STOCK JUDGES LAUD TILLAMOOK FAIR

OUTSIDE PEOPLE SEEM WELL PLEASED WITH LIVESTOCK EXHIBIT AT FAIR

TILLAMOOK SAID TO HAVE FINE SHOWING

Local Cattle Rate High Among Those Of Northwest

John L. Smith of Spokane, himself a Holstein breeder for 35 years and one of the leading stock judges of the Northwest, and who assisted in judging the stock show at this session of the Tillamook County Fair, stated to a Headlight Reporter Thursday that the present fair was the best in the matter of stock exhibits that he has attended this year, and was positive that our show had the Spokane stock show badly beaten, both in the quality of the stock exhibited and in the number of stock shown. He declared that he did not think our stock show could be beaten on the Pacific coast by any county in Tillamook has the best Guernsey cow he had seen, and also three of the best Holsteins. He also said that Ira G. Lance's Guernsey bull was good enough to be taken anywhere and that he gave it the state champion ribbon at the State Fair last year.

E. G. Woodward of the State Agricultural college of Washington state, who judged Jerseys at the present fair, said:

"For pure-bred stock shown, your fair cannot be excelled speaking for breeds, and particularly for the Jerseys of which I am a judge. Tillamook county should continue active to develop her dairy industry along the line of official tests for breeds. Your exhibit along all these lines is the best I have seen. It cannot be beaten."

Speaking of the live-stock exhibit at this fair, W. A. Linklater, superintendent of the Western Washington experiment station, and a well-known judge of Guernseys on this coast, expressed himself as being highly pleased with the fair, and said his stock exhibit would rank with the very best exhibits in the Northwest. Two or three herds of Jerseys in this county are developing at a wonderful rate. Some of the younger Guernseys shown would credit to the state fair.

1300 IN TWO DAYS

The gate receipts at the Fair on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week totaled $1300. Considering that Tuesday was the first day, the receipts were regarded as very good. Wednesday and Friday will be the big days which will bring the largest crowds, and the management looks for a substantial revenue. There are no concessions than ever before, which will add materially to the income of the fair.

Many persons who are detained by work during the day, visit the fair at night. The night crowds have been thus far. Many people are attending from all over the county and some of the valley towns as well.

Frank B. Irwin, the piano man, returned to the Shearer-Merrick hospital a few days following an operation.

Mrs. George Bohel, recently returned by auto from Canada and is visiting at the home of A. G. of this city.

Mrs. Geo. Bodyfelt of Hebe is in town the latter part of the week.

Mrs. S. A. Moulton spent the week end at Beaver visiting

HOOVER LIKES OUR CHEESE

Secretary of Commerce Hoover by this time probably has sampled a longhorn Tillamook cheese sent him a short time ago by A. C. Everson of this city, who met the Secretary at a Chicago convention last July. The cheese won Secretary Hoover was a fine one and was the fulfillment of a promise to the former by Mr. Everson at the convention.

Mr. Everson received a letter this week from the Secretary expressing his thanks for the present of Tillamook famous product.

NEW BUILDING NOW OCCUPIED

Well Finished Store Building Now In Use

Morris Schnal, for 12 years a clothing merchant at Tillamook, claims credit for having the best store building in the city. The lower story and basement will be used for store purposes and is complete and occupied; and the upper story is being finished for housekeeping rooms, and will be occupied by himself and family.

The building is 25x71 1-2 feet, and contains basement with pipeless furnace which heats the whole building. The front of the building is of marble and granite. At the sidewalk entrance the threshold is of marble and bears the name "Schnal." The roof is of ground rock and asbestos and is fire proof. The clothing shelves are all enclosed with sliding glass doors, and the interior of the store is finished with fine Oregon fir.

A hall leads up stairs to the living rooms. The front rooms are fitted with plate glass windows looking out upon 2nd avenue. Each room is lighted by a skylight, and the kitchen has built in conveniences. There are six rooms in the living apartments which include three bedrooms, kitchen, bath, etc., with a large back porch in the rear, and the whole is modern in all respects. The lot and building, Mr. Schnal states have cost him $20,000 and both store and house are said to be the best in Tillamook, and probably will lead the way for other modern buildings in the city of like character.

Contractor Frank Heyde has had charge of the construction on the Schnal building and has built an edifice that is a credit to the city.

Henry Nelson versus Ida Nelson is the title of a suit filed in Circuit Court last week. The complaint states that the defendant was cruel and inhuman in her treatment of him, and asks that the matrimonial bonds be severed. Nelson is a resident of this county. The Nelsons were married in Albany in 1906, and the defendant is 10 years the senior of the plaintiff. The case will come up at the next session of Circuit Court.

J. P. Maginnis has sold his Tillamook Transfer Co. to Mr. C. H. Burson, recently from Medford, Ore. Mr. Burson formerly was in the transfer business in Southern Oregon, where he also has farm interests. Mr. Maginnis will engage here in the insurance business with H. L. Gilham, under the name of Maginnis & Gilham. The new firm will deal in general insurance.

EVERYONE SEEMS WELL SATISFIED WITH EIGHTH ANNUAL COUNTY FAIR

EDMUNDS JANIS OF SEQUOIA, A FIVE YEAR OLD GUERNSEY COW, WITH RECORD OF 455 POUNDS OF BUTTER FAT IN SIX MONTHS, IS POSSIBLE WORLD'S CHAMPION

STOCK EXHIBIT IS SAID TO HAVE BEST EVER SEEN IN TILLAMOOK COUNTY

School Childrens' Exhibits Hold Much Interest For Visitors At The County Exposition

Enough has developed thus far to justify the statement that the 12th annual fair will prove a success far beyond the expectations of the management. If there were no other features to add to its success, the magnificent showing of pure-bred cattle alone, would be enough to fill every loyal Tillamooker with local pride.

But other features have added to the show, which entitle it to be hailed as the very best fair ever held in this county.

While the Headlight cannot hope to give the events of the entire session, it must be satisfied to deal with the fair this week in a general way.

The leading exhibit is the stock show. The Jersey breeders exhibiting were forty in number, with 73 head of stock in the show stalls. In the Jersey class Louie Webber annexed the silver cup for the best exhibit of get of sire. His exhibit consisted of five head. Among them were some of the best Jerseys in the Northwest.

The Holstein exhibit consisted of 15 head, and F. R. Beals won the best get of sire cup for the second time in succession. Lady Aggie Ormsby of Rock has broken the world's record for three years past in the class of 3-year-olds, as a milk producer and made approximately 1100 pounds of butter from 30,000 pounds of milk. She has been the grand champion cow for three years and still holds the title, and is a magnificent specimen of her breed. China cum Wayne Monarch Cornucopia holds the state record also, in her class of mature milkers, and is a beauty.

H. R. Edmunds' Janis of Sequoia Guernsey, 5 year's old cow has just closed a six months record of 45 and 86-100 pounds of butter fat, and if she makes 400 pounds of butter during the next 6 months of her yearly test, she will be the world's champion producer. Mr. Linklater, who judged the cow this year, says she is the prettiest cow he ever saw. Mr. Linklater also stated that the Tillamook stock exhibit far exceeds that of the Spokane Stock Show on all points.

Mr. Edmunds also won the Guernsey (Concluded on page eight)

FIRE DEPARTMENT ANSWERS 2 CALLS

Dry Weather Keeps Firemen On The Defensive

Fire originating in a smokehouse on the property of A. D. Smith in Spinnymead brought the fire department into play the latter part of last week, but before the chemical could be turned on the smokehouse and a chickenhouse near it were consumed by the flames. Mrs. Smith had been visiting at one of the neighbors and the fire was not noticed until it had gained considerable headway.

Someone's carelessness in dumping hot ashes near a pile of old paper and other combustible refuse was said to have been the cause for an alarm sent in from the Gem apartments this week. The firemen were soon on the scene and the small blaze extinguished before any considerable damage was done. Fortunately, no show was being held in the building when the alarm was turned in. The theatre having been closed up while the free moving picture show is on at the fair ground this week.

Mrs. U. B. Willis began a term of school last week in school district number 57, just east of town. Arrangements will be made for herself and husband to live in the building during the school term, as they are unable to get a house in town or near the school.

Mrs. H. L. Demorest left for home at McMinnville last week after visiting in this city and at the beach. The Demorest family moved away from Tillamook a short time ago.

C. L. Munson of Portland who looks after the bureau of grade for the West Coast Lumber association spent several days in this city recently.

J. A. McDonald of Molier has gone to Independence to dry hops for Horst & Co. the big hop raisers at that place.

SHOWHEN TURNS INTO A ROOSTER

When one local poultry breeder pointed to his pen of three high-bred chickens to be judged by the expert Thursday, the latter remarked that he could not judge the trio represented. The owner wanted to know why. "Because," said the judge, "you have two roosters and only one hen, and the rules say you must have two hens and only one rooster." The owner investigated the trio hurriedly. "By gosh, Judge, you're right!" he exclaimed scratching his head. So he yanked out the superfluous rooster and added a meek looking pullet and the judging went merrily on.

MILL TO OPERATE DURING WINTER

Outlook In Lumber Industry That Better

There have been rumors afloat the past few days that the Coates sawmill would be operated all fall and winter. The news was verified at the mill office when A. F. Coates stated to a Headlight reporter that if the market continued to improve as he believed it would, that the mill probably would operate steadily. Mr. Coates said that the lumber market is improving and that the demand is better than for some time past. The Coates mill has a monthly payroll of more than $17,000 and this will be good news to the mill workers of the city.

The mill at Bay City it is believed will continue to operate this fall and winter, and the box factory at Twin Rocks is also running steadily. There is considerable conjecture regarding the big mill at Cove, but thus far there is nothing definite as to when it will begin work, although new bunk houses are being built at the logging camp, and there is some activity on the company's railroad line leading to its timber tracts.

G. U. McGuire and a Mr. Hadley of Woodburn are here to work in the Graves cannery for a month or two. Mr. McGuire's daughter is Mrs. I. W. White of this city.

Lee Whitcomb who recently underwent an operation at the Shearer-Merrick hospital has returned to his home in this city.

Mrs. Geo. Hanslemeier who was at the Shearer-Merrick hospital following a tonsil operation, has returned to her home.

NETARTS PROPERTY TO BE DEVELOPED

RECENT PURCHASE BY LOCAL MEN MAY RESULT IN LARGE IMPROVEMENT OF BEACH

PROMOTERS TO BUILD PLAY CENTER

Extensive Program Is Planned For Coming Winter

With the object of developing the tract at Netarts known as the Maxwell Place and of turning it into a first class beach resort, H. H. and J. H. Rosenberg have recently purchased the property and announce that they intend to start work on the project during the coming winter. In an interview recently H. H. Rosenberg stated that all preliminary steps had been completed and that work will start immediately.

"My brother and I recently purchased the Maxwell property," said Mr. Rosenberg, "and we intend building a good highway from Netarts proper to the Maxwell place, put in a modern hotel, natatorium, dancing pavilion, childrens' play ground and tourists camp ground just as soon as possible. We feel that the improvement has long been needed and that the people of Tillamook city especially will appreciate having an up-to-date beach resort within a few miles of their homes.

"A townsite is to be laid out on the tract and a business center built up, with stores, hotels, offices, garages and other such buildings besides a residence section for those who wish to have their homes there. We believe that Netarts is fast coming into its own.

"It is our intention to build a scenic road to the top of Maxwell mountain where a view can be obtained that rivals anything that can be seen along the Columbia River highway. The rocks at Maxwell Point will be tunneled so as to allow visitors to get at the caves in the lower rocks at any tide. We have, just opposite the proposed resort, one of the few places where sea lions can be seen from shore."

It is rumored that the consideration for the Maxwell property was $20,000.

RACES DRAW MANY

There is nothing that appeals more to the average man than a good horse race. Three interesting races were pulled off last Wednesday. The first was a free for all running race, best 2 in 3, 1-2 mile course. The race was taken by Joe Williams' Gray Eagle, time 31 seconds. Johnson won 2nd and 3rd places with Guldstrom's horse 4th. The second race was for 1-2 mile, best 2 in 3 Guldstrom's sorrel gelding took both heats, with the Glad horse 2nd and Williams' horse third.
