

British Homes Happy, Say Divorce Figures

London.—Domestic felicity is steadily gaining strength in England and Wales, if recently published statistics regarding divorce may be taken as a criterion. During 1921 the number of divorces in these countries declined by 33 per cent. In the previous year matrimonial suits showed an increase of 355 per cent over the pre-war totals.

In recent years additional legal facilities have been accorded to poor persons seeking divorce in England, and this has brought a large increase in the number of cases. During the last nine years 24,206 matrimonial suits were filed. Of the 3,464 suits entered in 1921, 1,702 petitions were filed by husbands and 1,762 by wives. In 95 per cent of the cases the petitioners were successful.

Of the parties concerned in the total number of suits for the year under survey 3,282 were bachelors and 3,381 were spinsters at the date of the marriage, but by far the greater proportion were married at ages between 21 and 30. The proportion of childless marriages was high, reaching a total of nearly 2,000.

Professional men head the list in the number of divorces, with 1,148 cases, while the clergy is at the bottom of the table, with only six. Army officers, soldiers and sailors figured in 341 cases, actors in 165, physicians in 79, schoolmasters in 18 and journalists in 15.

Games on Sundays

Somebody slipped over the line of demarcation the other Sunday and played dominoes. News of the crime reached the ears of Mayor B. H. Garrett, and he forthwith caused the following notice to be published in the Dunbar Advance:

"Must close Sunday!
"Notice is hereby given that the playing of dominoes in any public place in Dunbar on Sunday will not be permitted after this date. B. H. Garrett, mayor."

Gang Had Been There,
Police Dancers Found

The police of Rochester, N. Y., wound up their annual dance with the band playing "Hall, Hall, the Gang's All Here."

When the merry-makers retired to the cloak rooms, they found the gang had gone, and with it the choicest furs, overcoats, and other wraps that the members could lay their hands on.

The loot is expected to run in to four figures.
