LOGGING ACCIDENTS ARE FATAL TO TWO

Sunquist - Norberg And Whitney Camps Scenes Of Deaths

BOTH ARE HIT IN HEAD

One Is Buried By Moose Lodge Here Today

Two fatal logging accidents marked last Wednesday as an unlucky day for the timbermen.

Howard A. House, 28 years old, was killed at the Whitney camp when the eye pulled out of a cable, which snapped back and hit him in the face. House was a loader at the Whitney camp. The deceased formerly lived at Independence and relatives came from there to take charge of the body.

Frank Bellinger was killed at the Sundquist-Norberg camp about the same time Wednesday as House when a tree which he was falling hit against a small hemlock, which broke off and hit him in the head, crushing it so badly that Bellinger died immediately. A brother of the dead man worked at the same camp. The funeral was held under the auspices of the local Moose lodge today, Rev. A. A. McRae officiating.

DOG LICENSE LAW IS STILL IN EFFECT

Measure Not Repealed As Has Been Reported

County Clerk Brimhall states that the dog license is still in effect in this county, and that the legislature did not repeal the measure as had been reported. The report evidently came from the fact that the house of representatives passed an act at the last term which repealed the law but the act did not pass the senate. The law is the same as it was last year. Some changes have been made in the bounty law for predatory animals but the full text of the measure has not yet reached the clerk's office. The new bounty law becomes effective June 1, 1923.

MAN FAKES INSANITY TO ESCAPE CHARGE

Robert McCarty, alias Henry Woods, was arrested by Chief White last Friday for stealing a bicycle. He tried to fool his captors by faking insanity when confronted by several of his misdeeds. McCarty was tried Saturday before Mayor Smith in the absence of Recorder Ira White.

Sheriff Aschm discovered that McCarty was liable to charges of defrauding the state accident commission in collecting compensation under two different names and he will be held at the disposal of the state authorities to answer to this charge. When confronted with the fraud charge McCarty tried to work the insanity game. He also complained of trouble with his back and wanted to be taken to a hospital. An examination by the officials however, convinced them that the man was faking and he is still in jail. Jim Smith, who had been in the city jail laying out a fine for drunkenness, decided to pay his fine and get out when it was discovered that McCarty was infested with cooties. It was necessary to burn the bedding of the jail to get rid of the pests.

LOAN LIMIT RAISED TO INCLUDE $25,000

W. J. Reichers, secretary-treasurer of the South Prairie National Farm Loan association, states that he has received instructions from the Federal Land bank to accept applications for loans up to $25,000 to one borrower. The limit formerly was $10,000.

Persons desiring increases in their present loans or new loans for the larger amounts can now be taken care of as there is plenty of money available. The interest rate is 5 1-2 per cent with amortization payment of 10 per cent additional.

WHEELER CROSSING THOUGHT PROMISED

Officials of the public service commission and an attorney for the S. P. railroad were in the county last week in conference with the county court regarding the overhead crossing that has been asked for between Wheeler and Nehalem. The hearing was held at the court house last Friday. No objections were filed to the crossing and it is presumed that the permission for the crossing will be granted.

NEW EQUIPMENT IS ADDED TO PAPER

Model 14 Linotype Is Here And Installed Ready For Use

WORK IS SPEEDED UP

Machine Largest Of Its Kind In The County

The type matter for the Headlight is now being set on a new Model 14 Linotype.

The new machine arrived last Friday and was in working order by yesterday evening, the first lines being cast about 4:30. With this addition to the mechanical department of the paper, the Headlight expects to be able to handle many articles and departments that it was formerly unable to care for. The new equipment is much faster and more satisfactory in many ways than the old type setter that has been in the Headlight plant for the past ten years.

To describe further, the Model 14 Linotype is a multiple magazine machine, running three full sized magazines and one auxiliary. The three main magazines each carry two faces of type and the small auxiliary one face, making seven different kinds of type faces available to the operator without having to leave his seat. The three molds are also in easy reach of the operator as he sits at the machine. In all the new equipment is the highest form of machinery of its kind that has ever been seen in Tillamook it is expected to be of great assistance in preparing the news for Tillamook county readers. This is only one of the many helps that the Headlight is planning for the better handling of the newspaper and commercial printing.

The new machine installed costs about $6000.

BEALS BUILDING STARTS UPWARD

New Structure To Contain Stores Beside Theater Auditorium

TO COST NEAR $40,000

This Building Only One Of Several To Be Erected

Construction started Monday on the new building being erected by A. G. Beals at the corner of second avenue and third street east.

The building will be of concrete construction and will contain a number of store rooms and a theatre. It is reported that a grocery store, a confectionery and a barber shop will find locations in the new structure. The theatre will have a main floor capacity of about 500, beside a balcony.

It has not yet been decided what the second floor will be used for.

The construction is going forward under the supervision of Merrick & Chaffee and Frank Heyd, and it is hoped to be completed before fall. The estimated cost of the new structure is about $40,000.

This is only one of a number of contemplated new buildings that are expected to rise in Tillamook during the coming spring and summer. The armory and the new school buildings being among the number.

JURY OUT 42 HOURS ON "WOBBLY" TRIAL

The jury which sat on the case of the State vs. O. Hendricks, charged with criminal syndicalism, failed to agree after a deliberation of 42 hours. It is said that the jury stood 7 to 5 in favor of conviction at the time it was released. It is probable that Hendricks will be tried again in June. He was released this morning on $500 bail and left for Portland.

The members of the jury in the case were Charles Desmond, Charles Gross, Cyrus Randall, Theodore Jacoby, Frank Crane, Oscar Bennett, W. H. Sales, J. T. Woodward, Edward Morehead, George Loerplable, Sam Thompson and C. O. Blaine.

CREAMERY HEADS MEET WEDNESDAY

Usual Reports Received From Cheese And Dairy Inspectors

41 INSPECTIONS MADE

Association Tells Of Appreciation Of Cheesemakers Work

Twenty three of the twenty-five directors of Tillamook County Creamery association attended the monthly meeting held on Wednesday of this week. The usual reports of the cheese inspector and the deputy dairy and food commissioner were received. That of Mr. Tinnerstedt, deputy dairy and food commissioner showed 41 inspections made during the month, of which three covered cheese factories and the balance covered dairy barns and equipment this week.

Some discussion was had of the condition at one of the factories where some of the patrons use two sets of cans for milk, one set being used one day and another the next. It developed that cans so used were frequently permitted to stand many hours after being emptied and before they were cleaned. It was ordered, upon motion, that steps be taken to assist the deputy dairy and herd inspectors to better this condition.

With a view of maintaining the interest which has been manifested by their work, and to secure closer cooperation between the cheese makers and the dairymen of the county the following resolution was adopted:

"That this association appreciates the good work being done by the cheese makers throughout Tillamook county; that the directors believe that some of the aspirants of the Tillamook county cheese makers association are meritorious and that this association wishes for an enlargement of co-operation between this association and the cheese makers association; and that before the next scale of wages is set, it is suggested that a committee of cheese makers confer with a committee from this association or with the whole board."

Secretary Carl Haberlach reported on the present condition of the cheese market. It was shown that Wisconsin primary markets have dropped their prices to 21 cents for the local product and it was suggested that it may be necessary in the near future to lower prices on Tillamook cheese. By motion it was ordered that the secretary use his best judgment in the matter.
