Harry E. Lytle, Son of E. E. Lytle who built the Tillamook railroad, the P. R. & N. line from Hillsboro to Tillamook, a decade or more ago, was killed at the Ince-Lytle logging camp, near Eastforks, Washington last Monday by accidentally stepping in between two cars, which coming together crushed him to death. He was 32 years of age, and was known as James L. Smith and Hazel Irene Stewart, both of Tillamook, were married on Thanksgiving day at 10 a. m., at the home of Leona Berry in this city by W. O. Woolever, pastor of the United Brethren church. The same pastor officiated at the marriage of John M. Pitman and Bertha Saffin in Tillamook.

A heavy rain and wind storm raged here Monday, the rain falling in torrents. Indications are that winter has set in for good, and that the fine weather that has ruled all summer and fall has deserted.

King will spend a part of the winter in this city with her son.

The hatchery at Gold Creek, has thus far close to three million salmon eggs. Eggs are being hatched in large quantities, and represent the several kinds of merchantable salmon. It is believed that the hatchery this year will turn out more salmon fry than for some years past, owing to the fine run of all kinds of salmon, the late fall and winter.

Mrs. Rose Wilkes, last Friday closed a deal with the Wheeler lumber company at Wheeler for group life insurance for the mill hands to the number of 120. The mill company expects to give life insurance to all its men while they are in its employ, which will protect the dependents of the workers. It is understood that the insurance taken out for the men by the mill is merely additional to the state insurance already in effect. Mrs. Wilkes visited Wheeler last Friday and returned home with the contract.

A number of small matters of business were transacted, after which the club adjourned with the singing of "America."

PROLIFIC TILLAMOOK BREED. A pure-bred Tillamook Irish cow, owned by Bert Hudson of the city, last week gave birth to fifteen calves, all alive at time of birth, though two of the runts were subsequently drowned by the owner's mother. The remainder, thirteen in number, are as lively as crickets.

The sire is of Pahlen Canadian stock, is one of the best bred German cows in the state. The owner of the cow was rather surprised when he noticed the litter, and careful search of the premises failed to discover more than the number above mentioned. In fact, he is quite sure that the escaped. It is believed here that mother is the champion producer her line in the state. With all champion cows, there must be something in the Tillamook climate and natural environment that produces champions.
