OUR EDITORIAL POLICY

- 1. To advocate, aid and support any measures that will bring the most good to the most people.
2. To encourage industries to establish in Tillamook county.
3. To urge the improvement of a port for Tillamook City.
4. To insist on an American standard of labor.
5. To be politically independent, but to support the candidates for public office who will bring the most good to the people of Tillamook county and of the State of Oregon.

FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1923

It is to be wondered at that the reports of national guard activities in this state many times do not include local units. Apparently Oregon newspapermen fail to realize that the War Department of the state, as well as the United States, is located at Tillamook. We respectfully ask that contemporaries take due notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Last week the price of gasoline was reduced one cent per gallon in this state by law to benefit the road fund. Garage men will have to trouble themselves for the extra cent, but will the mechanics and clothiers find their accounts any easier to collect?

At the Perkins from Manhattan which is B. W. Grant. The resort is in Tillamook county and until last week it could not be reached by wagon road. The county has built a road up to Manhattan and a trifle more and hopes to carry on the work to the aid of the state, to Brighton, Manhattan the beach gently slopes to the railroad tracks to the surf there is usually a comfortable breeze blowing.—Oregonian.

Victor Shumway and Miss Hildred were both former young people of Tillamook, were married in Portland Friday evening, the simple ring ceremony being performed at the home of the bride in the presence of relatives and close friends. The wedding was attended from Sheridan by Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Miller, Mrs. W. Aaron and Mrs. H. E. Allen. The young couple will make their home at Tillamook where the bride is employed.—Sheridan Sun.

Some trouble was caused at Snark last part of the week when two W. W. adjudicators called the men there and tried to cause a walk-out. A number of loyal men refused to be intimidated or listen to the organizers. The C. E. Haak company whose camp the trouble occurred charged the ringleaders and they were sent to other places. The strike has now transferred to the job and the men now advocate laying down on the job, slowing up production, working a few days in a camp then quit and all other onerous acts that cause trouble. No violence has been attempted, but may break out at some time.—Whelan Reporter.

William Zurcher, who was wanted in Tillamook county on a bootlegging charge, was arrested here by Sheriff and Deputy Craven last Saturday and had been employed at the shingle mill for some time past. Zurcher is known to have been an associate of Jap J. J. the so-called "stool-pigeon" who figured in the shooting affair at Grand Ronde last September. He has been sought by the Tillamook county sheriff for nearly a year. Deputy Sheriff Lucas came over from Tillamook after Zurcher Sunday.—Polk County Observer.

Mrs. Walter Nelson of Tillamook spent the week end visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barendrick.—McMinnville Telephone Register.

Mrs. J. S. Macomber, who was seriously hurt last Monday, is a little improved at this writing. Mrs. Grace McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Macomber are here from Tillamook at the bedside of their mother.—Oakdale correspondent in Polk County Observer.

Neighbors, that is the word that should rightly describe the attitude of the citizens of any community, toward one another. When this is accomplished in word and fact, you'll find McMinnville a different town than the average community divided into groups.—McMinnville News-Reporter

Vacationists from the Salem district will most certainly be attracted to Oceanside beach in Tillamook county during the coming season. Oceanside is located about two miles above Netarts at Maxwell's Point.

Rosenberg brothers and Fleming and Allen have taken over all of the properties and erected a dozen new cottages which are attractively furnished. A children's playground is centrally located with a view to safety and convenience to parents who spend their vacations at this beach. The view from Maxwell's point is one of the most exceptional along the coast. Sea lions can be seen from this place at nearly all times of the year and beach and deep sea fishing is of the best order.

Oceanside is accessible by following the Netarts road to Tillamook. This road is being reconstructed and newly planked.—Capital Review.

A few months ago the Victory 4 1/2 per cent bonds were called for redemption. They ceased to draw interest on December 15, 1922. Nearly $90,000,000 worth of these bonds have not yet been turned in, and the holders have lost approximately $1,000,000 in interest that might have been earned by this money. Little wonder that the European countries say we are not thrifty. Little wonder tax experts do not take us seriously when we stand up and complain about not being able to pay taxes.—Gresham Outlook.

Hundreds of things happen every day that the newspaper man never hears about. He does the best he can to keep his eyes and ears open, but he is only a human being, not omniscient, omni-present or endowed with the gift of fore-knowledge, and, therefore cannot foretell the occurrence of an event. And yet you often wonder why this thing or that thing was not published. An editor always does his best to give all the news and is always glad to publish any item of general interest. So before you criticize the editor be sure you have done your part in furnishing him the particular item of news that you failed to find in the paper.—Bandon World.

Ex-Governor Francis once said the following of newspapers "Each year the local paper gives from $500 to $1,000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor in proportion to his means does more for his own home town, than any other man and in all fairness he ought to be supported, not because you like him or admire his writings, but because the local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be brilliantly edited, its policy dictated by a woman, or crowded with thought, but financially it is of more benefit to the community than any other institution. Understand me, I do not mean mentally, and yet on moral questions, you will find most of the papers on the right side. Today the editors of the local papers do the most for the least money of any people on earth."—Banks Herald.

Study the home life of most men who have money and have made a success in business and you will find their wives have been thrifty women. Look over the list of the men who have shone in society, and the list will reveal that their wives were social climbers, but they slipped on the ladder of success and struck bottom. More men are made or marred by their wives than by any other human agency. Give a man a gadding butler for a wife and he will be a worm in business, nine times out of ten. Then, there is the other side. Some men are slaves to their business, and if it were not for the influence of their sensible wives they would sleep in the stock room and that means premature planting.

Back of every successful man you will find a sensible woman. The empty milk bottles, washed and waiting for the milkman, on the front step every morning, is a sure sign that the queen in that home is standing back of her knight who goes forth to battle each day.—Capital Review.

THIESSEN WAS AT THE WHEEL

Herman Thiessen, of Sandlake, the man who in 1918 took the government built ship Bedloe of Tillamook bar, and thence to Astoria where she was tied up about the time the armistice was signed, was in the city today. The Bedloe was built at the old shipyard and Thiessen worked on the boat until it was practically completed. He set all the masts in the new ship and sewed all the canvass hatch coverings and helped to set the rudder and assisted with the rigging, and other details. While here he showed an enlarged photograph of himself at the wheel, as the new ship set out down the bay on her maiden voyage. "That picture," said Thiessen, "I want to keep for my boys. I want them to know that I was a good American citizen, even though I had not got my final citizenship papers at the time." Mr. Thiessen came to Portland over 20 years ago as a sailor on a French ship, and eventually he landed in this county. At Sandlake he met Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, who took him into the family and taught him English, and otherwise were kind to him. The other day Mrs. Johnson was taken to a Portland hospital to be treated for cancer, and it will be several weeks before she is able to get out. In the meantime, her five children are at the home with the Thiessens, where they will be cared for until the mother returns. "And that," concluded Thiessen, "gives me a chance to help people who helped me, when I was a stranger at their door 20 years ago."

MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS

A memorial Sunday address was delivered at the Christian church last Sunday by Rev. Geo. N. Harness. There was a good attendance with the members of the local G. A. R. post, and the W. R. C. were present in a body. That part of the speaker's theme most strongly accented was the fact that there is no longer a north and a south, so far as the old issues are concerned; and that we are one nation, and that sectional hate has now no place in the hearts of American citizens. The members of the G. A. R. and the W. R. C. bodies were taken to and from the church in automobiles and all of the old soldiers who were physically able were brought out to the services. The church was decorated for the occasion.

BERRY MEN ORGANIZE

The Oregon Logan Co-operative association made last week by 300 berry-men at Salem. An advertising campaign was discussed at the meeting and most of the delegates thought that 5c per pound should be the minimum price charged but the prices will be fixed later.

WILL PROVE UP ON HOMESTEAD

Chas. W. Cruthers will prove up on his homestead within one mile of Cloverdale, before the County Clerk here within a few days. Mr. Cruthers bought a relinquishment from the Leonard boys and says he has resided continuously on his homestead for three years. The land is mostly hill land, with a garden spot of bottom land, and adjoins land that is held at $300 per acre. He purposes to engage in the milk boat business, and says that there are others who have the same intention. Recently he bought out the hotel and confectionery store and filling station at Dolph, and the new station is built on a triangular strip of ground along the sides of which pass the highway, the Little Nestucca road and the private road of George Baxter. He states that the Sour Grass road is much praised by autoists now. A few months ago it was the worst piece of road between Tillamook and Grand Ronde.

GUERNSEY CALF CLUB MEETING

The Guernsey calf club will meet at the farm of John Morgan east of town next Saturday and a large attendance is looked for by those interested, states D. H. Kennedy, county club leader.

KIWANIS MEET AT ATLANTA

The Kiwanis national convention is held this year at Atlanta, Georgia, and began on May 28 with over 6,000 delegates present from the various states of the Union.

LILLIAN TINGLE, SAYS

In Answer to an enquiry regarding diet:

"Then probably you could use more milk to advantage. You mention only two quarts daily for two children and two adults, one of whom is trying to gain weight. The children would do well to have a quart or nearly a quart each, and you should have a pint at least for yourself and from a pint to a quart (according to his special needs and his assimilation) for your husband. Then with the increase of milk you can easily cut down your meat and egg bill. "A good rule to remember is that for every extra half pint of milk used in the daily diet the other protein foods, such as meat, eggs, fish, cheese, may be reduced by two ounces without any dietetic loss. Milk is usually the least expensive and the most easily served and assimilated of all the protein foods."
