Boys Have No Terrors For Tillamook
Boys, Who Take To Soldier Life,
Like Ducks To Water

CAMP LEWIS, WN., June 25 (Special)—Even after a week of somewhat strenuous work the Tillamook men here are as happy as larks and are dropping into camp life of a soldier as though they were made for it.

Last week the 41st division was taken out on a hike and bivouac, which was somewhat of a novel experience for many of the men. It was necessary for each soldier to take his tent and bedding with him and sleep on the ground for one night. It was accomplished successfully by all the men.

Saturday was spent mainly in a field inspection and divisional review in honor of Governors Pierce of Oregon and Hart of Washington. General Hunter Liggett, retired, was also present at this time and an informal reception was given for him. General Liggett was at one time during the war in command of the 41st division in France. Two Tillamook people, Rollie Watson and Harold Graves, were on hand to see the review and meet the boys from their home town.

Captain J. E. Shearer was last week temporarily relieved from duty with Company K and assigned to division headquarters as Divisional Sanitary Inspector. It is his duty to inspect and make reports on the quarters of the troops from California, Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho. The job has been keeping him on the jump.

Tomorrow Company K goes on the rifle range to take the instruction course in target practice. It is quite likely that the balance of this week will be used in this manner.

Saturday morning the guardsmen leave camp and arrive in Portland, where a parade has been scheduled to take place Saturday afternoon in which the troops of the 162d and 186th Infantries will take part. Saturday evening the train bearing the Tillamook men will start for home with the prospects of arriving there sometime early Sunday morning. Tillamook people may have to get up very early next Sunday if they wish to see their soldiers arrive in town.

Even though Company K has been rated very high at its first year's encampment the men of that organization have vowed to do even better next year. If they do it is expected that other units of the 41st division will have an example set before them that will be difficult to follow.

BRIGHTON MAN IS ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

On Friday last near the noon hour, a flying timber from a lath boiler in the Brighton sawmill struck E. H. Burt, the feeder, in the pit of the stomach, inflicting injuries that resulted in his death a few minutes later. When picked up by fellow workmen he was unconscious and died in that condition. The coroner was notified at this place, who went up and conducted a brief inquiry, finding that death was a result of an accident as above stated. The remains were conveyed to the morgue in this city where they were prepared for burial and Saturday morning were forwarded to Castle Rock, Wash., for interment. Deceased was aged about 40 years, and is survived by a widow, and other relatives. He was prominent in social affairs in Brighton, being a good musician and had many friends, say those who knew him intimately. The widow and Mrs. Lupro of Brighton came to this city Friday evening.

THE GUERNSEY CLUB PASSES RESOLUTIONS

The Club Goes On Record As Being
In Favor of the Oleo Law
Recently Enacted

The Tillamook Guernsey Cattle club held a picnic at the Charley McKillop dairy farm, two miles east of Cloverdale last Tuesday, that being the monthly meeting of the club. J. L. Gay, of Cloverdale, was chairman of the meeting. At the noon hour the ladies of the club served a fine luncheon which was enjoyed by the large number in attendance. The afternoon was devoted to an exchange of views on club matters. A committee which was appointed last month to draw resolutions on the oleomargarine referendum bill, reported. The report was unanimously adopted and with it a motion that the resolution be published in the county papers and the leading state papers. The resolution follows:

"Shall we as breeders of dairy cattle hold our peace, or shall we enter the battle with our fellow producers? The Tillamook County Guernsey Cattle Club says: We the members of the aforesaid Cattle club wish to go on record as sponsoring the recently enacted law known as the Anti-Oleo law. We believe this law to be fair and reasonable in its requirements and do not believe its enforcement would injure any legitimate business.

Whereas the Associated Industries of Oregon (so-called) are undertaking to invoke the referendum on this law and whereas the manufacturers of filled milk and counterfeited butter are claiming that their articles are as good, if not better, than the genuine, and whereas we know in the light of recent research that dairy products contain certain elements commonly referred to as vitamins which have been proven essential to the growth and maintenance of the human body and whereas the success of the aforesaid referendum will curtail the demand for dairy products and injuriously effect the health and happiness of the people.

Therefore be it resolved: That we, the Tillamook County Guernsey Cattle club protest against the proposed referendum; and be it further resolved that we condemn the practice of mixing dairy products with vegetable oils or animal fats and selling these adulterated articles in imitation of, or as substitutes for dairy products."

EAGLE WILL SCREAM HERE JULY FOURTH

Don't forget that Tillamook will celebrate the Fourth of July in becoming shape. Also the 3rd of July. Sports, pillow fights, bicycle races, free for all water fight and many others will offer amusement for the city's visitors. The boxing contest will consist of four good bouts and a battle royal. Big street carnival and illuminated exhibit by the firemen; dances, and oration, music and a general good time will be provided by the firemen. Head your car for Tillamook and bring the whole family and help make the celebration a success. The firemen have charge of the celebration, and they will spare no pains to make it a go.

PORTLAND FIRM GETS SCHOOL CONTRACT

The school board recently advertised for bids to furnish desks, window shades, etc., for the new school house. Six bidders competed, and the Northwest School Furniture company of Portland was the lowest bidder and has been awarded the contract by the board. Director Rosenberg states that construction of the new school house is going ahead steadily and satisfactorily. The walls are all up and both lathing and plastering are well advanced. The roof is now partly done and will soon be completed. It is believed that the new building will be completed in good time for the housing of the school children when the fall term begins.

CHEESE MARKET WELL CLEARED UP

In Spite of Wisconsin Drop
Local Prices Are Steady.

NO CHEESE IN STORAGE

A Number of Patrons Will Receive
Large Checks For Month
Of May

Carl Haberlach returned from a trip to Portland Tuesday night. He reports a seasonable decline in the demand for cheese since many of the people who were storing cheese have taken care of their requirements for some months to come. He states that were it not for the fact that considerable cheese was sold for future shipments, Tillamook prices would have declined at this time in line with the decline in Wisconsin market. Back orders now total about 4300 cases and these together with the current demand should take care of most of the June cheese. So far the association has stored no cheese this season, while last year at this time considerable cheese had been placed in storage. Should further decline occur in Wisconsin it may be necessary to lower the local market as it would be a fatal mistake to permit large quantities of Wisconsin cheese to reach this coast during the season of our flush production.

The Wisconsin market this week declined further. Twins now being quoted at 20 3-8c; Daisies at 20 5-8c; and Longhorns at 20 3-4c as against Tillamook prices of 27c for Triplets and 28c for loaf and longhorns.

The checks for May milk will be out about the 10th of July and butter fat prices will probably range three or four cents over the April prices. There will be a number of large checks for the May milk, probably twenty going over $1,000 each and 150 over $500 each.

This is the first season that San Francisco has taken more cheese than Los Angeles for the first six months of any year but the demand from Los Angeles now is keener than it is in San Francisco and the larger share of our cheese will probably go to Southern California as it has gone in previous years.

The excellent grass season in this county presages the largest yield of cheese we have ever produced.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Coats and family left last week for a trip to Yellowstone Park.

MRS PARKER HURT IN AUTO COLLISION

Garibaldi Woman Receives Severe
Injuries In An Auto
Collision

Mrs. Josephine Parker, wife of L. Parker of Parker & Alderman, who operate the box factory at Garibaldi received severe injuries in an auto collision last Sunday, while returning in a machine from Rockaway. The accident was a result of a collision between the auto in which she rode and one driven by Lloyd Solmon, who is employed at Stone's logging camp.

The machines collided at a bend in the road between Garibaldi and Barview and both were wrecked by the impact. Officials from the sheriff's office went down Monday and made examinations which resulted in the arrest of Solmon on a state charge of assault. Solmon was arraigned before Justice Stanley Monday on the above complaint and gave bonds in the sum of $1,000 to await the action of the grand jury. Mrs. Parker was conveyed to Dr. Boals hospital in this city, following the accident and although badly hurt, there are assurances that she will recover. It has been stated that Solmon was on the wrong side of the road and that he was speeding, but the Headlight is not authority for this version of the cause of the accident. The facts will come out later.

ESCAPED CONVICT IS REPORTED CAPTURED

The convict who has been seen about Blaine for some time past, and who played a mean joke on some road workers by stealing the contents of their dinner buckets, was caught by a guard from the penitentiary last Saturday, states Mr. Maggarrel. This one was the second of a duet who escaped recently from a wood camp near McMinnville, both being recaptured in this county.

LOGGER SUFFERS A SINGULAR ACCIDENT

John LeFebvre, a logger in the C. S. Stone camp near Garibaldi, was hurt in a peculiar manner last Saturday. While wedging down a tree, a piece of steel flew from a wedge about one inch long and a half an inch wide and entered at LeFebvre's right collar bone, and ranged downward lodging in the right arm, penetrating a distance of about five inches. The injured man was brought to the Vidito hospital where Dr. Ringo removed the steel. The wound was an ugly one and caused much suffering. The patient is improving, however.

LOCAL ELKS SECURE NEXT STATE MEET

Dalles Meeting Votes To Give Tillamook Next
Grand Session

MANY WILL ATTEND

Tillamook Bills Loud In Praise Of
The Dalles Lodge's Fine
Hospitality

The Grand lodge of Elks will meet in Tillamook, probably in August of next year. That was settled by a vote of the grand lodge in The Dalles last week and Tillamook members were elated. The session of the Elks grand lodge ought ordinarily to be good for at least 2000 people and on account of its proximity to the beaches, Tillamook should be able to command a crowd of at least 3,000 on the meeting dates next year. The local lodge is to be congratulated for its good work in attracting the convention to this place. Those who attended the recent session at The Dalles are loud in their praise of the hospitality of the local Elks. The city was gaily decorated with the order's colors, and the ladies of The Dalles were particularly kind to the visiting ladies, while the Bills of the order had the time of their lives with the local Bills.

SUNDAY WAS AN UNLUCKY DAY

While walking up town Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Arlie Hoffman accidentally slipped while crossing the street and badly sprained her ankle, tearing the ligaments supporting it to the extent that she had to be conveyed home. The same day her husband was coming home from Garibaldi in a car driven by his brother Elmo, when they nearly collided with another car coming toward them at the Miami bridge railroad crossing. The cars were only a few rods apart when the drivers saw each other, and a bad mixup was barely averted. The north bound driver just missed a telephone pole and the Hoffmans grazed a bayside fence. The meeting place is a dangerous one, as drivers going in an opposite direction have small chance to see each other until they meet.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Heusser and family are spending the week at Oceanside.

AUTO ACCIDENT IS FATAL TO WOMAN

Salem Lady Is Crushed When Car
Goes Over Embankment
Near Dolph

On Saturday last an automobile driven by H. W. Delaplain, a machinist of Salem, and containing Mrs. Deleplain, the daughter Hazel, and Mrs. May Pierce, a widow lady of Salem, and three small children, went off the grade about two miles east of Dolph and rolled down a 50 foot incline, with the result that Mrs. Pierce received injuries that resulted in her death in a Tillamook hospital Sunday. Mrs. Deleplain was seriously injured but will recover and the daughter Hazel, suffered injuries to her spine of a serious nature. Deleplain and his three other children escaped with trifling bruises and scratches. Mrs. Pierce was taken from the scene of the accident by a passing stage and hurried to this city at once the others arriving later. Mrs. Pierce received injuries of an internal nature as well as cuts on the neck and face, her death occurring early Saturday morning. Her remains were conveyed to Salem Monday last for burial. The other parties to the accident it is believed will recover. It is understood that Deleplain claims he was crowded off by another auto, but he that as it may his machine approached too close to the edge of the grade in making a turn, and the earth which was soaked by recent rains, yielded to the weight of the car and went over. Mr. Maggarrel of this city states that he passed the scene of the accident and examined the ground and as a result of his examination recommends that the brush along the side of the grade be cut and that a railing or fence be put up along the outside of the grade to prevent future accidents.

The party who met with the accident were on their way to the beaches on a Sunday outing, which ended with the above tragic result.

COAST POWER COMPANY BUSINESS GROWING

President Edwards of the Coast Power company states that business of that company is increasing by leaps and bounds. Jos. Provost who has charge of the company's business along the beaches recently brought a bunch of orders for lights that totaled 57 in one day, and there will be a total increase of from 125 to 150 orders for the month of June. This means permanent business and must be provided for and that is what is causing Mr. Edwards some present concern. Enlargement of the Tillamook plant will be forced and "enlargement it will be," states Mr. Edwards. His light and power business excepting the mill investments is the largest in the county and new mills and other enterprises will in the future tax the company to the utmost, to furnish power for machinery operation as well as for lights. Plans are now being formulated for extension of the plant's capacity.

GRANGERS HOLD A PICNIC ON SATURDAY

Cloverdale grange held a big picnic at the picnic grounds across the Nestucca last Saturday which was largely attended. A literary and musical program was had, and speaking followed. Geo. Cable of Corvallis, O. A. C., spoke on "Farm Conveniences" and pleased the hearers with a well thought out address. W. D. Pine, county agriculturist, spoke on the Oregon-Idaho Dairy Loan association, and also on the oleomargarine bill. Mr. Stafford of the Producer's Call, a Portland farm paper, spoke on the question of capitalism and its effects on farming interests. Considerable time was devoted to children's athletic sports in which tugs of war, and foot races figured. A splendid basket dinner was enjoyed by the large crowd. The picnic was in charge of Mr. Gay and Mesdames Jensen and Pearson. The picnic was voted a success by the large crowd present.

VOTE ON ARMORY BONDS MONDAY

Many Reasons Given Why
Election Should Go
Over Big

CITY NEEDS BUILDING

Other Towns In State Have Voted For
Armory Bonds And Are Proud Of It

On Monday July 2nd, occurs the special city election vote on bonds for $5,000 to make up the quota assigned this city in the matter of raising $20,000 by the county and city jointly to match the $20,000 appropriated by the state at the last legislature for the purpose of an armory to cost in the neighborhood of $40,000 in Tillamook. The city will as part payment of its quota give the armory site and now asks that a further sum of only $5,000 be voted at the coming election to make effective the generous benefaction by the state. It is believed that the measure will carry by a big majority as this city cannot well afford to turn down so important a matter, since the state has assumed half of the cost.

Other reasons are that the city greatly needs a large auditorium for state conventions and other gatherings which will naturally be attracted here once we have the seating and meeting accommodations. Of course, the primary object is a place of meeting for our national guard company and the federal government issue in cash to the company and its officers will annually be between $6,000 and $7,000 which will be spent in the community. So, if we take that view alone, the government will leave close to $7,000 each year to offset the city's final cash investment of $5,000, and the donation of a site. Civic pride would suggest that we raise this small amount with a whoop and hurrah, and thus secure not only a home for the guard but also a commodious community center that will advertise the town all over the state and bring dollars to the town and county.

Other towns in the state have voted armory expense and are proud of it. Among those towns and cities having armories and American Legion homes are McMinnville $65,000 armory; Pendleton, Woodburn, Salem, Portland, Eugene, Corvallis, Dallas, Medford, Ashland, Bend, Legion hall, Marshall and others. Cottage Grove built a $35,000 armory without state assistance or from any other source. It is not believed that Tillamook will fail to meet the state and county half way, when it is asked to vote bonds for less than one-fourth of the cost of the proposed armory and public auditorium.

THE SECOND LUMBER SCHOONER LEAVES

The Daisy Freeman of Seattle, one of the lumber carriers for the Whitney mills at Garibaldi, went out to sea Monday night on high tide with 750,000 feet of fine Tillamook lumber, destined for San Pedro, Cal. The first steamer out, the Nottingham, reached her destination safely and is said to be due here soon. The Freeman is now on the high seas, her nose pointed south. Another big lumber schooner left Yaquina bay the latter part of last week, and the two bays seem to be good natured rivals in the matter of shipping. It is a good sign for the re-establishment of shipping interests in both bays.

Wm. Redberg, aged 78 years, and for a long time a resident of the Oretown section, died at the family home the latter part of last week. Deceased was a widower, his wife having died some years ago.

Mrs. Anna Halpin of Garibaldi, died in the Boals hospital Thursday of last week. She is survived by Mike Halpin, the widower. The remains were conveyed to Portland for interment.
