

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

"By the president of the United States of America:

"A Proclamation:

"In the beginning of our country the custom was established by the devout fathers of observing annually a day of Thanksgiving for the bounties and protection which Divine Providence had extended throughout the year. It has come to be perhaps the most characteristic of our national observances and as the season approaches for its annual recurrence, it is fitting formally to direct to this ancient institution of our people and to call upon them again to unite in its appropriate celebration.

"The Year which now approaches its end has been marked, in the experience of our nation, by a complexity of trials and triumphs, of difficulties and of achievements, which we must regard as our inevitable portion in such an epoch as that through which all mankind is moving. As we survey the experience of the passing twelve months we shall find that our estate presents very much to justify a nationwide and most sincere testimony of gratitude for the bounty which has been bestowed upon us. Though we have lived in the shadow of the hard consequences of great conflict, our country has been at peace in the world. We have seen the race of mankind make gratifying progress on the way to permanent peace, toward order and restored confidence in its high destiny.

"For the Divine guidance which has enabled a growing fraternity with other powers to attain so much in progress for the bounteous yield which has come to us from the resources of our soil and industry we owe our tribute of gratitude and with it our acknowledgement of the duty and obligation to our people and to the unfortunate, the suffering, the distracted of other lands. Let us in all humility acknowledge how great is our debt to the Providence which has generously dealt with us and give devoted assurance of unselfish purpose to play a helpful and ennobling part in human advancement. It is much to be desired that in rendering homage for the blessings which have come to us we should earnestly testify our continued and increasing aim to make our own great fortune a means of helping and serving, as best we can, the cause of all humanity.

"Now therefore, I, Warren

G. Harding, president of the United States of America, do designate Thursday, the thirtieth day of November, as a day of thanksgiving, supplication and devotion. I recommend that the people gather at their family altars and in their houses of worship to render thanks to God for the bounties they have enjoyed and to petition that these may be continued in the year before us. "In witness whereof, I have hereupon set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. "Done at the city of Washington, this second day of November, in the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred forty-seventh. WARREN G. HARDING

WANT ROAD BUILDING TO COST LESS

Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the Bureau of Public Roads, wants to cut down the cost of road building throughout the United States. He called highway officials of many states to Washington, and asked for standardized specifications which would permit plants to furnish materials to all states at greatly reduced costs.

Old and Young Patriots Unite in Ceremony

G. A. R. and Hill Military Academy Cadets Salute the Flag.

One of the features at Hill Military Academy recently was a patriotic ceremony in which the honored guests were prominent members of the Grand Army of the Republic. The tiniest cadets and the elderly heroes of the Civil War united in the service. These interesting ceremonies are frequent occurrences at the academy in Portland.
