Local News

W. J. Hill, accompanied by Mrs. Hill, has returned from a two-weeks trip through Washington and Idaho where they were visiting relatives. Mr. Hill reports an increased activity in the lumber camp along the way.

The Tillamook Creamery has installed a new fifty horsepower boiler to take the place of the old one.

Professor E. B. Flitts and County Agent W. D. Pine spent last Friday in the southern part of the county getting new members for the Cow Testing association. They covered the territory from Beaver through Cloverdale to the coast.

Senator Edwards and Representative Beals have returned from their labors in the state legislature. Over 200 bills were acted upon during the forty day period of the last convention.

County agent W. D. Pine made a trip to the Nehalem county this week for the purpose of organizing the new cow testing association in that section. Mr. Pine reports approximately 600 cows have signed up, a very good showing for the new organization that is to start in a few days.

Ben Kuppenbender of Portland was a Tillamook visitor this week. The Pythian Sisters will give a dance at the K. P. hall on March 10th. Admission $ 1.10, including war tax.

Word was received here that Jesse Edwards, founder of Newberg, and prominent in civic matters in the neighboring town, had sustained a paralytic stroke on Monday.—Minnville News-Reporter

Jesse Edwards is the rather of J. Edwards of this city. A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Rev. Allen A. McRae, officiating, when Miss Georgia Owens, daughter of Mrs. D. A. Owens of Tillamook, and Mr. Louis Henry, son of a well known farmer of Carlton, Oregon, were united in marriage. The bride was prettily dressed in white and the ring ceremony was observed.

New Cheese Factories Two cheese factories are added. Adv.

to the string of factories owned and operated by the Oregon Dairymen's Cooperative league. One of the new factories is located at Gaston and the other at Amity.

The Gaston factory began operations on the 18th and the Amity factory is ready to begin as soon as the boiler which has been delayed in transit can be installed. Each of the factories has a capacity of 14,000 pounds of milk daily and modern equipment throughout.

H.M. Biberstein is the cheese maker at Gaston and Peter McIntosh, at Amity. Both are first class experienced cheese makers and will turn out a first class article from the beginning.

This makes twenty factories now under league management and eight more will likely be added soon. Minnville Telephone Register.

ANNOUNCEMENT

On March 1st I took over the grocery store of C. O. & C. M. Dawson which is well known throughout the county as one of the best stores in Tillamook, and I will continue to maintain the same good service and care in handling food products.

Mr. Ralph Himes and Mr. Floyd Ingraham, who are well and favorably known to the people of Tillamook, will remain with the store as salesmen.

It will be the policy of this store to do a careful, conservative cash and credit business, always having in mind the best interests of both the customer and the store. We will expect all accounts to be paid by the 10th of the month following and will strictly observe that condition. This policy will enable us to accommodate our customers and at the same time to give them GOOD GOODS AT RIGHT PRICES. We do not intend to do any spectacular cutting of prices and cannot promise you any great saving in your grocery bills, but certainly expect to be able to satisfy you in prices as well as in quality.

We want this store known to our customers as 'The Satisfaction Store' and will endeavor to make that mean exactly what it says.

Thanking you for your consideration of this announcement and for a part of your future business, I am, Very truly yours, E. G. ANDERSON.

DEATH OF MRS. PAUL

The funeral services for Mrs. Frank Paul, who died Saturday, were held from the Methodist church Wednesday morning. The following obituary was read by Rev. C. L. Dark who conducted the ceremonies:

Martha May McCormack was born at Netarts, Ore., May 6th, 1877, and died at her home 2 miles south of Tillamook, Ore., on Saturday, Feb. 26th, 1921, aged 43 years, 9 months and 20 days. She spent the entire span of her earthly life in and around Tillamook.

On January 3rd, 1893, she was married to Frank Paul, who survives his companion. To their union were born four children, two sons and two daughters. The sons are Sidney and Nelson, and the daughters are Esther and Ruth; all surviving their mother.

Mrs. Paul had not been in her usual health for the past four or five years. About two years ago she was a patient in the Wesley Jones Hospital, Portland, and a year later underwent surgical treatment at Dr. Boals' hospital. While at Dr. Jones' hospital she was given a series of daily out-door exercises which she had faithfully observed except during the extremely bad winter weather. She was at home in the woods and by the streams, and she chose for her daily walk a trip back to the Tillamook slough. There on a grassy spot on the bank of the slough she went through the daily out-door exercises which consisted in walking, running, lying down and getting up, and other physical exercises. She sought this place for the walk that was required to reach it, and for its seclusion. Last summer she showed her husband the circle she had worn in the grassy plot which she had chosen as her exercise ground. The high water from the recent rains had undermined the bank in places nearly four feet, and left the inviting green sod unsupported, and yet the danger would be unseen when the tide was full. On last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Paul took her usual walk to the bank of the slough and while exercising or walking too near on the overhanging sod was precipitated into the full tide of the slough and was drowned. Only the large mass of green sod now lying on the bed of

HIGH SCHOOL

The Tillamook Gymnasium was the scene of one of the closest basketball games of the season last Friday between Newberg High and Tillamook High teams, Tillamook winning 33-28. All the spectators agreed on the fact that they got their money's worth. This was the second game with Newberg High and the fact that Tillamook won makes up for the first defeat. The game was fast and furious in some stages, both teams having bursts of speed and taking many shots. The Tillamook boys converted more of their shots than did the Newberg team. Shingles Gabriel and Arthur Harris starred for Tillamook.

Gabriel played his usual fast game, while Harris showed up with a burst of speed both in offensive and defensive playing. Carson of Newberg played a nice game, pulling many "stunts" and trying long shots.

The annual, published by the Junior Class, '22, will be ready for distribution about May 1. The price of these annuals will be about $1.50. All the members of the T. H. S. alumni should buy these annuals to the class, as this is the first time a class has put out an annual for four years. This annual will be composed of 100 pages and will be 8x10 inches. Also all students should buy these annuals as they will bring memoirs of school days in future years.

The staff is working daily and diligently to make this annual the best ever put forth from T. H. S. Those of the staff who are spending long hours on this work are Clayton Hadley, general manager, Martha Crank, editor, and Rodney Farley, snapshot editor, a position that requires dexterity and quickness of mind for the arrangement of the "photos" of the book.

Tuesday afternoon the first stunt of initiation of the Zeta Gathian club of T. H. S. were pulled in assembly in the form of speeches, namely, "Tom, Tom, Pipers Son" by James Campbell; "Little Boy Blue," by Rodney Farley; "Old Mother Hubbard" by Henry Boihler; "Blackbirds," by Errol Haltom; "Little Bo Peep" by Grace Jolliffe; "Old King Cole" by Glenn Anderson. The initiation was continued Tuesday night at the residence of Martha Crank, president of the Zeta Gathian Club. This is a lively organization and deserves the support of all the students of T. H. S. This week-end our basketball team will journey to Woodburn and Salem for games with Woodburn High and Willamette Frosh, respectively.

Next week it is probable, from current reports, that T. H. S. will go to Salem to represent this district for state scholastic honors in basketball. The students all wish them success. --H. S. Editor.

It Pays to Advertise

It is graduation day at college, and the pampered son of a millionaire returns home. His millionaire father, who owns a string of soap factories figures up in a detailed account, just what his son has cost him since his birth and arrives at a total of two hundred sixty-three thousand dollars. The father starts his boy to work in one of his factories, making soap. But the young man gives up his job. This is the situation that starts all the complications in "It Pays to Advertise," a new Paramount-Artcraft picture starring Bryant Washburn, which will be shown at the Gem Theater Friday March 11. The picture is from the play of the same title, which was one of the most successful of recent Broadway plays. The original was written by Roi Cooper Megrue and Walter Hackett and Elmer Harris did the scenario. Donald Crisp directed the picture and C. Edgar Schoenbaum was cameraman.

This is said to be one of the most delightful light comedy vehicles in which Mr. Washburn has yet appeared. The action is filled with sparkling comedy and the climax is a triumph for the truth of the well-known slogan. A delightful romance runs throughout the story. Lois Wilson is leading woman and others in the cast are Frank Carrier, Walter Hiers, Clarence Geldart, Guy Oliver and Julia Haye.
