Word was received here last week from Adjutant-General Geo. A. White that he and a regular army officer would be in Tillamook Tuesday to swear the company in. The organization will be formed at the high school gymnasium, which has been secured as a temporary armory. A sufficient number had signed up for the company some time ago but volunteers continue to pour in and from appearances Company K will be a tip-top organization.

Those who have already signed up the necessary papers are Clarence A. Anderson, John Aschim, James C. Beatty, William H. Campbell, Arthur D. Case, Glen R. Conover, Ralph R. Edwards, Joe Emmenegger, Frank Eplet, Elwell D. Erskine, Warren P. Poland, Raymond T. Ford, Alfred E. Gabriel, Clarence J. Gabriel, Frank M. Gooch, J. Gerald Graves, William Gupton, Olaf A. There are some few who have not yet taken their physical examination and it will be necessary to complete this before the unit is formed. Dr. J. E. Shearer is making the examinations.

NONRESIDENTS MUST PAY MORE

Students whose homes are outside the state of Oregon will hereafter have to pay a higher fee for education obtained in either the University of Oregon or the Oregon Agricultural College, as a result of action taken at a meeting of a joint committee of the board of regents.

The existing rate of $60 a year for non-residents has been raised to $105, the same amount as is now charged in both the University of Washington and the University of California. The only exception to this are the students who have matriculated in the University under the old rate, who will continue at the rate throughout their college courses; graduate students, who will pay no extra fee, since it is the policy of all institutions of higher education to encourage exchange of advanced students; and ex-service men, who will be held for only half of the new fee.

It was the aim of the committee, as explained after the meeting at which the change was decided upon, to put the fees where they would not be prohibitive and at the same time would prevent such an overflow of non-resident students as would tax the facilities and resources of the institutions.

The county court returned from Portland yesterday where they met with the state highway commission regarding some of the road problems Tillamook.

The court received the promise of a commission that the bids for some of the road work between Mohler and the Clatsop county line would be called for next month. $6,000 had been appropriated for this work but it was found insufficient and it will require about $30,000 more to put the road in good shape.

The present weather has been excellent for road work, report road officials. Much has been accomplished within the past two months.

TILLAMOOK LEADS WORLD

The following will show the strides Tillamook has made in improving the quality of its cheese and enhancing its reputation. This is taken from a letter received by Carl Haberlach, dated Nov. 20th, 1911, the last paragraph reading as follows:

"As to the differential of 1/2 cent with all due consideration for the quality of Tillamook cheese, it is a fact that almost all Northwestern consumers are willing to pay 1 cent to 1 1/2 cents more per pound for first class quality Wisconsin cheese than for Tillamook. One reason, we assume, is that the Eastern product is always uniform in quality, which as you know, cannot be said of the Tillamook make."

Today it is altogether different. Improvement of quality, strong advertising campaign, and a first class selling organization, have brought Tillamook cheese to the head of its class, by which it is possible to secure at all times several cents above any other like cheese made anywhere. The primary market at Tillamook today is 26c for triplets, 27 cents for Longhorns, against the Wisconsin primary market of 17 cents on Twins and 18 cents on Longhorns. Ten years ago there was considerable opposition to inspection of cheese and general improvement of milk, today every dairyman knows it pays to produce the best milk.

FIRE PERMITS ARE NECESSARY

Due to forest fire situation in Oregon, Acting District Forester E. N. Kavanagh has issued instructions to all federal forest officers in the state to require permits for camp fires on National Forest lands. To be effective immediately, it is the first time that such a rule has been put into effect in Oregon.

"The forests are very dry, many fires are starting and the extreme necessity of care with fire in the woods was never so important, and the public is urgently asked to realize this danger to Oregon's most valuable resource", says Mr. Kavanagh.

Permits are being required for building camp fires on National Forest lands in the states of Washington and California in the extremely dry conditions of forest lands in Oregon make the permit system absolutely necessary, forest officers say. The instructions provide that suitable signs shall be placed at entrances to the National Forests regarding the necessity of camp fire permits, as well as at ranger stations and summer resorts, and the widest publicity is being given to the new rule. Season permits will be issued only to regular users of the forests such as men in charge of livestock and going operations on the National Forests.

At specially prepared forest camp grounds where there is a forest officer in charge, as at Eagle Creek, no permit will be required, the instructions state.

U S POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT MAMMOTH BUSINESS CONCERN

Advertisements for bids for a year's supplies for the huge postal industry have just been given out by the Postoffice department.

During the next year the Postoffice department estimates it will use approximately 300 tons of stationery and typewriting paper alone. More than 3,500,000 carbon papers totaling 347 square miles will be ordered. For card index requirements the modest number of 8,622,000 cards will be needed.

To write on all this vast amount of stationary and to fill the bottles in postoffice lobbies from New York to San Francisco, 59,400 quarts of ink are required. Despite this ink reservoir the Department is placing orders for 243,000 rubber stamps. Other large orders are 46,800,000 tags, 90,000,000 wire clips and 15,500 pounds of rubber bands.
