards 400 hens to a building 18x70 feet as the maximum number.

A concrete floor is thought to excel any other. Ways of constructing both floor and building proper to aid in saving labor and keeping moisture and cold from the fowls should be well worked out before the building is started.

In raising young chicks a valuable point is that of breaking them in to the cold gradually and at an early age. The temperature in the warm room at the end of two weeks is down to 68 degrees so that when the chicks are transferred to the cool room or outside the change will not be harmful.

Two men should be able to take care of 3,000 hens when raising them for commercial egg production or 800 hens for breeding production. It is though advisable, however, not to carry on commercial egg production in the same project with an extensive breeding operation.

WE'D LIKE TO, BUT WE CAN'T.

From Jackson (Ind.) Leader Once in a while some reader thinks it a personal dig because we stopped his paper when his subscription expired. But his likes are few. Now, while we would be only too glad to carry our subscribers on forever with out them having to pay anything, we find we cannot do it. Printers have a habit--surely they never need the cash--of wanting their money when Saturday evening comes. They earn and should have it. The paper houses that supply newspaper offices with paper also want their money at the end of thirty days. Linotype factories do not give typesetting machines away. So there you are. The publisher of a newspaper must pay bills or the sheriff will tack a notice on his door. Therefore, it is absolutely necessary that the reader pay for his paper.

Our policy is to try to make the sheet worth the selling price. If the printers would agree to work for glory, the paper houses to furnish paper without cost, and the type foundry make shipments of material without money and without price, then it would be possible for us to carry subscribers from year to year without money.

You can always tell when your subscription expires by looking at the date appearing immediately after your name on your paper. You probably will get as many as two copies after your subscription expires, without the paper stopping. Our readers seem to like the plan to stop the paper when their time is out. We have been on the cash plan for almost two years and to our knowledge there have been but two men who pointed because we demand that they pay like everybody else. We are playing no favorites. Pay as you enter, we stop when you do. Never any duns for delinquent subscriptions.
