VETERAN'S LOANS DUE IN 4 MONTHS

Probabilities Are That Ex-Servicemen's Aid Will Be Ready By November

COMMISSION HAS NOW BEEN APPOINTED

Money Must Be Used For Homes Only

SALEM, June 20.—Estimates have it that money, either in cash bonus or loans, will be available for Oregon men and women who are veterans of the world war in about four months. Because of the necessary organization and the assembling of the needed machinery it probably will be impossible for any money to go into the hands of the qualified persons in less than that time.

To save time, which doubtless was accomplished, Governor O'cott named the two appointive members of the commission created by the act as follows: Dean Straub of the U. of O. delivered a very interesting address and Mrs. Jack Wells sang a solo.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Christensen returned to Neah where they will run the grocery store there belonging to Mr. Anderson.

School closed Friday, June 17th. Frank Ross who has been going to the O. A. C. this winter returned home last week.

Miss Holmes, principal of the Wheeler high school left for Woodland, Michigan, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Maddox, Miss Mortenson, Miss Daniel and Dorothy Jensen motored to Portland Sunday.

Mrs. Jack Wells spent the week and in Wheeler.

Margaret Wells left for her home in Portland Sunday.

Miss Damon left for her home in Vancouver Saturday.

Joe LeGault was in Rockaway Saturday.

R. H. Cady made a business trip to Portland the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Daniel have returned from Eugene where they attended the state grange meeting.

Coleman Wheeler was in Wheeler again the last of the week.

Miss Alice Daniel is reported quite sick.

Mrs. Mable Wann left for Portland Thursday. She is not expected home until Monday or Tuesday.

Ed Patchell who has been in Valdez, New Mexico is at Camp 4 now.

A. W. Vosburg left Saturday for the East. He expects to be gone some time.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. McKibbons June 8th.

The Chautauqua was a success although not aprionized as much as last year.

Miss Edna Taylor left Wednesday to attend the Olive Festival.

Mr. and Mrs. Day have moved to Salem.

Chas. O'Brien has left for Eureka California.

Harry Johnson was in Vancouver looking for some good farm land. He returned Thursday.

Rev. H. E. Tucker of Tillamook preached the baccalaureate sermon in the M. E. church June 12th for the Senior class of the Wheeler HI school.

Several people from Wheeler motored to Cannon beach Sunday. They reported that the orads were in fairly good condition.

LOCAL PIONEER DIES SUNDAY

The death of William D. Stillwell here Sunday evening deprived Tillamook of one of its most useful pioneer citizens as the deceased has been prominently identified with the industrial and agricultural activities of Tillamook since coming here in 1870.

William D. Stillwell was born November 16, 1824 in Logan county, Ohio, and came to Oregon with his parents in 1844, subsequently arriving in Tillamook county where he developed one of the largest farms in this part of the country part of which was later subdivided into Stillwell's addition to Tillamook City.

Prior to coming to Tillamook Mr. Stillwell enlisted in the First Oregon Regiment, serving under Captain Philip Thompson and Col. Gilliam for six months during which service he was wounded in the hip by a hostile Indian arrow, the head of which he carried to the time of his death. Two days after the wound Mr. Stillwell took part in the battle of Stag Hollow and was later in the battle of Wells Spring. After his discharge in June 1848 he enlisted in the Ankeny Recruiting Battalion and took part in the Yakima Indian war. At one time he made the trip by horseback from Camp Cornelius to The Dalles for ammunition, two hundred and twenty-five miles, in the short space of forty-eight hours.

Mr. Stillwell is survived by five sons, Thomas G., Levi L., Minnie V., Arthur J., and Wilbur J., and one daughter, Mrs. W. H. Eberman. He served Tillamook county different times as sheriff, county assessor, county superintendent of schools and one term as representative in the state legislature.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon and was participated in by members of the W. M. C. A. R., Spanish American war veterans and American Legion.

GUERNESEY MEN HOLD BIG MEET

Clatsop County Herds Subject of Three Day Visit

HIGH PRICED CATTLE OWNED IN STATE

Caravan Will Invaade Washington

A three day schedule of varied entertainment and educational events, designed to keep the participants busy every minute, has been announced by the committee in charge of the "Guernsey Galeties" which will begin at Portland and continue at Astoria next week, under the auspices of the Oregon Guernsey Breeders association.

Guernsey breeders from all over the Northwest will assemble at Portland next Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, and join the automobile caravan which will leave the Hotel Imperial at 9:30 a. m. on Wednesday, June 22, for Astoria.

The caravan will be led by General Manager O. M. Plummer of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition and President John T. Whalley of the Oregon Guernsey breeders association. En route to Astoria the Guernsey herd of R. B. Magruder of Clatskanie will be inspected and will arrive in time for an elaborate salmon bake at which the Astoria Chamber of Commerce will be hosts.

Among the outstanding individuals in the Magruder herd in which the breeders will view, will be eight head of imported Guernseys which Magruder bought at the recent Peer sale at a cost of $4,370. The exceptionally good Guernsey herd of T. Graham of Marshfield will also be visited en route, and in Clatsop county thirteen Guernsey herds owned by the members of the purebred bull association of that county will be viewed.

The second day of the Galeties will be spent in Clatsop county, beginning at the John Jacob Astor Experiment Station, where A. E. Engbertson, who is secretary of both the Clatsop county and Oregon State Guernsey Breeders' associations, is in charge. The Experiment station herd of pure-breds is among the finest on the coast. Other herds to be visited will be those of Will O. Reith, who has a herd of 23 pure bred, and L. Wilson who also has an excellent herd of Guernseys.

The caravan will next visit the farms of K. F. Johnson, J. F. Sale, Ernest Anderson and the Gustafson Bros., all of whom have aided in building up Clatsop county's notable reputation as one of the foremost Guernsey sections of the West.

Noon luncheon on Thursday will be served at the farm of Mark Johnson on the Lewis & Clark river, and in the afternoon stops will be made at the farms of Pearl Cole, Victor Harwood, Wm. Larson and Mike Seppa, and the Lewis & Clarke cheese factory will also be visited and its products made entirely of Guernsey milk, will be sampled.

The caravan will then drive to Columbia Beach and down the west sands of the shore to Seaside, view-

TILLAMOOK COWS SHOW HIGH TEST

Three thousand one hundred and forty-four cows were tested during May in the six Oregon cow testing associations. The average yield was 386.6 pounds and of butter aft 39.47 pounds. This is the highest average yet reached in any month since association work started. In the state says E. B. Fitts of O. A. C. Extension service, who is in charge of the work.

Reports from the testers show that 14 inferior cows were weeded out of the herds during the month and that one pure bred bull was purchased.

The Tillamook association leads all others in the state for the month with an average yield of 1143 lbs of milk and 47.84 pounds of butter fat from the 1073 cows tested. The Smith-Umpqua association won second place with an average of 41.08 pounds of butter fat.

The highest yield made by an individual cow was 100.53 pounds of butter fat made by "Nina", a Jersey owned by Carl Posetti of Tillamook and the highest average yield from an entire herd was 66.51 pounds of butter fat from the 11 Jersey cows owned by Paul Fitzpatrick, also of Tillamook.

Association members are adopting better methods of feeding and handling their cattle. Many are feeding grain for the first time to cows on pasture. Some barns are being remodeled and several members report that milk coolers and other improved equipment have been installed.

ing enroute the herds of David Tagg, Robert Pool and Fred Hurlburt. A clam bake and a dip in the surf will complete the day.

The third day Friday will include a trip across the Columbia from Astoria to Pacific county, Washington, where the herd of A. L. Gile of Chinook and that of H. S. McGowan will be visited, the breeders being entertained at lunch by A. L. Gile. Gile purchased eight animals at the Peer sale, paying $4,445 for the lot, and has one of the largest and finest herds in the West.

It is estimated that about 200 Guernsey breeders and their families will participate in the Guernsey Galeties tour, many of them taking along their camping equipment.

Nolan Kelley of Sheridan, and his father of McMinnville, were in Tillamook one day this week on their way back from Netarts and visited some old friends.
