Big Audience at Christian Church Hears Helen Clark and Joseph Phillips in Edison Tone Test

In a test of direct comparison, made Friday, October 14, at the Christian church, before a large audience, the New Edison scored a complete and convincing triumph.

Helen Clark, the famous contralto, sang in direct comparison with the Re-Creation of her voice by the New Edison. To every ear, there was no difference between her living voice and her Re-Created voice.

This is the most drastic phonograph test known. No other phonograph has ever sustained it. No other phonograph has even attempted it.

The New Edison's marvelous performance of Friday vindicates everything that has been said or claimed for its perfect realism.

Helen Clark stood on the stage next to a shapely Chippendale cabinet. She began to sing. Her golden notes soared over the auditorium, bringing all under its magic spell.

Halfway through her song she suddenly stopped singing. The New Edison, at her side, took up her song, —and continued it alone.

Singer and phonograph thus alternated, throughout the song.

The only way the audience could be sure which was singing, was by watching Miss Clark's lips—so exactly like the living voice was the Re-Created voice.

Joseph Phillips made the same test of comparison with the Re-Creations of his baritone selections. Again the same result—there was no difference between the Re-Created voice and the living voice.

Proof was piled upon proof! Evidence was massed on evidence! The end of the concert found the audience absolutely and completely convinced, through its own personal experience, that there is no difference between an artist's living performance and its Re-Creation by the New Edison,—that listening to the New Edison is, in literal truth, the same as listening to the living artists.

The Phonograph With a Soul

Only one question can still bother your mind. This question we now answer.

The instrument used in the Friday evening tests was not a special model. It was an Official Laboratory Model, taken from regular stock. Every Official Laboratory Model in our stock is guaranteed to sustain the same test of direct comparison with living artists.

You can have an Official Laboratory Model in your home. You can own an instrument which will do everything done Friday, Oct. 14, in the test. Come in. Hear the wonderful Official Laboratory Model for yourself. Learn about our Budget Plan, which puts our Official Laboratory Model into your home for no more than you would "pay down" for a talking machine.
