JUDGE LANDIS IS IMPEACHED IN HOUSE

Accusations Based on Acceptance of Position as Baseball Arbitrator.

Washington.—Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Chicago was impeached in the house of representatives by Representative Welty, democrat, Ohio, who charged him with "high crimes and misdemeanors," in connection with his acceptance of the position of supreme arbitrator of baseball at a salary of $42,500 a year.

Should the house decide to institute proceedings against Judge Landis on the basis of Mr. Welty's charges, a formal trial before the bar of the house would be held and a decision rendered.

Mr. Welty did not introduce a resolution proposing impeachment, as is the usual procedure in such matters. Instead, he arose to "a question of high personal privilege," and announced that he "impeached" the judge.

Without debate, the Welty charges, on Mr. Welty's motion, were referred to the judiciary committee for investigation and report.

There were a few scattering noes.

Senator Would Impeach Judge Landis.

Washington.—Impeachment proceedings against Judge K. M. Landis of Chicago were threatened in the senate by Senator Dial of South Carolina. Senator Dial said he had sent to Chicago for the facts in the case in which Judge Landis is alleged to have discharged a youth who was charged with stealing money after the youth had testified that his salary was but $90 a month. "If I find these facts are true I shall seek the impeachment of Judge Landis," Senator Dial said.

Secretary Colby said in his letter that the record of the negotiations was "practically that of a preliminary comparison of views, coupled with recommendations still the subject of examination."

"Substantial progress has been made toward an ultimate agreement," Mr. Colby added, "through informal conversations conducted by Roland S. Morris, ambassador to Japan, and Baron Shidehara, Japanese ambassador."

GERMAN OFFER FAILS TO WIN HEARING

London.—Germany, through her delegates to the conference with the allies here, made reparations offers of approximately thirty billion gold marks, or about $7,500,000,000.

It was understood outside the conference that after Dr. Simons, the German foreign minister, had finished his statement on reparations to the conferees, Lloyd George, the British prime minister, replied in substance that unless the Germans had something more to offer than appeared on Dr. Simons' statement, there was no need of continuing the conference. Mr. Lloyd George told the German foreign minister:

"If the written proposals are of the same general character as the explanation of them, it isn't worth while for us to read them. You have a complete lack of comprehension of the position of the allies and your own position."

LABOR RULES BURDEN COSTS OF R. R. SERVICE

U. S. Railroad Labor Board Asked to Stop Payments for Work Not Done.

WOULD SAVE $300,000,000

Lower Cost of Service Can Be Secured Only by Cutting Expense, Atterbury Says.

Urging emergency action by the United States Railroad Labor Board to end "gross waste and inefficiency" prevailing under present working rules and conditions, General W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, in a statement to the board in session at Chicago said in part:

Many railroads are not now earning, and with present operating costs and traffic have no prospect of earning, even their bare operating expenses, leaving them without any net return and unable to meet their fixed charges.

The emergency presented can be met either by an advance in freight and passenger rates, or by a reduction in operating expenses, and not by a further advance of rates.

The National Agreements, rules and working conditions forced on the railroads as war measures cause gross waste and inefficiency.

Would Save $300,000,000

I estimate that the elimination of this waste would reduce railway operating expenses at least $300,000,000. It would be far better to save this sum by restoring conditions of efficient and economical operation than to reduce wages.

We believe that as the wages of railroad employees were the last to go up they should also be the last to come down, but we do insist that for an ample wage an honest day's work shall be given. The public has the right to insist that this must be obtained.

The public has also the right to expect that the railway executives, with the co-operation of the regulatory bodies and the employees, will as rapidly as possible reduce the cost of railway operation so as to insure eventually a reduction in rates. Ultimately a readjustment of basic wages will be required. Meantime it is to the interests of all concerned, including labor, that the rules and working conditions shall be made conducive to the highest efficiency in output per man.

Losses in Income Irreparable

When wages have been too low the harm done has been offset by retroactive increases. Losses of railway net operating income are irreparable. You cannot make retroactive tomorrow the savings that should have been made today.

The board cannot possibly write the rules and working conditions of every railroad in this country and adjust them equitably to varying geographical, operating and social conditions.

It rests entirely with the board to determine whether this whole situation shall drift into chaos, and orderly procedure become impossible except at the price of railroad bankruptcy, financial shock and still wider unemployment.

The Labor Board can prevent this catastrophe by declaring that the National agreements, rules and working conditions coming over from the war period are terminated at once; that the question of reasonable and economical rules and working conditions shall be remanded to negotiations between each carrier and its own employees; and that as the basis for such negotiations, the agreements, rules, and working conditions in effect on each railroad as of December 31, 1917, shall be re-established.

If the board will do this, the Labor Committee of the Association of Railway Executives will urge upon every railroad company a party to Decision No. 2; that no proposal for the reduction of basic wages shall be made within the next succeeding ninety days. This will afford an opportunity to gauge the economies which can be accomplished through more efficient rules and working conditions.

It also will afford additional time in which to realize the benefits of a further decline in the cost of living.

Relief Imperative and Equitable

The course which we are recommending is not only imperative but equitable.

The War Labor Board declared that the war period was an interregnum, to be used neither by employer nor employee for the purpose of bettering or impairing the position of either.

To perpetuate as the normal rules and working conditions on the railroads, the extraordinary provisions of the war period is a distinct violation of all promises. The war has now been over more than two years. The time has come when, if the railways are to be efficiently and economically operated, in accordance with the provisions of the Transportation act, normal conditions of employment and of working conditions must be restored and increased efficiency of labor be secured.

Health turns the Clock Backward!

Getting Rid of the Cause of Asthma.

Thursday (Health Talk No. 5)
(By F. L. Howard, D. C. P. E. C.)

Among the so-called incurable chronic diseases is asthma. Sufferers from asthma have come to look upon their condition as something to be endured, rather than conquered. The sufferer from asthma seldom dies in an attack, but the suffering is agonizing.

The cause is a degree of displacement of joints of the spine at the base of the neck sufficient to
