carry the surplus water to the slough and make a big improvement in that neighborhood. The road has also been straightened, and a lot of stumps removed from the road bed.

The Maple Leaf loop, is another road that has been greatly improved. This road leaves the pavement at the Larson place, and passes to and upon the right hand side of the Wilson river, a distance of about two and a quarter miles. It has been gravelled to the Jenkins bridge and eastward to the east end of the loop. Crossing the Jenkins bridge, there is encountered the new market road leading up the north side of the Wilson river a distance of about three miles. Before summer it was a little better than a trail, but has been widened out and improved and is now being gravelled. The Jenkins bridge has also been improved with new approaches and is now being painted. Up the market road a big cut has been made, where the road returns nearer the river, and 7200 yards of dirt and gravel have been excavated and the new road will now give a maximum grade of only 8 per cent, when by the old road the grade was 25 per cent in places. The road has also been widened and shoulders removed, making it a good little thoroughfare. At the Titell place the county has gravel bunkers where the county gets large quantities of fine gravel which is delivered into the bunkers by a scow bucket, operated by a donkey engine. About a yard is scooped up from the old river bed at a time by a drag line.

Eastward near the Fairview school house, the Olson road, a mile and a quarter in length, has been ditched on both sides and graded.

Mr. Schelling states that the side roads of the county are in better condition generally, than the highways, at this time of the year, especially where they have been gravelled.

The Johnson bridge over the Trask has been repaired and new bulkheads on both sides of the river have been put in this year, besides new railings for the sides, and paintin.

The county has had a stretch of road between Long Prairie and the Trask river brushed out by men taken from the county jail, who have for the most part proved good workers.

The Squires loop south of town has also been widened out and improved, and is now one of the scenic suburban drives from this city. A new parking has been placed on the Squires bridge, together with new approaches. This bridge spans the Tillamook river. Between this bridge and the town, the road has been ditched and brushed and is now in good condition.

B. P. O. ELKS PICNIC AT OCEANSIDE

The Elks picnic at Oceanside last Sunday was a drawing card in beach attendance. As early as Saturday afternoon, people began arriving, and when cottage room was no longer available, tents were full, people camped as best they could under trees. It was estimated that from 800 to 1000 cars were parked in the vicinity and 4000 persons were present on Sunday. One Ford runabout had nine persons in it and clinging on. Games occupied the forenoon, and local Elks committee provided a lunch for the visiting members. Games on the beach, and the parade of the bathing girls were features of the afternoon entertainment. A number of the members of the lodge were fined for various offenses real and imagined, by Merrill Smith, who was beach magistrate. Some of the boys came home cleaned to the last nail. The bull sea lions behaved nicely during the bathers parade, and several of them clapped their fore flippers repeatedly, and from a distance roared their approval. They seemed bashful, however, in the presence of so much beauty. The crowd was perhaps the largest ever assembled on the Oceanside beach, and the visitors and all voted the picnic a success.

POLLOCK FAMILIES HOLD RE-UNION

T. P. Pollock and family returned this week after a ten days vacation spent on Mr. Pollock's stock ranch, seven miles west of Glendale, Oregon. On the 27th of August the Pollock clan held a reunion at the home ranch in honor of the 80th milestone reached by his mother, Mrs. M. E. Pollock, who is still hale and hearty at an advanced age. There were present on this occasion eight sons and daughters and another son and two daughters were unable on account of long distances to come. There were also 18 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren present. Mrs. Pollock crossed the Plains with her father's family in 1852, settling in the Mohawk valley, this state. At the age of sixteen she married Wm. N. Pollock, to whom 12 children were born, and all but one are now living. Her husband was a volunteer in the Rogue River Indian war, and saw some stirring times, under the leadership of Gen. Jo. Lane and other officers, and served until the Rogue River war was over. The reunion, states Mr. Pollock, was a very pleasing affair.

While on their trip, Mr. Pollock and family visited the Oregon caves in Josephine county, and other places of interest in the southern part of the state. County Judge Pollock of Josephine county, is an uncle of the Mr. Pollock, and was present at the reunion.

in this city where an outside show promoter published a so-called newspaper to advertise his show.

The matter of closing for legal holidays was much discussed, and it was agreed that all business houses, with out exception, should close their doors on Tillamook day at the county fair, which will be Thursday, from one o'clock in the afternoon on. The Kiwanis will have their weekly luncheon at one at the fair grounds on Tillamook day. Closing for holidays and other special occasions was given consideration. The former prevalent custom of part of the business houses closing while others did not was strongly condemned by the meeting as being contrary to American principles of business. The recent occurrence on Labor day when part of the stores failed to close, was pointed to. A news report in a local paper that the Kiwanis club had voted to back the Trask river road was declared a false, as the club was not considered to be in a position to back such a project as this.

SAD SEPTEMBER

September is here again—almost before we knew it.

September is the saddest month of all for savings accounts. Vacations have taken their toll, the summer outings their tithe and the old account looks rather droopy.

—but let's not mourn, but swing back into harness with a will and build it up again. It was worth it any way, wasn't it.

THE BODILY MACHINES IS SELF RECUPERATING

"One minute essays on health by Dr. H. L. Babb"

Uncle Ben Says:

"A bunch of blue heads are all right, Nevvy, provided you can get them all together in one place and make a pavement."

When the body is worn out from any cause, whether it be exhausting work or disease, it will be found to be self-recuperating. In exhaustion, due to work, sleep and rest are the only necessary recuperating forces.

When the body is exhausted by disease it becomes self-recuperating when the cause of the disease is removed. Life impulses travel the nerve lines and when the chiropractor by his adjustments frees the nerves for 100 per cent transmission of impulses, nature needs no other aid

Chiropractic spinal adjustments as given by this office have restored health in a number of cases in the past few weeks. The sufferers have been made well of diseases of the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and lower organs.
