

WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR

Blithely singing his tra-la-la as he journeyed in his high powered Ford toward the coast and elated with the idea of spending the summer months at the beach, one R. G. Harris of Hills dale, Oregon, and a musician, by the way, enroute to join the orchestra at Rockaway met Deputy Sheriff Leslie Lucas near the city limits last Thursday night and his song turned into a dirge, when he was invited to a legal seance with Judge Stanley. The deputy produced liquor in evidence which was found in the Harris car. The judge said $75 and costs and proceedings are on to legally confiscate the auto to the order of the state of Oregon.

Harris stated that he was going over to join the orchestra at Rockaway and that the mellow moonshine was designed to create the impression that he was a good fellow, but alas, the would be good cheer reposes in the vaults of the sheriff's office and failed of its purpose. It would have been vastly to Harris's interest had he ditched the booze and taken instead a box of good five-centers to ingratiate himself into the hearts of the boys at the beach. As it now stands he is out nearly $100 bucks and probably now will have no more car than a rabbit has courage. He also should have known that Tillamook officials have a record reputation for grabbing bootleggers right and left. This is the second case of recent date where bibulous Portlanders have lost their automobiles by bringing booze into this county.

STAGE LINES CONSOLIDATE

The Tillamook-Portland stage company will hereafter be known as the Portland-Newberg-McMinnville and Tillamook Stage Line, and has been incorporated for $50,000 paid up stock. The new line will have five new buses. Three 18 passenger Whites and two 18 passenger Pierce-Arrows. The Portland-Newberg line and the Portland-Tillamook lines have consolidated. "E. Randall, a successful business man of Portland," states Ivan Donaldson, this week, "is the president, Ivan Donaldson vice president and J. Fletcher secretary and general manager." "There will be no more delays or aggravating stops to repair cars," states Mr. Donaldson, "but we will have a first class mechanic to see that the cars are always fit for the road. The new line will be in a position to furnish the very best service and will follow strict schedule time. There will be no change in the Portland-Tillamook schedule for the present. Ours will be one of the best organized lines running out of Portland and is one of the few incorporated lines in the state." Mr. Donaldson returned Wednesday night after a week spent on business in Portland.—Adv.

KANSAS DAIRYMAN PLEASSED

John Pugh of Seneca, Kansas, who has been looking over this county's dairy and cheese centers of late, was seen at the Todd hotel this week. Mr. Pugh is a prosperous Kansas farmer and stock man and is greatly pleased with the dairy outlook in this county. Said Mr. Pugh: "I think Tillamook has the most wonderful dairy I have ever seen. I have only skimmed over the surface but I will be back again and will look it over more carefully. I surely am pleased with what I have seen. You have all the things at hand that go to make up a first class dairy country and nature has provided them all."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Geo. Harness, Pastor Preaching both morning and evening. Special music at both services. Special invitation extended to tourists who may happen to be in the city. A cordial welcome to all.

A number of Tillamook business and professional men are just now complaining of sore hands and lame backs. Several of our citizens have lately responded to the S. O. S. signals for help sent up by the haymakers. Among the number was Dr. Sharp who spent last Sunday in the bay field of his brother in law and later got his own hay up. Doc wears red eyes and has a decided list to the starboard from a lame back but otherwise is proud of his exploit. Other business men who have been out in the hay fields report lame backs, show bloodshot eyes and have swollen hands from using the pitchfork too gamely, but the farmers are grinning over the hay the boys helped to get in.

Frank O. Northrup, receiver of the United States land office at Portland and wife, were in the city Tuesday last on their way by auto to the Rockaway beaches for a week. Mr. Northrup states that there are still a few persons in this county who are due
