Henry Heisel Knocked Down and Dragged By Auto

Henry Heisel, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of this city was struck by an auto driven by a step-son of Henry Woods, after dark Tuesday night while walking on the pavement near the fair grounds. He was dragged by the fender of the machine for some distance, and was picked up unconscious and taken into a physicia who found no bones broken. Although still suffering from bruises, Mr. Heisel was able to come up to the bank, the next morning. Altogether, he had a narrow escape.

THE fact that our customers come back is proof that they appreciate our efforts to give satisfaction.

All monthly bills may be discounted 2 per cent if paid in full to date of payment.
