

SURPRISES EXPECTED IN CATTLE AWARDS

Part of the returns from the stock judging yesterday are available though many of the awards could not be learned last night.

"Beauty IXL of the Forgettes Royal Knight No. 41597, won the first place for the Guernsey bull class, one year old or over. This animal is the property of Homer Mason and wrested the honors from "Jolly Fernmain," who has held the title here for several seasons. The latter animal is the property of Ira G. Lance.

A first prize went to "Tillamook Redwing" for the junior bull calf. "Redwing" belongs to Pius Christen. In the four year old cow class "Gail of Sequoia" took her place ahead of "Janis." This last animal has held the first place for several seasons. Both these animals belong to Cottonwood farm.

Class judging will continue this morning and it is thought that by this evening all the judging will be completed. Several surprises are predicted in the presenting of awards by those who have been following the judging closely.

The poultry was judged yesterday but the records for the awards was not available yesterday evening.

TO OPERATE MINES IN CASE OF STRIKE

President Coolege will make recommendations to congress to make enactments to operate the coal mines of this country in case of a strike or threatened strike. There is some doubt as to the power of congress to make such laws it is said. The action will be taken on account of recent disturbances in the middle west coal fields.

SAYS ORDER UNCONSTITUTIONAL

In the case of the State of Oregon versus Chas. and Emil Wooley and John Patterson jointly on trial for alleged violation of a notice posted by the authority of the Game commission forbidding fishing less than eight hundred feet below a dam across the Trask river below the state hatchery, last Tuesday, Judge Bagley ruled that the authority of the Game commission to enforce rulings of its own under chapter 66 of the state game laws of Oregon for 1921, was unconstitutional, and directed the jury to find for the defendants, who were acquitted. It is evident, that the game laws will have to be reconstructed so as to give power to the commission by statute, and provision made for such cases as above, where the object was to protect fish that were on their way to spawning places up the river.

JAP RELIEF QUOTA IS OVERSUBSCRIBED

According to eastern reports the amount of $5,000,000 which was set as a quota for the United States, has been oversubscribed by $100,000. The American Red Cross has had charge of the work. Continued help in this direction has been asked for however by the relief officials.

CALF "BUTTERCUP" LEADS CALF CLUB

"Buttercup of Rose Lane" belonging to Robert Williams, son of Jas. Williams, captured first place in the calf club yesterday and first place in the open class. This fine young animal is registered under No. 142,185.

SIX GO TO PENITENTIARY

Last Monday in circuit court, Judge Bagley passed sentence upon four burglars and two forgers. The burglars were Clifford Bouch, Fred Du Puis, Lee Osborne and Harry Berg, each of whom got three years in the penitentiary, except in the case of Osborne who will have eighteen months to serve. R. E. Thomas, indicted for forgery committed in this county last July drew 10 years on his ticket, as he was a parole violator, to boot, having been sent up from this county on a similar charge several years ago. He was later paroled and violated it, hence was given a longer term by Judge Bagley. Ray Grayson, indicted for forgery committed in this county, also drew three years in the state penal institution. Deputies will take the batch over to the pen this week.

Dr. Geo. Russell was taken in custody at Cloverdale by county authorities last Monday night, and will be charged with driving a car while in an intoxicated condition. Russell has been living in Washington for some time past, and recently came back to his old home in Cloverdale, where he practiced medicine for some time, when he was apprehended on the above charge.

Minnie Stillwell is acting as Circuit Court bailiff during the present term of court.

Astoria—L. W. W. strike scheduled for September was a complete failure.

LARGE SIZED CROWD ON FIRST FAIR DAY

Tuesday the opening day of the fair brought a good sized crowd of sight seers that, according to manager Pine, was fully equal to the number who entered the gates last year on the opening day. Up to 4 p. m. Tuesday, eight hundred tickets were taken up at the two entrances, and the night attendance was much larger. If the fair attendance increases, as it usually does following the opening day, the attendance of last year may be eclipsed.

Hugh Nisbet of Chimacum, Wash., and Wm. Schulmerick of Hillsboro, did the stock judging, which will be finished some time today. The work of the judges is well spoken of by stockmen.

The display of agricultural products by the Pleasant valley and Nestucca valley granges is attracting much attention, and the general display in the pavilion is also especially good.

Most of the entries were completed yesterday, and the stock exhibit is full in all departments.

The poultry division was judged the first day of the fair. The exhibit was full and interesting to those who are concerned in the various types of birds shown.

The Midway was a blaze of light, and the shows and "hot dog" restaurant and other concessions were busy. And the speller was there.

The free amusements which embrace Cortello's Flying circus and trained dogs, and the free picture shows, together with the music of McGhee's big orchestra, drew a large crowd last night, the number being estimated at 2,000. The trapeze tricks, and the dog performance were interesting, and the acrobatic and trapeze stunts thrilling. The picture show was especially good and held

MIAMI JERSEY CALF GETS THREE PRIZES

Ramey Peterson, son of Gus Peterson of the Miami dairy, will be able to take home three ribbons from the fair, for yesterday his Jersey yearling calf walked away with three awards for the calf club entries. This young animal was judged first in the Jersey yearling Champion junior yearling and grand champion over all breeds.

the crowd until the last picture was shown.

The Relief Corps, the Presbyterian and Christian Aid societies have restaurants on the grounds, where home cooking is a specialty.

An individual exhibit worthy of notice is that of H. Y. Blalock of Beaver, which includes almost anything that can be grown in this valley. The products are from Mr. Blalock's farm in Sunny Nook.

The various cheese factories in the association all have exhibits. It all looks good enough to eat.

In the pavilion is the fair exhibit of flowers that must be seen to be full, and shows what can be done in that line in this mild climate and excellent soil.

In the Nestucca exhibit is an old cap and ball Colt's revolver, a relic of the days of the Civil war. It is owned by F. Smith.

The Headlight booth is attractive with its checkered walls. Here is shown a copy of the Headlight of 35 years ago, and one of the present day, also a form of type made up and ready for the press. Much interest has been shown in this exhibit.

Batterson & Rinehart have a unique exhibit at the fair, consisting of a pen of Silver black foxes, and African, Canadian and Snow geese.

The exhibit from the gold creek fish hatchery by Supt. Tom Pollock, is attracting much attention. Here may be seen the work of the state

COUNTY MEN MEET WITH U.S. ENGINEERS

MEET CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE

Senator Edwards of this city and Russell Hawkins, president of the Whitney Lumber Co., of Garibaldi, had a conference with Senator McNary and the Congressional reforestation committee in Portland early this week, and the entire party called upon the representative of the U. S. board of engineers, who is in charge at Portland. It is believed by Senator Edwards that a good impression was made upon the Congressional committee in regard to future improvement of Tillamook bay water ways. It is further believed that a hearing will be given the committee recently selected by this county to be before the board of engineers at Washington, and that the hearing will take place some time in November next. In fact, matters looking to a re-hearing look better now than at any time since the matter was taken up by the civic and other bodies in this county some weeks ago.

7 WIVES ADMITTED BY OHIO BIGAMIST

Harry R. Roshen, of Ohio was arrested in Los Angeles recently and charged with bigamy. He admitted after questioning that he was married to seven different women at one time. Roshen was first under suspicion for complicity in the death of a Seattle woman by poisoning.

PICTURES OF ECLIPSE PROCURED IN MEXICO

Scientists who went to Mexico from Swarthmore college to get pictures of the eclipse Monday were successful it is reported. They expect to use the photographs to prove the Einstein theory. Scientists in California were unable to photograph the phenomena on account of cloudy weather.

TWILIGHT FOLLOWS ECLIPSE

The partial eclipse of the sun, last Monday, was noticeable in this city only for the twilight effect produced, as the sky was overcast, making a view of the sun impossible. A slight ocean mist fell during the time of the eclipse which added to the impaired visibility. The effect of the eclipse can best be described as a twilight that is followed by the semi-darkness that ensues after the setting of the sun. Many chickens went to roost in this city, during the eclipse, and a dairyman relates that his cow herd came up to the barn to be milked during the time of the partial shadow across the face of old Sol.

hatchery in miniature, with explanations by the Superintendent.

Tonight Cortello's Flying circus will give another popular exhibition, and it is unnecessary to say that the crowd will be there.

The picture show people will put on to night, the feature play "The Rapids," which is said to be a hummer. This picture will be supplemented with "Speed Bgs," a two reel comedy, which is sure to please all.
