THE LAST CALL

Marsh Burdick has answered his last alarm. After nearly two years faithful service for the city as one of her fire department, he has been stricken down by an insidious disease, and fell as much in the line of duty as though he had died fighting flames. Those who were in intimate touch with him always had the highest regard for his work and sense of duty, a somewhat rare thing in this world.

When the city council decided in 1920 to create a paid fire department, Marsh Burdick was one of those chosen for the position. From that time to the day before his death he was constantly on the ground, answering calls and tending the station, always with the highest regard for his work. As assistant fire marshal he has been instrumental in preventing many conditions that might have caused much property loss to the taxpayers of this city.

Truly the citizens of Tillamook city have lost one of their best friends with the passing of Marsh Burdick.

We do not know just what business connections Mr. Varnum has in the city, but it has been rumored that he is to be a local representative of one of the oil companies.

1917 and was Paresident of that institution until 1921.

Outside of his business activities in Marshfield, he soon became one of the prominent citizens of that district. He was one of the original promoters of the State Highway program. He was elected Senator from the Eighth Senatorial District, comprising Coos and Curry counties in 1920.

Senator Hall soon became one of the leaders in state-wide politics as a fearless exponent of the highway program. As a Legislator he played a prominent part in all important legislation during both sessions in 1921. He risked censure from the exponents of the 1925 Exposition Bill when he refused to listen to any proposed inroads into the road funds for the purpose of financing the Fair. Hall's undeviating course in this latter action brought forth the highest praise from all parts of the State.

Since his debut into state-wide politics, the leadership in various non-political movements has gravitated naturally to him. He is a member of the Oregon Land Settlement Commission and served for three years as President of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce and is now director of that organization.

Friends of Senator Hall proclaim him as a natural leader, and point with pride to his record of achievements in public and private life. Others concede that his judgment is sound and admit that no outside pressure or log-rolling can swerve him from any program or movement to which he has dedicated himself.

Mr. Hall was married in 1906 in Portland to Ann English. They have three children, two boys thirteen and seven, one girl nine.

Senator Charles Hall of Coos County has announced that he will be a candidate for nomination for Governor of this state in the following despatch sent to the newspapers of the state:

Marshfield, Feb. 16

"I am a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of Oregon. I shall submit to the voters within ten days a summary of the principles on which my candidacy is based.—Charles Hall."

This step by Mr. Hall, clears the political atmosphere to a great extent as other candidates, who would probably have entered the race will now remain out of the contest. Those thus affected are said to be Senator I. L. Patterson, of Polk County, Charles E. Gates, of Medford, and George H. Kelly of Portland.

Hall's candidacy has been endorsed by the Patriotic Federated Societies at Portland a few days ago. This endorsement came unsolicited and prior to the time when Mr. Hall decided to become a candidate. "I am naturally glad to receive such an endorsement as this, but as yet I am not ready to announce that I will run for governor," said Senator Hall at the Benson hotel before he left for his home in the Coos bay city.

"This offer when officially made," went on Senator Hall, "will of course cause me to give serious consideration to the idea of running for governor. I have in truth never seriously considered it, but have been content to let my friends keep talking in my behalf."

Mr. Hall has been busy the last few days arranging details regarding his campaign for the republican nomination for governor. He was in Portland last Saturday and Sunday. Monday he was in Roseburg where he was guest of honor of the business mens' association. Tuesday he was back in Portland, and Wednesday noon he addressed the Rotary Club at Salem.
