LOCAL MEN LOSE LIVES IN AUTO WRECK

Out for Good Time Thursday Morning in Borrowed Car—Fail to Make Turn

SLEEPING MAN IS NOT INJURED

No Investigation Deemed Necessary—Coroner's Jury Renders Verdict of Accidental Death

Two men were killed yesterday morning when an automobile in which they were riding went over the grade at Beaver and turned over, pinning them underneath.

The two who were killed, William McKinley and Charles Pool, together with Eric Gulstrom, were taking an early morning ride in a borrowed Ford. They had reached Beaver and upon coming to the curve that precedes the concrete bridge at that place failed to make the turn and plunged down the bank. Gulstrom, who was asleep in the back seat at the time, did not know exactly what took place. He was unable to say who was driving the car when the accident occurred. When he awoke he got himself loose from the wreckage and went to Ray Letson for assistance. The other two men were taken from under the car, but were found dead. A coroner's jury on the case returned a verdict of accidental death.

So far as known Poole has no relatives here. McKinley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. McKinley of this place.

HEBO RANCHER KILLS CHICKEN STEALING COYOTE

Last Wednesday, while J. W. Bodyfelt was working in his potato patch at his ranch near Hebo, Mrs. Bodyfelt was startled by the snarling and fighting of dogs. Investigation disclosed the fact that a coyote had entered the hen house in quest of his dinner and that the two ranch dogs, a hound and large alreidale, had tackled the invader. The coyote proved too much for the faithful dogs, however, and Mrs. Bodyfelt summoned her husband, who laid the marauder low with a charge from his shot gun. Mr. Bodyfelt exhibited the animal's hide in town today, where it was pronounced by many to be the largest specimen seen in this section for many years. Mr. Bodyfelt is now laying for the coyotes mate, which is still disturbing his slumbers and pestering his hen house. He received a county bounty for the ears of the coyote killed.

The Women's Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alfred Anderson with a large number present. Two new members were voted in, Mrs. Bell of Beaver and Mrs. Leslie Harrison. Mrs. R. A. ## HIGH SCHOOL TO PLAY CAMAS HIGH NEXT WEEK

The local high school will lock horns with Camas, Wash., high school in a football game here next Friday, November 24. This will be the first out-of-state football team that has ever visited Tillamook and it is expected to draw considerable interest.

Camas high school played Vancouver high school recently and held them to a tie. This aggregation has "cleaned up" on every team with which they have come in contact. The Camas team also beat Astoria 7-0 not long ago. The high school here believes that it must have more support from local people and hopes that the game with Camas will draw a larger crowd than that which usually attends football games here.

On the evening of Nov. 11th, a party of young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Franklin as a surprise to their niece Evelyn Hanenkrat, and nephews, George and Jesse Morin. The evening was enjoyably spent playing games, after which refreshments were served.

Such stars as Tom Large, Emmett Gray, Shingles Gabriel, Art Harris, Orval Johnson, and Leland Hoy, played. The score was 7 to 6, Tillamook High failing to kick the goal, thus failing to tie the score. The boys go to Portland to play the Hill Military Academy on Nov. 18. The next local game will be with Camas, Washington, on November 24, and the last game to be placed this season.

A fire escape is being installed in the gymnasium where programs are put on occasionally.

Lucia Wiley and Pauline Gienger, the canning team from Tillamook, who won the county and state first prize, have won second at the Pacific International. This will entitle them to go to Chicago and compete for the trip to Europe. They will leave on Thanksgiving Day.

The net proceeds of the drive undertaken by the high school last week for the benefit of the Near East Relief amounted to fifty five dollars.

A pageant was given by the English III and V classes, during Better Speech Week. In this pageant Queen English listened to accounts of origin of the English language from students representing the following nations: Anglos, Saxons, Jutes, Danes, Romans, Britons, etc. Then those who had injured good English were brought in and allowed to plead their cases. These were Slang, Colloquialism, Old Sea Dog, Gypsy Slovenly English, Barbarism, and Dialect, who were pardoned because they agreed to adopt the pledge for Better Speech.

CITY LIBRARY FAST GROWING IN USEFULNESS

Demand for Books in 1922 Three Times as Great as in 1920 and Demand Still Growing

JUDGE CAREY MAKES FINE GIFT

Soon Be Necessary to Consider Plan to Keep Library Open More Hours for Reading Public

At the November meeting of the library board, there were many pleasant items to report of the happenings during October, but the one that was most unbelievable was the growth as shown by the Librarian's reports for the past October which, if magazines were reported, would be three times the circulation of 1920, as no magazines were circulated then and are not included in the following reports for any year.

October, 1920, 530 volumes; 1921, 1095 volumes, and 1922, 1555 volumes and 37 magazines. There is no question but the time is close when the matter of more open hours for the library will have to be considered, as the librarian is very busy with the present use of the library, and cannot care for many more readers with present hours.

Judge Carey has presented the library with his History of Oregon and it is a very interesting volume to those who have known the history of its people for the past 25 years.

Other books added that will be generally interesting are: Outline of Science; The Soul of an Immigrant; Life of Alice Freeman Palmer; Twenty Years at Hul House; Daughter of the Middle Border; and Bancroft's History of the Pacific Northwest.

The Woman's Home Companion will be added to the list of magazines and a monthly bulletin of small house plans has been highly recommended and also will be secured very soon.

The evening was pleasantly spent with music and games and a lunch was served by the hostess. Those present were: Bonnie Jane Harris, Mildred Leach, Dorothy Esch, Nedra Smith, Katherine Schultz, Margaret Grider, Ruth Kuratli, Georgia Vidito, Francis Wiley, Vera Rosenberg and Lois Wilkes.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met Thursday of this week with Mrs. W. E. Noyes. The afternoon was devoted to bazaar work. The ladies hope to finish this work at their next meeting which will be with Mrs. Turnbull.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jake Breeden, drove to Portland Saturday morning, returning Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Breeden also visited relatives in Oregon City while gone.
