

MEMENTO OF WAR IS TREASURED STILL

Thos. Coates holds a card given him during the late great war in Europe, by E. R. Campbell of Portland, now a member of the state legislature, and a dealer in firemen's supplies and machinery. The card in question gave Mr. Coates entry to all the shipyards of the Pacific Coast from San Francisco to Puget Sound, and has not been revoked, and probably never will be. Mr. Campbell at that time was fire marshal for the United States Shipping Board of the Emergency Fleet corporation, and had millions of dollars of ship and dock property under his control, and for which he was responsible. During the war, Mr. Campbell, who had previously served many years as a fireman in Portland and other cities, visited Tillamook, where a ship was being constructed, and it was during his visits here that the card was given Mr. Coates. Outside of the military of the country, very few of these cards were given out, and the owner cherishes it as a memento of the greatest war ever fought in modern times.

FISH PRICE IN QUESTION

(Continued from page one) salmon under the recent cut by buyers than they got ten years ago, when they used row boats and took their fish to the canneries. Now they are paying three times what they paid for gear and all other fishermen's supplies ten years ago. Asked if the fishermen could make any money at present prices, a Tillamook fisherman said: "A majority of the fishermen would barely make a living at the reduced price offered by the buyers; a few might make a little money. The majority would be up against it. Everything we have to buy costs us three times as much as it did ten years ago." Asked if the strike would spread to other bays in the county, the fisherman interviewed stated that a committee had been designated to call on other fishermen in the county who would be asked to join in a strike for the old price that ruled at the beginning of the season. It was stated that the buyers seem to be acting in conjunction, as they all listed a reduction at practically the same time. Up on Nehalem bay, it is said that fishermen were forced to throw away a lot of fish, for the reason that they could not be sold to the buyer from Astoria. A carload of fish was shipped out to Portland. Fishermen point out that the heavy run of fish has not affected the retail price of salmon in Portland and other cities, so somebody, they aver, is making money on fish. They are free to declare that it is not the fish who kills them. Fishermen here say that the strike may spread all along the Oregon coast. From their present attitude of mind, it is believed that the strike will continue. In that event no fish will be shipped. Millions of fish, principally Chinook, are coming into the bay. Fishermen aver that the like of the present run has not been seen for many years in this bay. Other coast bays seem to be equally filled with phenomenal runs.

The Zeta Gethian Society gave its first social function on Friday evening at the home of Miss Rowena Hanson. The evening entertainment consisted of parlor games, various initiation stunts, music, and well-planned refreshments of sandwiches, cocoa and cake. The new members who were dubbed Zetas were Ruth Erskine, Catherine McIntire, Catherine Smith, Irma Austin, Kenneth Elliott, and Wesley Tippin. The members of the faculty present were Miss Helen Church, Mrs. Hanson, and Miss Aulis Anderson, the faculty advisor of the Zetas. The high school football team will play Seaside on Friday, the 19th.

COAST IS WHIPPED WITH 60-MILE GALE

A gale from the southwest, variously estimated at from 50 to 60 miles an hour by local people, raged here Monday night. While no particular damage was done here it is said that Astoria was pretty well shaken up. Coast dwellers state that the sea was on the rampage Tuesday morning, with high tides.

BAR MAKES A REPORT

(Continued from page one) port was made by the Tillamook bar, with the exceptions of Goyme and McGrath, as to the eligibility of day policeman, Cecil Lamb, to hold office in this city under patronage of the city. The bar held that Lamb was not eligible and referred to provisions of the charter. The bar also recommended that there was grave danger to the city in case Lamb should make an illegal arrest, as in that case the party arrested could come upon the city for heavy damages. The mayor said that he considered his appointment of Lamb was legal, notwithstanding the legal opinion of the bar. And here, the matter was dropped for the present. It is believed, however, that the council will take action at a future meeting regarding Lamb's incumbency. A motion was made by councilman Carl Haberlach, that the chairman elected by the council, H. S. Brimhall, shall hereafter sign all warrants drawn by the city recorder, and passed by the council. The motion was adopted. Heretofore, the mayor has signed such warrants, giving council precedents as his authority. This motion will hereafter give that authority to councilman Brimhall, chairman of the council. The city dump was reported to still be in bad condition. The uprisings are covered to a depth with foul smelling vegetable matter, which is

NO TILLAMOOK CHEESE TODAY.

(Tune—Yes, We Have No Bananas Today.) Words by Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Mitchell. There is a county in our state And the people we can please. We are surely up to date For we make just the best cheese, And when you ask for cheese You can bet we're not slow For Tillamook cheese is fine And it's branded on the rind, the clerk says— Chorus Oh, yes! We have no cheese today. We have Pimento, the kind with the scent And all kinds of cheese, but say!! We've no Tillamook cheese here, today. We've the old-fashioned Swiss And—say, look at this! We have Tillamook cheese, come today Oh, yes! Tillamook cheese in, today!

HUMPBACK SALMON QUESTION ARISES

The question before the house is, shall the Humbback salmon swim or sail our bay waters and rivers within the next two years after they are spawned in this county? T. W. Ross, member of the state fish commission, stands six feet and flat-footed for the Humpy. Tom wants to give the fish a try out in Oregon waters. The Tillamook Bay Fishermen's union after deliberating, are not sure that they want to adopt the Humpy, and so state in a letter which is given below, together with Ross's reply. It all reported to be a menace to health in that immediate vicinity. The sewer problem on First street came up again. On motion, all persons in that vicinity were required to connect up with the sewer, where open sewage has been the rule. A communication from Sam Kozar, secretary of state, urged the adoption of a uniform parking ordinance in all municipalities of the state. The communication was filed for future consideration. A communication from the water company requested that the services of city surveyor be allowed them in ascertaining grades for new municipal pipe line in this city. As the surveyor is paid by the day and not on a salary, the council was willing, provided the city water commission stands the expense of such survey. No further business appearing, council adjourned.

makes interesting reading, and the public should be impartial listeners to the debate, at least. Ross is the only member of the board who, heretofore, has seemed to care whether we had any fish over here or not, and it is believed by many of the sport fishermen here that he ought to have a chance to demonstrate his claims, at least. That would be only fair. The matter following is self-explanatory: "Tom Ross. Dear Sir: After your trip here to Tillamook county and attending the Fish and Game Club some of the boys called a meeting and we formed a Union so that we could try and better the conditions under which we are working. "Some of the boys seem to think that the Humbback which you spoke of planting in the rivers of Tillamook county would not be of any benefit to us. At our meeting it was voted that I write you stating that they would not like to see them planted here for the reason that they are a cheap fish and that they would not help us. "I would like to hear from you in regards to these fish and explain to us if they would help us instead of hurting us as some of the boys seem to think they would. Hoping to get an early reply from you on this subject, I remain, F. S. Bousie, Sect'y."

Mr. Ross replied to the foregoing letter as follows: "My Dear Bousie: I will be very frank with you in answering your letter. There has been under cover propaganda about Humbbacks being "cheap fish" circulated among the gullible fishermen along all the coast streams. Now, in the first place all the salmon that come into our Oregon streams belong to all the people of the State of Oregon and any citizen of the state has the right to catch them if he pays a license. They are not the sole property of the fishermen, nor the cannerymen, nor the fresh fish dealer. "If the establishment of a run of Humbback salmon will add to the prosperity of your county—and attract tourists there—if they will provide the farmer and city people in your county with a piece of fresh or salt salmon at a reasonable price I personally, don't give a darn whether the fishermen or cannerymen want them or not. "These fish are as good as our Silversides. They will come in earlier and at a time no other fish are running. They will be protected until we find out whether or not they are established. They come back mature in two years after being spawned instead of the four years it takes all our other salmon. Every fresh fish dealer and fish market in the City of Portland petitioned the Fish Commission for the Humbbacks and in their letter they stated that it was the ideal size fish for the fresh fish market. "On the other hand the Humpy may develop into quite a sport fish. Have'n't the sport fishermen something to say in the matter? Did your Union consult the sportsmen who greatly outnumber your membership, when it voted that they would not like to see them (Humpbacks) planted in Tillamook bay? Did your Union consult the Chamber of Commerce, the Civic Clubs, the local Rod and Gun Club and the farmers through their different granges who might like to eat a piece of salmon at a reasonable price. All of these people have paid taxes to support our State Hatchery system and they are entitled to a little consideration. "The planting of these fish will in no way reduce the number of other fish hatched on your bay this year or in the future. If you can get an added run of salmon there is something wrong if you don't want it. Anyway the salmon are a natural resource and belong to the people in your county. If the people of the county want them I personally don't give a darn whether you few fishermen want them or not. "In closing I will state that you fishermen never got very much from the persons behind the silly propaganda being circulated to fool you. Sincerely, Thomas W. Ross."

Don't Let a Low Price Keep You From Using The Best We do not have to pay long-haul transportation and high merchandising costs to make Zerolene available. All that you spend for Zerolene goes to buy high quality only. Zerolene forms less carbon than any other motor oil known to us. As a result, the Zerolene-lubricated car may be driven from 25% to 50% farther without having the valves ground or the cylinders rebored. Because Zerolene gives better lubrication continuously, it reduces wear to a minimum and permits the delivery of more engine power to the wheels on the ground, giving you more mileage from your gasoline. Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less. STANDARD OIL COMPANY (California) 30% less CARBON 5% more gasoline mileage ZEROLENE

LILLIAN TINGLE, SAYS In answer to an enquiry regarding diet: "Then probably you could use more milk to advantage. You mention only two quarts daily for two children and two adults, one of whom is trying to gain weight. The children would do well to have a quart or nearly a quart each, and you should have a pint at least for yourself and from a pint to a quart (according to his special needs and his assimilation) for your husband. Then with the increase of milk you can easily cut down your meat and egg bill. "A good rule to remember is that for every extra half pint of milk used in the daily diet the other protein foods, such as meat, eggs, fish, cheese, may be reduced by two ounces without any dietetic loss. Milk is usually the least expensive and the most easily served and assimilated of all the protein foods." ORDER YOUR MILK FOR YOUR TABLE FROM GOLDEN ROD DAIRY Both Phones Erwin Harrison, Prop.
