Regulation of the character and weight of highway traffic to prevent undue injury to the highway is an administrative matter...

Even in a single state conditions vary to such an extent that a load which may be carried on the road without injury may cause untold damage to another.

The seasonal variation alone in the carrying capacity of the roadbeds, due to moisture conditions, is one of the most serious of all the causes of road damage.

HIGH TAXES

The universal cry is against high taxes. The cry should not be against high taxes, but against the corrupt use of taxes.

The continued excessive tax burdens can be traced to certain abuses.

First: Extravagance, complicated governments. The office seekers, the office holders, and tax eaters have multiplied government machinery to perpetuate themselves in office.

To-day, you have about sixty cents of every dollar of tax money invested in government, and the other forty cents is represented by waste, fraud, inefficiency and graft.

The bureaucracy of this country is a curse to good government and a criminal expense on the tax-ridden public. Simplify governmental machinery and put competent, trained, patriotic men in office and taxes will be reduced 30 per cent within a short time.

Second: destroy the spoils system. Elect or appoint men to office solely on the ground of merit. Then you will get an honest day's work for true love of country and a just consideration of the trust imposed.

Third: Teach the people they must support the government and not expect support.

APPLE JACK PHILOSOPHY

It ain't no use to sit around an' twiddle with yer thumbs. There's got to be some presure, if the sweetest cider comes. . . . It ain't no use to speckalate the golden days away, when the medders is awaitin' fer attention to the hay. . . .

A little bit of squeezin' helps the mortal sole a lot, when the world around is callin' fer the best it's got. —The life of ease is pleasant, but the sober thinker knows that we get the finest cider when it's squeeze! . . . So it's hardly right to grumble when your circumstances press, for the drippin' nectar tells us what the apple wuz, I guess—And I'd rather be a pippin that can stand the hearty squeeze, than to be a wormy seedlin' that dries up on the trees!

HONEY PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

Better forget this old home stuff and step into line with a smile, because the wagon'll run over you if you stand in the way. Flappers? of course they are nicer'n ever. If you don't think so, then stop lokin' at 'em. Flyin' machines? why certainly they beat the one hoss shay, and they're a mite faster at that? Don't the wireless beat the letter, an' the movie the stereopticon? Why certainly. If you're a grouch, smile just the same, because all of these new fangled things will be out of date an' somethin' better come along soon.

Wrestling with the co-operation bug is all right, but if we don't look out, he'll have us gaspin' on the mat. It's all very well for a fellow to work just a little harder than the other fellow, but if the other fellow does the same, where's the advantage? Same with the early worm business. If the bird gets up earlier than the worm then it's all off with Mr. Worm. We can cut down cost by co-operation, but if we cut down cost to lower profit an' get less, where do we get off? There's lots of schemes that work out well for a fellow as long as the other fellow sleeps. Before co-operation will work out properly, we'll have to co-operate with the best that's in ourselves, or we'll go up the flue.
