A good example of judicious co-operation.

Two Tillamook lawyers (it won't do to tell their names) are joshing each other and being joshed quite a bit by their friends over an incident that occurred recently when one of them was asked to sit as a special judge in a "bootlegging" case. The one who was temporarily wearing the judicial ermine was in doubt as to what penalty to fix in the case. He called up his fellow barrister and said, "Say, John, I've got a bootlegger here and don't know what to give him". "Well, about $10 a quart, and say, can you get a couple for me?"

Hon. Will H. Hays

EX-CHAIRMAN, REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE

RALPH E. WILLIAMS
Vice-Chairman
Republican National Committee

VOTE X 13

EDITORIAL from the MORNING OREGONIAN

MR. WILLIAMS FOR COMMITTEEMAN.

Will H. Hays, who recently retired as chairman of the republican national committee, pays tribute in a telegram to the service performed to the republican party by the committeeman for Oregon, Ralph E. Williams. Mr. Hays should know. His testimony may be accepted as something more than a mere polite and formal expression of approval, to be expected from one member of the organization for another; for it is supported by the entire committee, which, not many months ago, by unanimous vote of the representatives for forty-eight states, elected Mr. Williams vice-chairman. He is the oldest member in point of service, and it is obvious—it is not denied by anyone that this standing with the heads of the republican party is very high.

The national committeemanship is a party job. It pays nothing in

Ralph E. Williams,
Republican National Committeeman,
Portland, Oregon.

Mutual friends have told me that you are a candidate for re-election as Republican National Committeeman this year, and I am constrained to send just this word of appreciation for your splendid service on the committee all the time that I was chairman. Your election as vice-chairman of the national committee was the fullest possible evidence of the committee's gratitude to you and their confidence in your great future usefulness to the committee and to the party. In this I join most heartily. Kindest regards and best wishes always.
WILL H. HAYS.
