K. P. GRAND MASTER INSTALLED OFFICERS

On the night of the 16th inst. John Aschim, Grand Master of the Oregon Odd Fellows, incidentally conferred an honor upon Tillamook lodge No. 94, I. O. O. F., seldom given a subordinate lodge of any order, by installing the newly elected officers of his own home lodge. The event was liberally attended, and was joint with the Rebekahs. An installing team, headed by Grand Master Aschim did the work.

The officers of the lodge installed were as follows: N. G. Hubert C. O'Dell; V. G., C. M. Hadley; R. S. N. G., G. P. Winslow; L. S. N. G., Robert Patterson; R. S. V. G., Marion Wallin; L. S. V. G., Ben Egge; Warden, Buel Woods; Cond., J. Powell; I. G., Geo. Ethel; O. G., Fred Gould; R. S. S., A. G. Larson; L. S. S., Hermon Smith; Chaplain, Munn; P. G., Floyd Culbertson; Rec. Sec., E. Jeffries; Fin. Sec., Emil Heusser; Treasurer, Chester Holden; Trustees: Broadhead, Crenshaw and Lamar.

Rebekah Lodge No. 52: N. G., Lena Dallas; V. G., Mrs. Dr. Hoy; R. S. N. G., Mrs. J. Aschim; L. S. N. G., Mrs. K. Watson; R. S. V. G., Grace Brown; L. S. V. G., Mrs. A. K. Keese; Warden, Mrs. Hubert O'Dell; Com., Mrs. Geo. Winslow; I. G., Mrs. Geo. Burkard; O. G., Mrs. John Mathers; Chaplain, Mrs. D. Moon; P. G., Mrs. Floyd Culbertson; Rec. Sec., Mrs. Keim; Fin. Sec., Myrtle Wallin; Treasurer, Mrs. J. Powell.

The installing team did excellent work. Hubert O'Dell, the N. G. elect gives promise of making a good officer. A noteworthy coincidence is that Floyd Culbertson was past N. G. of the subordinate lodge and his wife, Mrs. Culbertson, was retiring N. G. of the Rebekah lodge, both of whom rendered good service in their respective offices, and neither missed a night during the lodge year. W. J. O'Dell of McMinnville, was present to see his son H. O'Dell installed as Noble Grand.

An excellent supper was served, preceded by an interesting program. The event marked a very pleasant milestone in Tillamook Odd Fellowship.

CELEBRATES 81ST BIRTHDAY

On the 13th of the present month, Alfred Worrall, a brother of the late P. J. Worrall, whose home is in the Tillamook hotel, celebrated his eighty first birthday. Alfred Worrall has many friends in this city, where his unobtrusive yet genial nature has had much to do with the friendships thus engendered. Alfred is still quite a robust man, notwithstanding the years that stand recorded against him, and when the weather is good, and the signs are right, he often may be found along the Trask, with his fish rod, enjoying the sport of fishing. Of late, however, he has been confined to the hotel on account of an attack of grip, but is improving. Mr. Worrall was born in the Moscow state in 1843, and as he states: "Has lived to see many great changes in the world."

LEGION CONSIDERS PROGRAM

A meeting of the general staff of the local American Legion post was held Saturday night at the office of J. E. Shearer to lay out a program of work for the coming year in ex-service men's circles.

The Legion dues for the present year will be $3, which will include a subscription to the Pacific Legion, official publication for this state.

A plan to visit Lake Lytle post in the near future was considered, and an effort will be made to restore harmony between the two Legion posts of the county. A personal canvass of the county for members will be undertaken as soon as possible.

The meeting went on record as being in favor of an adjusted compensation for ex-service men, and of giving war veterans a preference in employment.

GOVERNMENT BUYS CHEESE

A telegraphic report from brokers in San Francisco last week informed Secretary Haberlach of the creamery association that the United States government had purchased 240 cases of Tillamook loaf cheese.

Tillamook cheese was preferred by the government buyers over Mellowest, Idaho and two eastern brands at a lower price. This cheese is to be sent soon to the contractors, who have to tin the product to conform to government specifications.

FRIENDS URGE BEALS TO RUN

The friends of Arthur G. Beals have thrown his hat in the ring for joint senator, his candidacy to be voted on at the coming primaries.

There is said to be a strong possibility that Mr. Beals will conclude to follow his hat, and enter the race. The county is joint on the senatorship with Washington, Yamhill and Lincoln, and it is believed that Mr. Beals will be an active candidate.

IDEAS ON ROAD DIFFER

to designate the Wilson river road as a road to be improved, and thus at present the matter stands. But, the above designation would in no wise interfere with a later selection of the Trask river route, provided Washington and Tillamook and Portland could agree upon it. The people of the Willamette valley are interested in securing a short route to the sea, and Tillamook is also interested in a short route that will come through Tillamook, and connect with the Roosevelt highway; and it is believed that out of all the agitation will soon come a short auto route from Portland to Tillamook beaches. Much will depend upon the crystallization of sentiment in the three counties through which such a route would pass upon a route that will be satisfactory to all.

Tillamook is not so much concerned as to the route, as it is in some short route to be selected for improvement. In the event of a decision of the three counties to improve a certain route, Tillamook naturally wants a route that will make a junction with the Roosevelt highway at a point where the Tillamook beaches will be easily accessible to the Eastern and other out-state tourists before they start south, via the Roosevelt highway to California.

OVER SLOPES TO SEA

strikes the Nehalem, another beautiful river, and along sinuous curves, follows it to where one gets a glimpse of the tossing surf and the white caps of the bay and ocean, still further along. Then begin the ranch houses and barns with herds of sleek, well-bred milch cows. Then one enters the realm of the greatest dairy country on the Pacific coast, where Tillamook cheese is suggested, and where the train slides along on the ocean levels, where one may view for miles the splendid expanse of the mighty Pacific—full of interest and wonder to the newcomer, and pleasing as well to the old timer, who really never tires of the scene of the restless, ever palpitating surf.

Thus on, through the verdant valley of Tillamook, past attractive beach resort towns, and beyond big lumber mills along the bay, until, all too soon, for some passengers, the brakeman calls out the best town of its size in the northwest—"Tillamook!"
