TILLAMOOK'S CHANCES FOR SUCCESS

As often as not we hear pessimistic utterances from those who pretend to believe that there is no future for greater business opportunities in Tillamook County. They persistently fail to see that this country is as yet undeveloped; that it is only on the threshold of advancement, and that our period of greater prosperity is yet before us.

To attempt to enumerate the many opportunities possible would be to write a volume, but a mention of some of the most important can be done in a short space.

What is it that Tillamook County needs most? Population. This can be secured by making payrolls and payrolls are brought by supplying something to the world's market. The mainstay of this country for many years past has been cheese. Are we going to admit that cheese is all that can be produced here? That if, to use a fanciful example, the market for cheese would suddenly cease that Tillamook would no longer be able to produce anything to make a living?

The lumbering industry in Tillamook county is yet in its infancy and at its best seems to be hard to compete with other producers on account of hauling charges. Someday it will doubtless mean a big thing in this section. Along with lumbering proper, go many allied wood industries such as veneer making, chip-boards and box manufacture and the manufacture of the many small wood-articles. All these can be successfully undertaken in Tillamook.

Another source of supply will be the small farm system of dividing the land. Now most of the valuable land is being kept in large tracts but the time will come when there will be few farms in this county of over ten or twenty acres. This naturally will bring population.

We have many acres of unused land, partly cleared. Means will be found to utilize these. In fact, loganberry culture seems to have presented a place for itself on the new waste land. The planting of unused acres to loganberry will bring growers here in large numbers and it must be said that there is room for them. Canneries will then need employees to handle the crop.

It is a lamentable fact that to date there has been very little encouragement for new industries to enter here. Any attempt at something new in the county has been met with discouraging coolness and the would-be promoters have left without their object completed. This is not as it should be. Several good enterprises have been turned away by this method.

There is no good reason why Tillamook county should not have 20,000 population by the time the next census is taken and it can be done if there is proper cooperation on the part of our business men and farmers. Make it 20,000 in 1930.

With good weather not far ahead and vacation time in the offing, something should be done and done soon, regarding a clean-up of the town and surrounding country and the placing of inducements for tourists to visit our city and county. True, a certain number will come anyway, but that number can be increased without a great deal of trouble.

R. V. Blalock, owner and General Editor of the Nootka Valley Enterprise, has returned from California and has assumed control of the Clatsop paper. It is hard for a real Tillamooker to stay away from Tillamook.

Has the family garden started to come up yet?

VETERAN TAX EXEMPTION

Editor Tillamook Headlight: In answer to many questions and to misstatement in Oregonian, will you please publish this which is gathered from personal communication from Attorney General Van Winkle accompanied by copy of the law, and from copy of Van Winkle's official decision of the application of the law and from personal conversation with the County Assessor, and with the County Judge who has written the State Secretary in regard to uniform application blanks, so this much seems to be dependable.

Application must be by personal affidavit before assessor or in writing to the County Court, must identify the applicant and also specify (with taxable accuracy) the "homestead or other property" to which the exemption is to apply; may be made at any time before the assessor's tax roll for the sheriff is completed. You may be already liable for tax, but on application as above before the completion of the whole final roll it must be changed. Take your pension certificate along for identification.

Will other county papers please copy.

H. W. SPEAR, Advt. Corinth Post, No. 15 Dept. Ore. G. A. R., Tillamook, Ore., April 29, 1921.

ATTENTION

To the Dairymen of Tillamook County:—The time is near at hand when the problem of breeding your cows must be solved and it is therefore a fitting time to discuss a suitable size to head your herd. I think I am able to supply you with such a size and submit the following Holstein animals for your consideration.

No. 1, Aagie Vale Gemmy of Rock No. 264359. This two year old show bull is beautifully marked, two-thirds white, by a proven grandson of the world's record cow, Lap-sake Vale Cornucopia. The dam of this bull is lady Aagie Grubbs of Rock, grand champion cow at our last county fair a cow that has given 187.5 pounds of milk in one day and nearly 2,000 pounds in 30 consecutive days; made an official test, 27 and a fraction pounds of butter in one week, sixty days after freshening. There is no doubt but that this cow will finish the 100 day test she is now on, with 1900 pounds of butter to her credit, as she gave 147.7 pounds of milk and made 4,823 lbs. of butter in nine months after freshening, an official two day test the early part of this month, and has made close to 700 pounds of butter fat for the first nine months of her present long test. This bull with such high class breeding and individuality, the son of a leading pure show cow, is worthy of heading any herd in Oregon. I will price him so that you can afford to place him at the head of your herd.

No. 2, Highland Grove Segis Wayne. This youngster will be ready for light service soon. He is a very fine individual well marked, city-city, black and white. His sire is Ladis Segis, the famous bull at the head of the Hollywood herd. His dam Chimacum Wayne Vermont Cornucopia, an outstanding show cow, has milked 187.7 pounds per day, made official record on my farm of 28.60 pounds of butter in one week and approximately 900 pounds in 305 days.

No. 3, Highland Grove Segis, No. 325411. Ready for light service. Excellent conformation, well marked, black predominating. He is also by Judge Segis. His dam, a beautiful heifer, has 29.5 lb. junior three year old record, is now on long time test and will go over the top with a good record.

No. 4, Highland Grove Beauty Van Holstein, a. 323045. A grand show bull, one year old, first at Tillamook County fair, 2nd at State fair, second at Pacific International stock show. Headed by my best sire, who carries 87 1/2 per cent of the blood of two grand sires of the breed, Friend Empressville De Kal Butter Boy and Pringle Sargie Kermelke. These famous bulls have 16 1/2 lb. daughters and nine better than 1,000 lb. daughters. The dam, a beautiful individual, in poor condition, made 170 lbs. of butter fat in ten months. She will naturally increase this record.

These bulls will be priced to sell and terms will be given if desired. They are home grown and should never leave Tillamook County. The bulls and their dams are in my stables at Highland Grove Farm and can be inspected there. You need take no chance, now or in the future, as my guarantee goes with the cattle and I am here to make good.
