American Legion Notes

Officers of Tillamook Post are to be tagged so that they will be distinguishable on occasions when the Post is participating in public celebrations. The Post Adjutant has been instructed to procure the official officers' emblems which have been adopted by National headquarters. These consist of enlarged bronze replicas of the Legion button, suspended by a ribbon from a bar containing the name of the office, in raised letters.
Efforts should be made by the Post to secure permanent quarters to be used for meetings and club rooms. The rooms assigned to the Post at the City hall appear to have been permanently taken over by the Chamber of Commerce and the Red Cross; with the school district occupying the main auditorium and the council chamber in use, the Post has been obliged to use the gallery for its recent assemblies.

One member of the William T. Shetsline Post of Philadelphia receives a dollar at each meeting of the Post—providing that he is present. The name of the buddy is chosen by lot and the treasury is the gauge; if he is absent. Such a plan might work wonders in Tillamook Post.

Emil Heusser, Lee Doty and R. E. Donovan are to represent the Post in the preparation of the plans for Memorial Day. The Post expects to participate actively in the ceremonies of this day. "Wear a poppy Memorial Day" is a slogan which has been adapted by many Posts throughout the country.

The programme of the National organization for legislation by the Congress of the United States includes the following:
1. Consolidation under one head of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, the Federal Board for Vocational Education and the United States Public Health Service.
2. Appropriation of funds adequate to build and maintain hospitals to provide facilities sufficient for present and future needs.
3. Decentralization of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance by the establishment of regional branch offices, and provision for payment of premiums at all postoffices; relief of disabled men in hospitals or vocational training from payment of premiums.

4. Retirement on two-thirds pay of temporary officers disabled in the service, placing them on an equal status with Regular officers so disabled.

5. Liberalization of the Vocational Training Act to grant training with training pay to veterans with disabilities of ten per cent or more or with vocational handicaps.

Thirteen States have adopted bonus bills and several more are waiting action of the legal voters. There is quite a divergence between the several acts, several providing for a flat bonus of $100.00 while others give payments ranging from $10.00 to $25.00 per month for the time actually in federal service.

Endorsement of the American Legion's program for relief to disabled which was adopted by the investigating committee, named by President Harding, was voted at the regular session of the Maine legislature. A memorial resolution was passed requesting Congress to adopt the Legion's legislative recommendations.

Three to one is the score of the legislative program of the American Legion in Iowa. The following Legion measures passed: Bonus bill providing 50 cents a day, with a maximum of $350 to be voted upon at the general election in November 1922; Tax exemption of $500 for veterans of the world war, $1,500 for Spanish American war veterans, and $3,000 for those who fought in the Civil War, and veteran's preference on all political appointments, state, county, city and schools for both World War and Spanish-American War fighters. A legion boxing bill was passed in the house, but was defeated in the senate of the Iowa legislative body.

When the fire department dashed down the main street and red flares burned brightly in the stillness of the night the solid citizens of Appleton, Wis., roared out of their homes in alarm. What they discovered was that the local Post of the American Legion was starting its membership campaign. Bands began to play and illuminated floats appeared. Boy scouts marched in a parade with the Legion members. The effect of the night attack was so strong that 600 members were obtained the next day.

Although he was arrested and convicted of a misdemeanor, a 20-year-old wounded veteran of the World War, is to receive through the offices of the American Legion of Detroit, Mich., an education as an electrical engineer. The boy had enlisted at the age of 17 and was twice wounded during the St. Mihiel drive. He had always wanted an education, he told the judge, but was compelled to leave school when he was six years old because of the separation of his parents. The judge placed him on probation to a representative of the Legion, who is arranging for the youth to enroll in an engineering course under the Government provisions for vocational training of wounded veterans.

A French "Medal Commemorative of the World War" awaits Americans and French citizens who went to France to serve with the horizon blues during the period of hostilities according to a letter to National Headquarters of the American Legion from Brigadier General L. Cillardet, French military attaché at Washington. He requests that persons eligible for the decoration apply to the French Embassy at the national capitol.

Opposition to the proposed emigration of several thousand Mennonites from Canada to Mississippi, which the American Legion has registered, is backed up in a resolution passed by the Punxsutawney, Pa. lodge No. 669, International Association of Machinists, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, which characterizes the sect as "unpatriotic and a menace to the United States Government."

NO QUARREL ON THAT POINT
Father and Small Daughter in Complete Agreement Concerning Classification of Relatives.
There lived with an eminent divine his two sisters, Mary and Jane. One morning he was deeply engrossed in a new treatise he was preparing, when his young daughter was brought to him by her governess.
"I have to report Miss Eled for a terrible thing. She called her Aunt Mary a—a—a d—d fool!" said the governess.
"How terrible!" responded the divine. "Did you call your Aunt Mary this awful thing?"
"No, father, I didn't," faltered the youngster. "I called her a fool—but not a—a—a d—d fool!"
"Well, even that is very wicked of you," he replied, "but as you did not use that awful adjective I will forgive you. You may go." And he returned to his writing.
The youngster, however, did not go. "Please, father," she said, presently, "I didn't call Aunt Mary a d—d fool. I called her a fool. But—I—I—I did call Aunt Jane a d—d fool!"
"Yes, yes!" he mumbled, without looking up from his work; "I quite agree. That is the precise distinction between them that I usually make myself."—London Tit-Bits.
"Pain Points."
On every human body there are four million "pain points" connected by nerves with the brain. They are, of course, distributed very unevenly. They are placed close together at the tips of the fingers and are further apart for the back. Anyone can test this for himself. If you will place two needles one quarter of an inch apart by sticking them into a piece of cardboard you will have a very effective instrument for making tests. Put your finger on these two points and you will, of course, feel both of them. Now apply them to the small of your back and you will feel but one point. In other words, the nerve centers in your back at this point are more than a quarter of an inch apart.—Boys' Life.
