THE DEADLY "B B"

The town boys are quite heavily armed nowadays with the deadly "BB" guns, and are after all kinds of game. One kid proudly related that he got a duck by shooting it in the face and blinding it, later using the butt of his gun to kill it. Another kid shot another boy on the hand, making a bad bruise, and two of the juveniles were observed joyously shooting "BB" shot at each other from opposite sides of the street. Should some kid get an eye put out by indiscriminate shooting with these guns, there will later on be need of some town legislation. In many towns the "BB" guns are prohibited, along with sling shots. It is all right for the kids to have amusements, but they should use the "BB" gun and the sling shot and other such instruments outside of the town, where there is no danger to the public. The great danger is the lack of judgment on the part of the kid. Parents should at least teach children to exercise caution in the use of such dangerous toys.

American Legion members are urged to pay poll taxes, register and make no attempt to dodge jury duty as part of the activities for 1922 in instructions prepared by Alvin M. Owsley, director of the Legion's Americanism commission. The Legion men are urged to make full use of the franchise and prevent miscarriages of justice under the jury trial system.

W. S. M. Says:
 "You know the bird that gets up and makes a speech, waves his arms, pounds the table and then don't say anything. Same way with battery guarantees. You can go up and down the street and collect all kinds of 'em but they don't mean anything! What you want is a battery that works. It's the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery."
