SOME OF OUR PATRONS WERE DISAPPOINTED

This week at the last moment some of our advertisers came in with copy for their advertisement. As the value of advertising in a country paper depends upon it being issued on time, we must depend upon the co-operation of our advertisers.

In order to close up our forms and print the paper Thursday evening, it is imperative that all advertising copy be in this office not later than Wednesday noon. We were sorry to turn our advertisers down this week, but in order to come out Friday morning it was necessary to do so. Unless some unforeseen accident occurs, you will always find the Headlight in the mails Friday morning. If our advertisers will bear this in mind and help us they will be assured the service they have a right to expect.

The Oregonian with its usual striking presentment of doubtful compliment, when condescending to address the country press, pretends to have discovered a new and startling system of political economy in a paragraph that recently appeared in the editorial columns of the Headlight and in purring tones begs us to be more specific in our allegations. To relieve the tension on the Oregonian's nerves, which must be something awful, we hereby unequivocally state that this paper is not the exponent of any such new system. In the paragraph instanced by the Oregonian, the Headlight dealt only with recent political history and wholly extraneous election returns. That's all. As the Oregonian is just as able to draw conclusions from the election last fall as the Headlight, we respectfully refer its questions back to their original source. We are not a mind reader and not clairvoyant nor do we possess the art of divination hence the Oregonian is just as competent to predicate future political action of the Oregon electorate as we are. We are sorry to disappoint our esteemed and valued contemporary.

The city hotels are all doing a good business and every night finds them full of guests. This is also true of the apartment and rooming houses. The fact is one of the best indications possible of good business conditions in the county and state.

Deaths from excessive heat are reported in eastern cities. No such fatalities in Tillamook, Oregon.

President Harding has begun his western tour which will include Oregon and Alaska. His Excellency would see the Tillamook beaches before his return.

The Oregon Voter refers to Hon. Stan Miller, democratic war horse of Lebanon, "as our dolichocephalous friend." Our dictionary does not harbor the word Bro. Voter man. Is it a soak or a boost?

A Dane it is said, has discovered a cure for tuberculosis. If his cure shall prove to be what is claimed for it, he will be shouted as the greatest benefactor of the age.

A county exchange solemnly asked: "Is the airplane mail a success?" We dunno, we've never been up to see.

Tillamook has missed the nearly a hundred soldier boys who are over at Camp Lewis. They have been conspicuous for their absence on the streets and in the stores and shops.

From Exchanges

The Longview News has been bragging for a week about their big seven story hotel buying all its furniture in Chicago, the freight amounting to $7,000, on the 18 car loads. Wonder what their city and their state think about "Patronizing home industry." There are furniture factories in Washington and Oregon and furniture stores galore in Portland.—Vernonia Eagle.

Tillamookers not only eat their own cheese when at home, but never fail to call for it when eating away from home. This is real support of home enterprise, and a lesson for other towns.—Telephone Register.

L. G. Freeman made a trip to Tillamook last week and on his return home had an auto accident. His machine skidded on the hill this side of Sheridan and left the highway before he could right his wheel, crashed into a telephone pole, cut it off at the ground, turned a summersault and rendered the driver unconscious. The top and fenders of the car were demolished but no wheels were broken. Mr. Freeman came out of his trance in about five minutes and inside of an hour had a McMinnville tow bringing him toward Hillsboro.—Forest Grove News-Times.

There is not a man in Vernonia who will not gain materially as the town grows, gains and prospers. It is easy for neighbors to forget or neglect to reason as to who will be the one to put flowers on your coffin when you are resting in your last wooden box. Shears & Sawbuck will not sing at your funeral; they will not pay your school tax; they will not call on you; will give you no credit; will not help your church or boost your neighborhood. Outside auto dealers that do not advertise, but who come in Vernonia without paying any taxes, will not sell you a car any cheaper than your home garage will. Outside groceries are no better or cheaper; neither is outside bread, stockings or clothes. Why wouldn't it be better to be loyal to our home merchant and keep this money at home. You have no letters to write, no stamps or money orders to buy, no exchanges to make, no delays, no disappointments and you SEE what you buy when you help the community by patronizing your home dealers. It pays in a good many ways.—Vernonia Eagle.

A newspaper may boom a town through its editorial and news columns, but a critical investor takes his from the advertising columns for substantial evidence as to the thrift and prosperity of the place. To him the advertising is the barometer that measures the prosperity of a town. The ads reflect a prosperous condition and tell him that the place is up with the times in business.—Coos Valley Sentinel.

Ray G. Steele, federal game warden for Oregon and Washington, is now in Port Orford his purpose being to procure the stomachs of several sea lions for analysis to determine in this fashion whether it is true that the sealions devour salmon. Should it be proved that they do not prey on the salmon, Mr. Steele says the lions will not be hunted as heretofore. The work of procuring the sealions is being done from the gas schooner Hunter of Rogue river, owned by William Hunter, for two years employed as a government sealion hunter who is assisting Mr. Steele. The two men are hunting on Blanco and Orford reefs coming into this harbor at night.—Port Orford Tribune.

A beautiful home wedding was held on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Goodrich when their daughter, Cecil, was married to Harry Nissen of Tillamook. After the ceremony cake and ice cream and punch was served. The bride was gowned in white silk chiffon and Spanish lace. She was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The best man was the bride's brother Marion, and the bridesmaid Miss Oliphant. The flower girl was little Verda Namitz of Newberg. They left for Tillamook at 6 o'clock amid an old-fashioned shower of rice and old shoes.—News-Reporter.

TILLAMOOK SPRUCE CO. IS ENLARGING

The Tillamook Spruce company, formerly the Tillamook Lumber company now owned by a wealthy Portland company, is adding new machinery which will greatly enlarge the capacity of their mill and the new machinery will be operated by electricity furnished by the local company by a wire from the main transformer near Juno, a distance of about a half a mile. It is understood that large improvements are contemplated by the new management.

LILLIAN TINGLE, SAYS

In Answer to an enquiry regarding diet:

"Then probably you could use more milk to advantage. You mention only two quarts daily for two children and two adults, one of whom is trying to gain weight. The children would do well to have a quart or nearly a quart each, and you should have a pint at least for yourself and from a pint to a quart (according to his special needs and his assimilation) for your husband. Then with the increase of milk you can easily cut down your meat and egg bill. "A good rule to remember is that for every extra half pint of milk used in the daily diet the other protein foods, such as meat, eggs, fish, cheese, may be reduced by two ounces without any dietetic loss. Milk is usually the least expensive and the most easily served and assimilated of all the protein foods."

"This is a powerful car you have"

Most men like to hear that sort of talk. Most cars earn such talk if they are given a chance. One thing, above all others, brings out power: pure oil, distilled oil.

SUNOCO THE DISTILLED OIL

was selected by us from all other oils because of its supreme purity. Just as distilled water is best for your battery, distilled oil is best for your motor. The oil and the motor both last longer.

We know Sunoco will prove best for your car. It comes in six types—a type correct for every motor. Know the joy of a "sweet" motor. Use Sunoco, the real lubricant. You'll take a new pride in driving.

Ask your dealer or write us for booklet, "What's Happening Inside Your Motor?"

One good test—

—of the purity and stability of a motor oil is the amount of carbon it forms.

Zerolene forms, on an average, 30% less carbon than other oils. The carbon is soft and fluffy and most of it blows out with the exhaust. For this reason the Zerolene-lubricated automobile may be driven from 25% to 50% farther without having the valves ground or the cylinders rebored.

Zerolene forms less carbon than any other motor oil known to us.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less. Ask for it by name—Zerolene.
