TILLAMOOK GIRLS CHOSEN TO COMPETE IN CONTEST

Winners Get Trip to Chicago Where National Canning Exhibit Will Be Held

(By David H. Kennedy)

Two members of the Tillamook Canning Team, Pauline Glenger and Lucia Wiley, have been chosen to represent the state at the canning contest to be held in Portland at the Pacific International in November. This is a credit to the members of the Tillamook canning team because there will be a team from each of the Pacific States, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, California and Montana. The two winning teams in this contest will be sent to Chicago where they will compete against the winning teams of the other sections of the United States. The two winning teams at Chicago will be sent to France to demonstrate canning in that country.

Miss Helen Cowgill, Assistant State Club Leader, is in Tillamook for a week helping to train these girls for this contest. Everyone is hoping that these girls will be taken as first prize winners as they represent the club work in the state of Oregon as well as Tillamook.

Rules and Regulations for Contest

1. Each team shall consist of two members; both members must come from the same county, but not necessary from the same club.
2. Both the first and second winning teams at each sectional contest will be allowed to compete in the national contest at Chicago.

club organization with the necessary officers and duties. Each contestant must have been a successful member of a canning club at least one year previous to 1922.

In addition to the above the National Committee on Boys' and Girls' club work is endeavoring to raise an additional amount to cover the expenses of the party to several other countries in Europe, including Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Holland and Great Britain.

REASON FOR VOTE ON 1925 FAIR TAX NOW EXPLAINED

The reason the people of the state are to vote on the question of the 1925 exposition when no part of the state except Portland is to be taxed for the exposition is given in a statement just issued by the campaign committee.

"In order that Portland may legally tax itself for the 3,000,000 exposition is to cost the taxpayers, it is necessary to get the people to set aside for this occasion and purpose only, the recently enacted six per cent tax limitation," says the committee. "Unless specifically authorized by a majority of the legal voters voting upon the question, neither the state nor any municipality, district or body to which the power to levy a tax shall have been delegated, shall in any year so exercise that power as to raise a greater amount of revenue for purposes other than the payment of bonded indebtedness or interest thereon than the total amount levied by it in the year immediately preceding for purposes other than the payment of bonded indebtedness or interest thereon, plus six per centum thereof."

The six per cent limit applies in the proposal by Portland to finance the exposition and in order for the city to exceed that limit, which the $3,000,000 tax would do, the constitution must be amended and this cannot be done excepting at a state election and with the approval of the voters at large.

The Portland Gas & Coke Co. issues a monthly house organ entitled the Gasco Bulletin which is chock full of information about the gas industry and its wide use for domestic and industrial purposes. This company has 72,000 customers and is building up a real publicly owned utility through financing its development and extensions by selling its securities to customers and employees. This, coupled with the idea of service to the consuming public makes the strongest kind of an organization.

Rainier, lumber center, complains of a great lack of houses.

Plans for a $250,000 state children's farm home near Portland are under way.

CHURCH BUILT BY ONE MAN

It is said that the wonderful cathedrals of Europe were constructed by laymen and skilled workers of the church. L. D. Cornuelle, formerly a Cincinnati man, built this elaborate edifice single-handed, filling the role of architect, mason and carpenter. He worked from a pencil sketch and finished the work in a year and eight months. The church stands at Sierra Madre, California, and nestles in the foothills back of the little town.

"Thank You"

This acknowledgment of a courtesy or service is somehow the satisfactory end of a transaction. Both parties are pleased and the relations of the moment, however unimportant, are more happily closed.

There is no occasion when an effort made for the comfort or convenience of others is not worth a "thank you."

In the daily routine of telephone operations, where the saving of time is the great consideration, the opportunity of expressing an appreciation of a service rendered seldom arises.

But remember that the telephone operator is human. Courtesy to her means more cheerfulness in her work. It will be reflected in your own self-satisfaction.
