Children Need Food for Proper Growth

"The bones and muscles cannot be built without suitable materials. The food which does this best and cheapest is MILK. It not only builds, but it protects children from disease. Every child under six years should receive a quart of milk a day, those older the same when it can be afforded. No child can thrive on less than a pint of milk a day."

The above is an extract from Extension Bulletin No. 327 issued by the Oregon Agricultural College. Is your child developing properly?

Prospective Mothers

Proper care of mother when Baby comes is vital to her future health and baby's as well. Each has the right to the very best attention and scientific skill, something that is impossible at home.

Happy Babies
Healthy Mothers

But here, at this wonderfully equipped, modern fire-proof maternity home, every care is extended to mother. Graduate nurses, who know and love babies and are specially trained for maternity work, are in constant attendance here day and night. The nurses in charge are graduates from Chicago Lying In Hospital, conducted by Dr. Joseph B. De Lee, America's greatest authority on obstetrics.

Come a week or so before Baby is expected and board at the hospital. The cost is much less than if you remained home under a nurse's care—and worries are eliminated.

All information and pictures of the hospital will be mailed in a plain envelope on request.

SOCIAL EVENTS TAKE PLACE

Many Present At Social Tuesday Evening

The neighbors of Woodcraft, Alder Circle No. 44, with families and two hundred invited guests enjoyed one of their many pleasant social evenings in the Woodman Hall Tuesday of this week. The hall was crowded to capacity and the following participated in an interesting and entertaining program: Solo by John Carroll; solo by Majorie Wiley; recitation by Muriel Wiley; recitation by Clara Brooks; solo by Mrs. French; recitation by Mary Brooks; solo by Jane Harris; piano selection by Mary Lamar; solo by Mrs. S. Stellar. Mrs. Minnie Hiser, of Portland, Grand Advisor of the Neighbors of Woodcraft, gave a very interesting talk on the interest of the order. Following the program a delicious supper was served.

PLEASANT AFTERNOON AT HALTOM RESIDENCE

Mrs. E. T. Haltom entertained November 18 members and guests of the Swastiki Club. Rooms of the Haltom home were very prettily and appropriately decorated suggestive of the Thanksgiving season. Small Thanksgiving favors and place cards were used during the two course luncheon served at the close of a pleasant afternoon. Guests of Mrs. Haltom were Mesdames Wolfe, of Los Angeles, who is visiting Haltom residence, Sargeant, Robinson, Broadhead, Reichers and Lamb. Members in attendance were Mesdames Carl Haberland, J. A. Maginnis, Blain Hays, Gordon Burge, Erwin Harrison, A. A. Hall, E. E. Koch, David Kuratli and Wm. Mill. Mrs. Koch will receive the club at her home the fourth Friday in December.

Harlequin Club Meet

Mrs. Alfred Smith and Mrs. Floyd Ingram were pleasing hostesses to members and guests of the Harlequin Club Tuesday afternoon, November 15, at the home of Mrs. Smith who resides one mile north of Tillamook. Fancy work by the ladies occupied the afternoon at the close of which delectable refreshments were served. The rooms of the Smith home were very tastefully and artistically decorated with choice Marigolds. Guests present were Mrs. Ed. Heisel, Mrs. Garner, Mrs. Madison and Miss Madison. Members in attendance were Mesdames Lloyd Turnbull, Alva Williams, Skeels, Hoskins, George Winslow, Jas. Galley, Harry Johnson, Lloyd Edwards, Edwin Boquist and French, the latter a new member of the club.

Household Duties Discussed

Mrs. S. Armentrout, at her home on Eighth street, was a delightful hostess Friday, November 18, to the L. D. Club. Darning was a diversion of the afternoon together with the discussion of household duties. Refreshments in the form of a one course luncheon were served. Those present were Mesdames White, J. L. Steinbach, Stiles, Edward Harris, A. Hoag, Blain Hayes, Roy Hinkle, H. H. Rosenberg, E. L. Glaisyer, E. Anderson, H. C. Boone, Ostrander, Burt Leach, J. H. Rosenberg and Hausley. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Boone with Mrs. Glaisyer as assistant hostess.

Shakespeare Club Convenes

An interesting meeting of the Shakespeare club was held November 16 with Mrs. J. Groat. The reading of the Fourth Act of "Othello" was very much enjoyed by those present who were: Members, Mesdames Crenshaw, Clough Robinson, Lamb, Reichers, Schultz, Baker and Haltom and guests, Mesdames Hyde, McGrath and King. Mrs. Fred C. Baker will entertain the club the second Friday of December.

Pythian Sisters Hold Session

On Monday evening, November 21, members and guests of the Pythian Club were charmingly entertained at the home of Mrs. John Carroll, Mrs. Clarence Coe acting as assistant hostess. Fancy work was the diversion of the evening. At eleven thirty the husbands joined the ladies and a delectable luncheon was served. Following were the members present: Mesdames Lantz, M. Terry, Fred Berkey, M. Smith, Elizabeth Oathout and Christenson. Guests were Mesdames French, McCracken and Kennedy. The next meeting will be held the third Monday of December.

Novel House Party Enjoyed

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Edwards were hospitable hosts Sunday November 20, at their home on E. First Ave. Guests arrived in the morning for breakfast after which church was attended. The intentions of the party to adjourn to a cabin on the beach to spend the day were given up because of the storm and the day was enjoyed at the Edwards home where a delicious picnic dinner was participated in and the guests were royally entertained until a late hour. Present were Misses Marion Hanson and E. LeBar, Messrs. Fred Halstrom and E. J. Claussen and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nunn.

Kill Kare Klub Well Attended

Fifteen members attended the regular session of the Kill Kare Klub Thursday afternoon November 17 at the home of Mrs. Emmert Bales, Mrs. W. B. Alderman assisting as hostess. A usual business session was held during which Mesdames Lewis, Alderman and Smith were appointed as a committee to have charge of the sale of Christmas seal stamps. The hours following were taken up in amusements and the answering of study questions by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Lewis. Mrs. B. C. Lamb won the prize in a game arranged by the hostess. Guests were Mesdames Max Schultz, Kiehm, Hill, Clough, Hadley and B. C. Lamb. Mesdames Franklin and Gruber have been appointed to entertain at the next meeting to be held December 15.

Mrs. Hart to Entertain

Sixteen members of the Christian Ladies Aid Society met this week for an afternoon spent in trying comforts. December 8 Mrs. G. Hart will entertain the ladies for a social afternoon.

Card of Thanks

The undersigned desire to extend their sincere thanks for assistance and kindness shown during the last illness and at the funeral of the late Mary B. Harris; also for the floral gifts.—T. J. Harris and family.

HAVE YOU NOTICED THAT

The latest tweed sporting coats are showing a circular back akin to the cape of last season?

Long side panels on the new frocks are being edged with monkey fur?

Some of the new French hat boxes have tiny inside pockets where Sachet bags may be stored to keep milady's bonnets fragrant?

Hemstitched tucks form the only decorative note on some of the newest negligees?

The bulky, big-at-the-top, small-at-the-bottom fur wrap of last season now finds itself confronted with two weighty rivals, the cape and the coat, the cape without and the coat with sleeves?

Capes are being favored by the better dressed women and the more conservative select coats that are straight in line or perhaps flare a bit at the bottom?

Methodist Ladies to Hold Bazaar

On Wednesday of the past week members of the Methodist Ladies Aid assembled at the home of Mrs. George P. Winslow for a pleasant afternoon of sewing in preparation for a bazaar to be held the first Saturday in December. A candy and home made cooking sale will also be conducted at this time. At the close of the afternoon luncheon was served by six of the members of the Aid.

Pine City—Butler creek road to be improved for 12 miles, cost $35,000.

Eugene—Sale of over 1,000,000 feet standing fir in two tracts in Siuslaw national forest authorized.

True Trachoma Easily Transmitted.

At a recent meeting of the American Medical Association Dr. John McMillin, surgeon, U. S. Public Health Service, started a lively debate in the section on preventive medicine by reading a paper in which he asserted that much of the so-called trachoma which afflicted the eyes of American children is not trachoma and not contagious.

The original cause of this inflammation of the eyelids is unknown, but it is known with certainty that it is transmitted with ease from one eye to another. There is another type, called folliculitis, which is not contagious and can easily be cured, while the true trachoma necessitates a slight surgical operation and careful treatment; and, even with this, it is by no means certain that it is ever permanently cured.

Paderewski's Descent in Life.

Jo Davidson, the sculptor, who recently returned to the United States after many months in Europe, where many great men posed for him, relates the following passage between Clemenceau and Paderewski, which, Davidson says, occurred in his presence: "Clemenceau is a gruff old sort of fellow," Davidson relates. "He was receiving Ignace Paderewski, the great pianist?" he asked.

"Yes," replied the artist, bowing. "And you have just been elected premier of Poland?"

"Again Paderewski bowed and answered in the affirmative.

"Clemenceau looked at him a moment and then shook his head sadly, saying: 'My God, what a come down!'"

Preserving the Salmon.

Completion of an improved $40,000 salmon hatchery at Madison, Conn., for restocking eastern streams with the valuable food fish that disappeared from that region practically a century ago, is awakening renewed interest in the cause of that early depletion, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. The too common construction of dams without proper fish ladders, blocking the seasonal ascent of the salmon from the sea, explains the impending loss of this great natural resource, a condition often technically difficult of correction because many of the streams are not listed as navigable waters.

Pioneers' Prairie Bunk.

The necessity of finding a more convenient and comfortable place than the ground upon which to sleep produced the "prairie bunk." This so-called bedstead, now a piece of furniture of the past, was improvised by the pioneer in a unique manner. A forked stake was driven into the ground at a proper distance from the corner of the room and upon it poles, usually of hickory, were laid reaching from each wall. These poles, where they touched the walls, rested in the openings between the logs or were driven into auger holes. Upon these poles slats of clapboard were placed, or linden bark was interwoven from pole to pole. Sometimes an old-fashioned "sord bed" was made by using basswood bark for the cord. On this framework the housewife spread her straw tick or piled the luxurious mound of her homemade feather bed. Such a sleeping place was usually known as a "prairie bedstead," but sometimes it was called a "prairie rascal."—Mildred J. Sharp, in the Palimpsest.

Thermometers Grow Old.

Even thermometers become old, and consequently inaccurate with age, mercurial instruments reading too high and spirit instruments too low. In the former case the bulb appears to shrink, thus forcing the quicksilver too far up the stem. This gradual shrinkage is supposed to be due to the fact that the external pressure on the bulb may be considerably higher than the internal pressure, the air as far as possible having been removed before the glass is sealed.

On the other hand, the spirit thermometer is sealed with the bulb covered in a freezing mixture, in order to lock up in the glass as much air as possible. The instrument thus starts with the internal pressure which in time appears to be reduced either by expansion of the glass under the internal pressure or by leakage.

Beard and Mustache Defended.

Dr. Arjan Das, in the Indian Medical Journal, deprecates the fashion for cropped hair which is gaining in India. He says hair is an additional ornament for a rich woman, and often the only ornament of the poor. The shaving of mustache and the epilation of nasal hairs is bad, as they prevent the introduction of even minute particles of dust entering the nose. Worse still is the increasing practice of shaving the beard, as this protects the throat and hinders dental neuralgia. Shaving has become the fashion both with Hindus and Mohammedans, though a bearded man among the latter is shown more respect.
