A public accounting and general bookkeeping office is being opened at 303 2nd Ave. East by John Mathers, who has been assisting in the cheese association offices. Mr. Mathers has had several years of chief accounting for the Booth-Kelly Lumber Co., and the Portland Lumber Co.

There is no truth in the report that Cape Meares light station was to be abandoned and a new light house built at Cape Lookout. The Chamber of Commerce received a letter from Congressman Hawley to that effect after making an investigation. The report, probably, grew out of the fact that the Bureau is looking for a site for a radio station, and Cape Lookout is under investigation.

H. H. Billany, fourth assistant postmaster general, has replied to the Chamber of Commerce's request for better mail service for Tillamook City. The Chamber suggested that a star route be established between this city and Portland, with the object of receiving the mail here in the morning instead of late in the afternoon, and the postoffice department failing to concur in this to change the schedule of the mail carriers on the Willamina and Cloverdale routes which would give this city two mails daily, with the exception of Sunday. Mr. Billany informs the Chamber of Commerce that owing to the increased expense and the railroad running between Portland and Tillamook, which was pointed out by the inspector, he could not consider the suggestion of a star route. In regard to a change in the schedules of the two mail carriers, he says: "However, I shall be pleased to take up the question of changing the schedule on star route No. 73423, Willamina to Cloverdale, with the postmasters concerned, to see what can be done to assure the citizens of that community the best possible service." The Chamber of Commerce asked Congressman Hawley to lay the matter before Mr. Billany personally.

The manager of the Indiana Masonic home overheard a group of small boys from the home discussing what they desired to be when they grew to be men. One insisted he would be a Mason, another a Shriner and another had ambitions to be a Noble of the Mystic Shrine, but five-year-old Jack, drum major in the home band, said: "No, I do not want to be any of those."
 "What," the others replied, "don't want to be a Shriner or Mason or Noble; why, what do you want to be?"
 He drew himself up and replied proudly, "Well, I'll tell you what. I want to be a popepate."—Indianapolis News.

Kipling's "Brevities."
 It is quite true, as Mrs. Gerould says, that Mr. Kipling's fame rests upon "significant brevities," but what she and critics of a similar complexion cannot see is that these "brevities" are "significant" in a sense diametrically opposed to her interpretation of the word. She means, of course, to be complimentary, to intimate that Mr. Kipling is brief from choice; whereas the exact reverse is the truth, and, far from being brief from choice, Mr. Kipling is brief from necessity. Mrs. Gerould would intimate that Mr. Kipling prefers the short story, whereas, in point of fact, Mr. Kipling's gifts restrict him to the short story.—F. A. Waterhouse, in the Yale Review.

Pioneer Log Building Restored.
 An old log building, near Chehalis, Wash., which housed one of the first federal courts ever held in the Pacific northwest, has been rehabilitated and presented to the state. The building, erected in 1845, housed Gen. Phil Sheridan and Gen. George B. McClellan when they were in the northwest before the Civil war and had to travel between Fort Vancouver, on the Columbia river, and Fort Steilacoon, on Puget sound.

Small Orphan Traveled Far.
 Her baggage consisting of two letters, dealing with her father's war record, three-year-old Winnifred Josephine McKinley passed through Port Arthur, Ontario, recently on the Canadian Pacific on the way to her uncle's home in Swift Current, Saskatchewan. From her faraway home in Glasgow, Scotland, to the Canadian West, more than 4,000 miles, the little orphan had only the kindly directions of train and steamship officials to guide her.
