

PERSONAL MENTION

Ralph Watson, of the Oregon Journal staff, and Dr. Hammond of Portland, and their families, were through Tillamook Friday, en route to the beaches for a time.

A special agent of the Hartford Fire Insurance Co., was in the city Friday, and adjusted that company's loss on the big barn that burned near Cloverdale last week. He was the guest of Rollie Watson, local agent, while here.

E. C. Barbur of Portland, spent Labor day in this city, and at the beaches. Mrs. Barbur and two children who have been staying at Ocean-side for the past two weeks, accompanied her husband home Monday. Mrs. Barbur is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Neff of this city.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS HOLD PICNIC THURS.

Thursday, August 30, the Tillamook County Holstein Club held a picnic and get-together meeting at Charles Fleck's ranch on the banks of the Nestucca. Despite the fact that the meeting was not well advertised it was well attended.

At noon Charles Kunze, president of the club, invited everyone to gather around the picnic table. There the crowd assembled to do justice to the good "eats" set forth by the ladies of the club.

The first speaker to be called upon to speak was ex-Senator McArthur. He spoke upon a bill passed by congress several years ago for the benefit of the dairyman. The government has set aside five million dollars to be distributed to the various loan associations that are situated throughout the United States. This money is in turn lent to the dairyman that has need for aid in carrying on his work of supplying the nation with dairy products. Mr. McArthur represents the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank at Spokane.

George Gue, noted Holstein Auctioneer of Washington, gave a very interesting talk on prevailing dairy conditions in the United States, and the great need for more dairy products. He stated that in the State of Washington dairy substitutes took the place of products that it would require thirty thousand cows to supply. He urged the cooperation of dairymen throughout the county regardless of what breed of cattle they were breeding to supply the need.

W. E. Meyer, the Northwestern Fieldman for the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, was present with a statue of the model Holstein cow. He told of the work carried on by leading Holstein judges and breeders to perfect plans for a model that was to picture the true type Holstein. After two years of work, which included the studying of pictures of great Holsteins, both past and present, and other things which go to make a great animal, the true type Holstein was completed. A famous sculptor of animals and a painter were employed to model and paint the statues and pictures that are used in the advertising of the greatest breed of dairy cattle in the United States.

Last, but not least, was the talk given by O. M. Plummer, Manager of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition. Mr. Kunze truly said that Mr. Plummer was to well known to need an introduction. He spoke of the Northwestern Holstein tour to Carnation as an event worthy of mention. He spoke in favor of Boy's and Girl's club work, and in contrasting boys and girls of today and the boys and girls of fifty years ago, he said that unlike the later the boy's calf of today did not become dad's cow. In speaking of the Tillamook Valley he stated that the spirit of dairying was born into its citizens and called attention to County Dairy Inspector Dolph Tinnerstett's two year old daughter who endeavored to milk Mr. Meyer's model Holstein cow during Mr. McArthur's talk.

Mr. Plummer's talk brought the meeting to an end. All the members turned homeward declaring that a good time was had by all.

PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL LIVE STOCK SHOW

The thirteenth annual Pacific International Live stock Exposition will be held at North Portland, November 3-10 this year. The new premium list is out, and those who contemplate exhibiting may secure copies by writing to O. M. Plummer, General Manager, 211 Northwestern Bank Bldg., Portland, Ore.

The premiums for livestock and the horse show total about $90,000, placing this exposition in the same class with the greatest livestock shows and expositions in America.

The beef cattle division takes in Shorthorns, Herefords, Aberdeen-Angus, Milking Short Horns, and Red Polled cattle. Large and representative exhibits of all these have been promised already for 1923.

The dairy cattle division includes Holsteins, Jerseys, Guernseys, Ayrshires and Brown Swiss, and it is expected that some of the world's record cows will be present again, and that the record-breaking numbers of last year will be surpassed.

The sheep department includes all the usual breeds—Rambouillets, South downs, Shropshires, Hampshires, Oxford Downs, Dorsets, Cheviots, Corriedales, Romneys, Cotswolds, Lincolns and Leicesters, with a breed new to the exposition—Suffolks. The usual liberal premiums are offered for Angora and three breeds of milk goats.

The Percheron, Belgian, Shire and Clydesdale draft horses and jacks are well supplied with premium money.

The fat stock classes are strong again this year.

The boy's and girl's clubs are offered over $4000 in premiums and for contests and judging. The pig feeding contests alone carries $1000, and large exhibits for this event will come from all parts of the Northwest.

As usual the judges for all livestock will be men of the highest ability and authority obtainable, and will come from all parts of the United States and Canada.

The judging contests will attract much attention, not only for the boys' and girls' club teams, but also for high school and agricultural college teams.

Each year the attractions at our great exposition increase. Outside the livestock itself, the horse show delights everybody. The Pacific International horse show this year offers thirteen $1000 stakes in addition to $10,000 offered in the regular classes. This is sufficient to draw thither the finest show horses of America.

Those who are concerned in the improvement of butter, cheese and other products of milk and cream will watch the work of the Western Dairy Products Show with deep interest. It is stated that it will be larger than ever in the past.

The Western Winter Poultry and Rabbit Show will be unusually interesting this fall. National conventions of poultry folks are expected in Portland coincident with the Pacific International, and this will bring not only poultrymen, but poultry from the East and Middle West.

The Industrial Exhibits division is going to be more complete and beautiful than ever and manufactures and merchants are vying with each other already in the preparation and decoration of their booths, filled with the treasures of the commerce and manufacturing of the world.

In this division the Land Products Show will be placed. It is growing greater each year, with its grand displays of fruits and vegetables from the various counties of the state, and its competitive exhibits of grains and grasses. It is worth the trip, all by itself.

It's rumored that a herd of Milking Shorthorns and Devon cattle will come from New Hampshire this year. It is possible that Scotch Highland cattle from Canada may be on exhibition also. But it is too early yet to report on all the features which will be an exhibit at the Pacific International. From time to time these will be given to the press.
