SOUTHERN PACIFIC HANDLES 'DURANT PROSPERITY SPECIAL'

Speeding from New York to the Pacific Coast is the largest shipment of one commodity ever taken across the continent. It consists of 509 automobiles shipped in a single trainload of 100 steel eight cars from the Durant Motor Co. of New York to Earl C. Anthony Inc. of Los Angeles, Calif. Attention to this unusual shipment was called today by Ray Grate of the Southern Pacific Company, over which the auto train is being routed.

In addition to being a record transcontinental shipment, this "Durant Prosperity Special" is the largest single delivery of automobiles ever made to a retail dealer. The train is routed through Chicago Council Bluffs, Ogden and Roseville, Calif.

The train is nearly a mile long and the Durant Motor Co. places a value of $335,550 on the shipment. This is the fourth big trainload from the Durant plant at New York in a month via the Southern Pacific, in addition to daily smaller shipments that have absorbed the plant's production of 75 cars a day.

The New York plant was the first of five big factories in the Durant Group, organized less than a year ago to get into quantity production. Plants at Lansing, Mich., and Muncie, Ind., went into production in December.

Part of the shipment will go to Oakland and the rest to Los Angeles.

SCHOOL NOTES

SHERIFF GROWS HEAVY BEARD WHILE CONFINED BY ILLNESS

Sheriff John Ascham, who has been confined to his residence for two weeks past, appeared in his office Monday morning supporting a heavy black beard. The office gave him a casual glance and then took a hearty laugh all around. John took the chaffing good naturedly, but soon interviewed the barber. When told that whiskers and moustaches had come in style since he was isolated from the world with chicken-pox, John still insisted that his growth be taken off, which was accordingly done.

SWERVES CAR TO AVOID CHILD COLLIDES WITH CITY HYDRANT

Tuesday afternoon, as Dr. J. E. Shearer was going down First street in his auto, a little three year old daughter of E. M. Martins, who had wandered out in the street to see the big world, appeared, slowly crossing; then, becoming frightened, suddenly turned within 30 feet of the machine and started back. In order to save the child, the Dr. took to the sidewalk, colliding with and badly twisting a water hydrant, smashing the radiator and peeling the tire of one of the back wheels on the edge of the pavement. The Dr. was not injured, in fact the only damage was to the radiator, the wheel of the car and the hydrant. Altogether, it was a close call. The child was somewhat frightened by the commotion but the big world—full of trees and strange sights to the infantile mind—was unaffected by the happening.

It was a case of getting "pocketed" with two cars behind him and one ahead, all about to pass each other. While his machine was thrown with considerable force, Fletcher escaped with a few minor bruises. The Cadillac was not injured.

There are about 828 boxes triplets left in storage in Los Angeles, total storages of all kinds about 1,500 boxes. November cheese is being cleaned out rapidly and checks will be out about the 24th of January. Other cheese prices are very low. Butter today is bringing 31c Portland in cubes and butterfat in Portland being 31c today. Tillamook prices for butterfat are practically twice as high as Portland prices.

HASTE IS WASTE IN TROPICS

Northerners There on Business Must Leave All Preconceived Standards at Home.

Who enters the tropics should leave all haste behind. We have a superior way of talking of the land of "manana," quite overlooking the fact that the physiological law of the land is expressed in the "manana" attitude. With the cumulative energy of generations of temperate-zone-born ancestors in our veins, we may maintain our standards of push and speed in the tropics for a time, but that is no reason why we should expect people who have been reared under less favorable climatic conditions to live up to them.

Indeed, it is highly advisable to leave all of our preconceived standards at home. Latin Americans have been long subjected to climatic and other influences which have of necessity profoundly affected them both bodily and mentally. We must remember also that, racially, we are as far apart as were the Conquistadores from the Pilgrim fathers.

Let us therefore accept as a fact that our habits of thought are fundamentally different and give to history, tradition, environment, and heredity their share of praise and of blame for existing conditions.—National Geographic Magazine.

OLD BRITISH ROYAL JEWELS

Only a few of the early British royal jewels survive in the present regalia. The oldest of these is the sapphire of Edward the Confessor, which was originally set in his coronation ring.

It was buried with him in his shrine in Westminster abbey, but in 1101 the shrine was broken open and this and other jewels received.

The sapphire is in the cross on the top of the king's state crown. Legend has it that St. John once appeared before the Confessor as a pilgrim, and that the monarch gave him the ring, which was returned later. The stone is reputed to have the power of curing sciatica and rheumatism, but has not been so used recently.

The Black Prince's ruby, as big as a hen's egg, came into British possession in 1367, having been taken by Don Pedro of Castile from the Moorish king of Granada, whom he slew in battle. The Black Prince wore it. Henry V displayed it in his helmet at Agincourt. Richard III, hunchback, wore it at Bosworth field. Today this magnificent gem occupies the place of honor in the front of King George's crown.

Some wonderful pearls in the regalia are said to date from Elizabeth's time, though such age for a pearl is doubted. London Answers.

With local anesthesia growing in importance for use in major operations of all kinds, phonograph music is taking its place as an important accessory to surgical work, is the view of Dr. Robert E. Farr of Minneapolis. Doctor Farr corrected a statement from Milwaukee, where he recently spoke at a medical convention, in which he was quoted as saying music is a part substitute for anesthesia.

"What I said was that, where major operations are performed with the aid of a local anesthetic rather than by the older method of etherizing, the patient remains conscious and alert, and gently played phonograph music has a decided value, both in calming the patient and in supplying pleasurable sounds as an offset to the realization that he is being operated on," Doctor Farr said.

Ancient Form of Adornment

Tattooing, that very apparent means of proclaiming one's love for the briny deep, is an ancient form of adornment, and in ancient times most honorable. The Polynesians are known to have been adepts in the art, and from that time to this there have always been people who have been attracted to this form of beauty. These decorations have taken all sorts of forms, from the plain black and white work to that in the most variegated colorings, to say nothing of the method of "gash" tattooing, which consists of cutting deep gashes in the desired design, filling them with clay and then letting them remain as a sort of cameo on the flesh.—Detroit News.
