

SEEN ON THE STREETS

On December 13th in the afternoon at the Methodist parsonage in Tillamook, Norman L. Steward and Clara Mae Krumlauf both of Garibaldi, were united in marriage, Rev. Simpson Hamrick of the Methodist church officiating.

Dr. Thompson wishes to thank his many friends and patrons for the past years patronage and extend to all best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

At the last regular meeting of Fairview Grange, the following officers were elected: Master, Joe Williams; Overseer, Robt. Stillwell; Lect, Rose Crawford; Steward, Frank Bester; Ass't Steward, John Schild; Chaplain, Almada Lucas; Treasurer, Leona Rupp; Secretary, Bertie Timmerstet; Gate keeper, Ed Weston; Ceres, Marie Schild; Pomona, Lillian Williams; Flora, Eula Stillwell; L. A. S., Minnie Maxwell.

There was a very good attendance and as a furnace is to be installed soon so as to have a warm, comfortable room, a greater interest is expected and a greater crowd. Those who are in arrears for dues have been asked to pay at once to the secretary or they will be dropped at the next meeting in January.

Larson & Hechtner have disposed of their store of groceries to Conover & Conover, and will hereafter confine their business to dry goods. The change was effected this week.

Mrs. H. E. Ramage, wife of the additional prescription clerk at Lamm's drug store, arrived from Calgary, Alberta, on Wednesday of last week, with their son, and are now domiciled at the Plasker Court, where they have house keeping rooms.

Gordon A. Hare has on Christmas display a fine Hupmobile, for which he is the agent, on First street, near the Todd hotel. His brother Trevor, operates the paint shop in the rear.

Veterans of the 162nd Infantry, who participated in the World war, held a reunion in Portland last Saturday. Members of that outfit from this city attending were Arthur Wallace, Tom Coates, Jr., Harry Bomhoff and I. W. White.

L. V. Eberhart left last Wednesday afternoon for Lincoln county, Montana, where he will visit for a week with the old folks at home. His father is one of the first pioneers of that section. Louie took his snow-shoes and camera, and expects to have a pleasant recreation time in the mountain region of Montana, while away. He will return in about ten days.

L. V. Goin has opened a store in a part of the Netherland hotel building, and will handle ready made woolen goods. Miss Glad is clerking in the store.

George J. Burkard has just completed installation of a boiler, and an ideal water heater, and a 180 gallon hot water tank in the new Armory building, and if the roof is all laid by that time, will have the plant ready for operation by the middle of January next, so that the building can be heated.

Try Kimball's ice cream at the Eldee during the holidays.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. White visited with relatives of Mrs. White in Portland last Saturday, returning on Sunday.

Geo. W. Grayson and wife are here from their home in Bellina, Idaho, and are guests of their daughter, Mrs. Clark Hadley. Mr. Grayson operated the Tillamook stage line and transported the mail from North Yamhill to Tillamook, and return, for many years. They lived at the Trask house where Mrs. Grayson was noted for being one of the finest cooks in the country. Mr. Grayson delivered the last sack of mail during his contract in 1911. He has been busy meeting old time friends since his arrival.

Gustavus A. Henrickson and Anna Rutgers were married at the parsonage of the Christian church on December 15, 1923, by Rev. Geo. Harness. Both reside in Tillamook, where the bridegroom follows landscape gardening.

Tom Coates, Jr. has accepted a position with Graves & Matthews, of Portland, a prominent accounting firm of Portland, and after the first of the year will begin work, with residence in the above city. He is spending the holidays at home.

Capt. Geo. R. Stokes, a deputy state fire marshal was in the city Wednesday on business in his line, and made a side trip to Brighton and Wheeler during the day.

R. E. Ringo moved the first of the week from his old offices in the National building to new quarters in the Beals building on Second avenue.

Clyde Craven of this city, caught an eighteen pound steelhead in the Nestucca river last Sunday, with an ordinary trout rod, but he had some fun, racing up and down the bank. He finally tired the big fish out, and when it began to loaf along the top of the water, a companion shot it with a revolver. Mr. Craven states that the river seemed to be full of the Steelheads Sunday. They probably were headed for a Steelhead camp meeting up the river.

Miss Vera Clark and her sister, Miss Mildred Clark, who is teaching school in Rainier, met in Portland recently and spent the week end with their parents in Wheeler.

The Skipanon dike broke and Warrenton was flooded last week during the big storm. At Astoria water dashed over the sea wall and flooded the Everett Swift house and lot at Big rocks fell into the Columbia highway and did damage.

J. H. Woods and son Jesse of Blaine, were in town Saturday. Mr. Woods senior took up a homestead in the Blaine country over twenty years ago, and later bought the Seth Moon ranch on Moon creek, where he now lives. Mr. Woods runs a dairy, and lives not far from the Blaine store. He is an elder brother of S. C. Woods of this city. Elmer Troutman and Geo. Castick of the same neighborhood were in town the same day.
