"If I don't find good water down there," said Bill, as he left, "you can look for me back pretty soon." Tom Connell and Dr. Wood, two capitalists of Hillsboro, came over Tuesday and went down to their cottages at Rockaway to spend a week by the sounding sea. Just as Dr. Wood got into Tillamook one of the fires of a hind wheel went haywire and he had to invest in a new one. "That's a bad omen," quoth the Dr. Tillamook, Wilson river and Bay City strawberries of the improved Oregon variety are advertising this county as the "big strawberry country." Eleven berries of the above variety will fill an ordinary dinner plate full. They are good to eat too.

FIRES COST 500 MILLION A YEAR

Eighty Per Cent of Fires Preventable, Says President of Fire Protection Association.

Chicago.—There is a bonfire in the United States, a blazing pyre fed by frame cottages and brick factories, by forests and farm crops, by ships and automobiles. Every minute, year in and year out, $1,000 is thrown into this fire. Every half hour, day after day, a man, woman or child is cast into the flames. There is no such bonfire in reality, but the picture of the blaze fed by money and by human beings represents the actual toll of fire in America each year as it was expressed at the 27th annual meeting of the National Fire Protective association in convention at the Drake hotel. 15,000 Lives Yearly Toll. "The tragedy of the whole thing is that 80 per cent of these fires are preventable," said H. O. Lacombe of Boston, president of the association. "Carelessness is the thief that is stealing $1.70 out of every $1,000 of the nation's wealth through the annual fire loss of $500,000,000. Carelessness is the assassin who annually causes the death of 15,000 persons through fire accidents in this country." The smoke, who heedlessly drops his pipe or cigarette ash into a waste basket and the person who thoughtlessly tosses a glowing match into a pile of waste are the ones who start most of the fires. Next in order of responsibility come defective chimneys and flues—proper cleaning or a trowel full of plaster would prevent nearly all of these fires. Dustless mops and electric flatirons, the latter left going while the house wife answers the front door, represent the two classes of fire causes which run a close race for third place—electrical installations and spontaneous combustion. Assails School Conditions. "Lack of proper exits, proper fire drill and sufficient fire fighting apparatus endanger 90 per cent of our school children," declared R. S. Moulton, member of the Safety to Life committee which made its report recently. The association seeks improvement of fire laws, establishment of more rigid building codes. Among other things, it protests against use of the inflammable motion picture film and urges adoption of the slow burning film now on the market. "Nitro-cellulose film," read the report of the committee on public information, "discarded by picture houses, is being sold and transported in lengths of from 10 to 200 feet through the mails to the owners and operators of amateur projectors throughout the country. There is at present no legal restriction to this traffic." Keeping Soldier in Irons Is Abolished London.—Lieut. Col. Walter Guinness announced in the house of commons recently that the army council has decided to abolish field punishment No. 1. Corporal punishment in the army was abolished in peace time in 1808 for the reason that some commanding officers were discovered to be introducing many illegal punishments to avoid having to resort to the lash. Then, in 1881, flogging was finally done away with, and two forms of field punishment, known as No. 1 and No. 2, were introduced. It having been found necessary to employ some form of punishment in the field which should cause the offender no injury and which should not prevent the performance of his active military duties. Under field punishment No. 1 the offender could be kept in irons—fetters, or handcuffs, or both—and attached for certain clearly laid-down periods of time to a fixed object. He could be subjected to any labor, employment, or restraint as though he had been sentenced to imprisonment. Field punishment No. 2 was precisely similar, except that the offender could not be attached to a fixed object.

Sandwich Still Meal, Rules New York Judge

New York.—The sandwich deemed legally a meal is Raines law days when taken with Scotch or rye, is legally just as much a meal today when washed down with bouillon, tea or coffee, Supreme Court Justice Lewis in Brooklyn ruled. He restrained Marcus Miller and Max Deckinger from renting part of their building on Jamaica avenue, Jamaica, to the U. R. S. candy stores for sale of "light lunch," holding it would violate a lease held by Andrews C. Kats on another store in the building, providing no other store should be leased for the sale of light lunch. Justice Lewis said a lunch is defined as "a light meal eaten between breakfast and dinner" and old decisions hold "a sandwich and a drink of whisky or other beverage constitute a meal."

104 Years; Lived Long Enough.

New York.—"I've lived long enough," said Mrs. Anna Clark of Lake Mahopac village when she celebrated her 104th birthday anniversary. "I'm not worrying about how many more birthdays I'll have."

RIVER STEAMER HAS NEW RIVAL IN "SEA SLED"

Washington.—The first extensive commercial adoption of the "sea sled" type of motorboat is announced by the Pan-American union as about to be made in the republic of Colombia, where boats of this type will be used to carry mails and passengers from the sea coast to near Bogota. The former method of communication between the capital and Barranquilla, the seaport, was by slow river steamers which took about twelve days to make the 500-mile journey up the Magdalena river to the end of the railroad leading into Bogota. All rail communication is impracticable on account of the high mountains between the capital and the coast. The sea sleds will make the trip in two days. The first to be tested, the "Luz," made 30 miles an hour with 60 passengers. The craft is 50 feet long, 12 feet beam and draws only 18 inches of water, making it possible to navigate the shallows of the river at all stages. Power is furnished by four six-cylinder, 250-horse power engines, using about 80 gallons of gasoline an hour. The boat has cabins fore and aft and is electrically lighted. The new experiment in navigation is attracting much attention in South America because of the importance of the rivers there for that purpose and the difficulties formerly encountered because of shoal water. The West Coast Leader of Lima, Peru, says in a recent issue: "This new development in commercial motorboat construction shows the possibilities of opening up a wide field along lines that have never before been attempted."

RUSSIA IS NOW FACING BIG SURPLUS OF GRAIN

Districts Starving Year Ago Now Swamped With Wheat. Moscow.—Too much bread promises to be Russia's dilemma in 1923. From 1917 until 1922 bread was the most precious thing in Russia. A farmer could trade in Moscow with a small sack of grain and trade it for a grand piano or anything which the hungry city dwellers had to offer. Now the same peasant could walk from one end of Russia to the other and, excepting in a few isolated famine districts, could not get a jackknife for the same sack of grain. If the harvest of this year turns out as expected, Russia will have a surplus of grain which could be sold abroad. From a country which less than 18 months ago was clamoring for crusts, Russia has changed into a nation which promises within a few months to be swamped with wheat and rye. At Saratof, near certain communes that have been listed as famine-stricken, rye flour, the staple of bread, is quoted at less than 25 cents a pood, which is 36 pounds. At Samara, the district where even cannibalism occurred among the starving a year ago, rye goes begging at less than 40 cents a bushel. In Moscow, naturally, transportation costs have made prices somewhat higher, almost double the reigning price in the great producing regions. Siberia, once the granary from which wheat poured into western Europe, did not fare so well in last year's harvest, and there prices are higher, but in Odessa and at Kieff, in the southern wheat belt, recent official quotations show wheat costing under 70 cents a bushel. The soviet government, through the collection of taxes, has rolled up a grain reserve amounting to nearly 200,000,000 bushels. Some of this is needed to feed the army, but as for the bulk of the grain, unless it can be exported, the government does not know what to do with it. You can safely come to Dr. Thompson for consultation and examination, knowing that his years of experience and knowledge are always at your service.
